Red Cross Swim Week Will Open Next Thursday

Red Cross Swim week, when everybody, young and old, takes to the water, some to learn the elementary rules and others the advanced principles of swimming, will open next Thursday at Cove natatorium, under the direction of Miss Myrtle Hoyt and Miss Mildred Klopfenstein. Red Cross Swim week is an annual event when instruction in swimming and life saving is given for a nominal fee, is one of the important features held under the auspices of the Red Cross, and is responsible for the saving of many lives from drowning and other injuries received where resuscitation is necessary.

Swim week will continue for 10 evenings, exclusive of Saturday and Sunday, and the 10 swims will be furnished at a fee of $1.50, which also includes the cost of instruction, but students will have to furnish their own towels and bathing suits. Classes will be held beginning at 7 o'clock in the evening in beginning, junior and senior life saving and swimming. The former instruction will be in the new rules furnished to the local Red Cross group by E. R. Carlson, representative of the national organization.

SEEK SHORT HOURS WITH LIVING WAGE

unemployed back on the payroll by snowfall.

"The idea is simply," he continued, "for employers to hire more men to do the existing work by reducing the work-hours of each man's week and at the same time paying a living wage for the shorter week."

Whether a basic 30-hour week, as proposed by an earlier law considered by congress, will be used as a yardstick by the government in passing upon the codes submitted for its approval, he did not indicate, leaving this to be unfolded in the practical application of the law.

He called strongly for public cooperation.

date for the vice presidency after a strenuous campaign, was stricken with infantile paralysis. On June 28 he returns again for the first time—president of the United States.

HILL OF SALE CASE IS SETTLED OUT OF COURT

The case of Zurecher vs. Munhall for replevin of an automobile will open in the circuit court at 9 o'clock Monday morning. No session of the court was held today.

EMPLOYMENT AID OFFERED

The La Grande Credit bureau came to the fore this morning to announce that they have an employment bureau which they conduct free of charge along with their other activities. Harry Parker states that any boy wanting work on a farm or any farmer wanting a boy to work for him will receive hearty service and co-operation at the office of the bureau.

Salem Bank Will Become a Branch Of U.S. National

SALEM, June 17 (P) — The United States National bank of Salem will become a branch of the U.S. National of Portland as soon as the Glass-Steagall bank act is effective, President D. W. Eyre of the local bank announced.

The Bank of Mt. Angel will also become a branch of the Portland bank which already conducts city-wide banking.

Only one branch bank has been established to date under the state branch banking bill enacted by the last legislature, State Bank Superintendent A. A. Schramm said today. The Benton county bank of Corvallis now conducts a branch at Philomath.

Under the state law, branches may be established within the trade area of the main bank, subject to capital requirements. The banking superintendent determines what the trade area embraces.

State banks with $1,000,000 or more capital stock may establish branches anywhere in the state, the new law provides. All national banks are under federal regulations.

OFFICERS SLAIN IN KANSAS CITY BANDIT ATTACK

The officers had planned to drive to Leavenworth with the prisoner rather than wait for a train.

All the dead were shot in the head. One taxicab driver, near the head of the line of cabs moving up to receive passengers at the station entrance, said his first impression was that somebody had set off firecrackers.

"A woman came dodging around the car," he said. "I asked what was the matter and she said, 'I'm trying to get out of the way of those bullets.'"

"Then I saw the officers falling and some of them firing from machine guns as they fell. I also saw the car at the curb with its windows shattered by gunfire and the figure of Nash, his head lolled back over the back of the front seat of the car and very bloody."

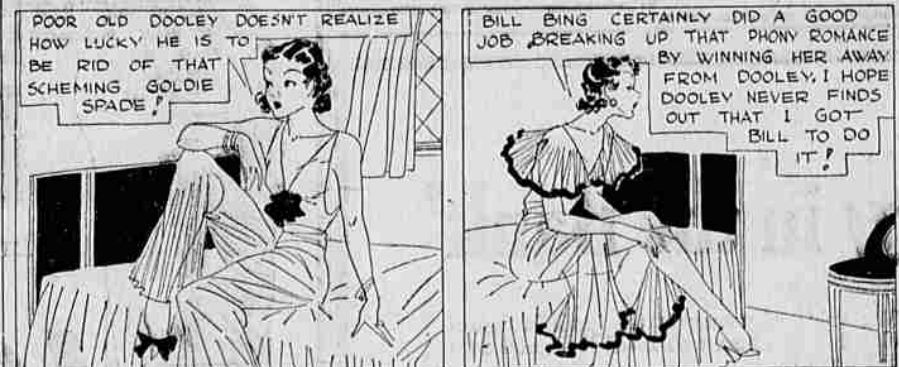

Vetterli, who received a slight wound as bullets tore through his clothing, said the firing sounded as though it came from four machine guns, but added that he could not be certain of the number of assailants.
