Americans Win In Wimbledon Matches

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 26 (AP)—Ellsworth Vines Jr., United States and Wimbledon tennis champion, today began defense of his title in the famous Wimbledon play with a 6-1, 6-2, 6-0 victory over G. R. D. Meredith, of England.

Cliff Sutter, third ranking United States star, continued the straight-set American advance as he polished off E. Itoh, Japanese Davis cup spare, 6-2, 8-6, 6-1 in another first round match.

David Jones, former Columbia university star and now the ranking player of Cambridge, was given a stiff contest by J. D. Patrick, Whitley, veteran English Davis cup player, but finally prevailed 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3 to join Vines in the second round.

The picture, which stars William Powell and Joan Blondell, is taken from the novel by Max Trel who was born and raised in New York City and knows from experience the East Side characters with which the story deals. But fiery wit and sparkling repartee has been added by the pens of James Seymour and Brian James, the latter a New York columnist noted for his pungent remarks.

Powell plays the part of an honest young lawyer who comes up against big city politicians. The picture is filled with thrilling scenes in criminal court trials, while its plot lays bare the machinations of New York politics. It is colorful in settings and contains gay romance.
