SOME STOCKS IN LATE GAIN TODAY

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP) — Financial markets felt a little better today despite currency stabilization uncertainties which tended to slow down the recent fast trading pace. Rallies in the rails, mining and specialties equities gave stocks a firm appearance at the close, with gains in a number of issues ranging from 1 to 2 or more points. Turnover dwindled to approximately 3,500,000 shares.

It has wheels containing rubber disks, although a steel surface contacts the rails. The new car showed fast pick-up at traffic lights and rode considerably easier than the old style trolley. It is expected to be in regular operation in several large cities this fall.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould After examining the amazing returns from the national collegiate track and field championships at Chicago, where a negro schoolboy from Cleveland, Jesse Owens, equaled Ralph Metcalfe's and world record time of 9.4 seconds for 100 yards, you couldn't blame an enthusiast for writing us as follows:

"At that rate, how soon will it be before some young fellow, under perfect conditions and perhaps a 'rolling start' sprints 100 yards in 9 seconds flat? Doesn't it seem entirely possible to you, considering the way world records in almost every event have been knocked off?"

Who would have figured Ted Meredith's quarter-mile record would be smashed to bits in one year, not by just one but two runners, Eastman and Carr? Who would have figured three runners within a year would surpass Paavo Nurmi's famous 4:10 2-5 mile record? I refer to Ladoumègue, Venke and Cunningham.

"Whoever considered it possible for the 120 yard hurdles to be negated in 14 seconds flat? It hasn't been done yet, but two young men have been clocked within only one-tenth second short of that time and they will no doubt be down there before long. What's the limit, if there is any?"

I do not question the sincerity or experience of most of our timers. I know a number of men who have held stop-watches for two-score years, like Mortimer Bishop and the old master, Col. Charles J. Dieges, without fear, favor or a tremble, but I also happen to know that the consistency of hand-timing, generally, as compared with electrical or automatic timing, is subject to considerable question.

This seems to us to be elementary. Proponents of hand-timing may say you can't go wrong by taking the average of five watches in one experienced hands say. Maybe, but laboratory experiments, as well as the Kirby "camera clock," tested and proved, have shown some rather startling comparisons with stop-watch timing. In general, the hand-timing has been faster, although it may fluctuate either way.

The fact that such fluctuation actually exists is enough to subject many stop-watch recordings to question. It seems to us that the substitution of electric timing for all our big championship meets, at least, is the only answer to developing real accuracy and confidence.

It may jolt some of the boys, but it may also prove the current generation of speedsters, like Metcalfe, Owens, Hornbush, Bonthron, Cunningham and Venke is really faster than the watches so far have given them credit for.

Not in This Life To our somewhat astigmatic vision, the "nine-second 100" is no nearer being achieved now than it was when Arthur Duffey first dashed the distance in 9.6 seconds.

It has taken over 30 years for printers like Simpson, Wykoff and Metcalfe to flesh out the tape in 9.4, with or without starting blocks. I doubt if any of the three really ran faster than Duffey.

It will take at least another 60 years, plus a springboard, wings and an airplane motor, for any human being to do 9 seconds flat.

EXPLOSION WRECKS CITY LONN, BEACH, Cal. — Nine persons were killed, six acres of oil fields are a heap of blackened debris, and nine city blocks of homes were destroyed after explosions in the midst of oil wells caused a $3,000,000 fire loss. The ruined houses suffered greater damage than that experienced in the earthquake of March 10.

CARNERA CLOUTS SHARKEY FOR THE COUNT IN SIXTH

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP) — Under circumstances that still seemed baffling and somewhat incredible today to at least a share of the fight fraternity, Primo Carnera, the 25-year-old, 260 pound Italian giant, who was just a "strong man" in a circus sideshow a few years ago, stood astride the boxing world like a modern Colossus as the new heavyweight champion.

Viking Bantie

With one mighty swoop of his ham-like right fist, Carnera took the title from Jack Sharkey, 261 pound American, on a knockout in the sixth round of a 15-round match last evening. The finish came with a suddenness that was as dramatic as it was startling to a crowd of 35,000 spectators, little more than half filling the Madison Square Garden bowl. An inside right uppercut, brought up swiftly as the giant came to grips along the ropes with his foe, felled Sharkey as though he had been a tree hit by the woodman's final blow. The champion fell to the canvas, face down.

There was no question about the power behind Carnera's final thrust, the climax of a spectacular closing flurry that saw the champion flounder suddenly, lose almost complete control of his defense and grapple under the ponderous punches of the biggest man who ever scaled the world heavyweight heights. Yet up to the finish, Sharkey was the master of his gargantuan rival. The champion started slowly and lost the first round, taking at least one hard right hand clout on the chin, but he seemed unhurt and for the next four rounds gave Carnera a boxing lesson.

HUSKIES' COACH PREDICTS CREW WILL WIN RACE

By Al Ulbrickson Univ. of Washington Crew Coach As Told To Frank Gorris (Associated Press Staff Writer) SEATTLE, June 29 (AP) — One way to make a snap of oneself is to publicly pick the winner of a crew race, let alone prophesy all the places in a big regatta, but I'm willing to take the chance.

In the sprint rowing classic at Long Beach, Cal., July 7 and 8, I look for Cornell and the University of California at Los Angeles to be eliminated in the trial heats the first day, with the finalists to finish in this order: 1—Washington; 2—Yale; 3—California; 4—Harvard.

I don't like to put ourselves in the top spot, but I don't see how I can get away from it. It's an unfortunate position—always a chance for over-confidence.

Fears Leader's Crew The Huskies will have to be at their best, however, to keep ahead of the Yale outfit. Eli Leader has a great band of oarsmen, but the Bulldogs will have to be faster than last year if they are to carry the title back to New Haven.

Washington came within 1-3 seconds of tying the Italian Olympic games record of 6 minutes, 28-3-5 seconds for the Long Beach course when the Huskies defeated California and U. C. L. A. two months ago, and we won't be any slower in this next race.

By the time we reach Long Beach, Yale may have a 50-50 chance. I understand the Eli covered two miles in 10 minutes, 25 seconds. This is 17 seconds better than Washington's best practice time, but Yale rowed on a river while we pulled over still water.

California will be much better and may spring a surprise. All of us will have to watch out for the Bears. With new men in his boat, Ky Ewight

"SO HAPPY THAT I TRIED ALL-BRAN"

Delicious Cereal Brought Relief From Constipation If you have headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness or any other of the frequent effects of constipation, read Mrs. Schneider's letter:

"Since I have been eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, I don't have to take anything else for constipation. How good it is, and how much better it is for constipation than pills or any other medicine.

"I would never go back to what I used to take, because Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is wholesome and healthful." —Mrs. John Schneider, 950 Tenth Street, Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

Constipation is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of pills and drugs—so often habit-forming. Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Youth To Battle Experience In N. W. Golf Finals

VICTORIA, B. C., June 30 (AP) — Youth and experience battle it out today when a pair of smooth working youngsters tackle two seasoned veterans to determine who shall be finalist in the annual northwest amateur golf tournament.

Alan Taylor, son of Phil Taylor, Victoria golf club pro, encountered Dr. O. P. Willing, Portland, former United States Walker cup star, in one of the 36-hole semi-final matches.

There are now 2158 airports and landing fields in the United States, 703 of which have night lighting equipment. Thirty-one of the fields are private.

Both Harvard and Cornell are hard to dope. They use the long reach and long layback system because of their three and four-mile races and will have to change their style for the 2,000-meter regatta. Cursey Harris, Washington's former coxswain who has been visiting in the east, tells me that Cornell has good material but so far has failed to click.

Prefers Three Miles U. C. L. A. undoubtedly will be better than in April, but the newcomers to the rowing sport have a long way to go before they can be contenders.

I am glad to see this race and hope it is held every year, but I like the longer distance for determining the national title. I have always felt that three miles was the fairest but as long as the Olympic championship is decided over 2,000 meters I guess this regatta is right enough.

So much depends on the start in the sprint events. One little slip might put the best crew out. At three miles a good exit can make up for a mistake.
