CAR DRIVER EXONERATED AT INQUEST

(Continued from Page One) Mrs. Schwelke brought her to La Grande to the hospital where he died two hours and 20 minutes after the accident. Mr. Schwelke later examined the scene and testified that he believed the car turned over and tore off three fence posts when it struck the fence.

Dr. Haun described Knapp's condition as a fractured skull and bleeding at the left ear. He, according to Dr. Gilstap, never was conscious after he was taken to the hospital with a fractured skull and jaw. Members of the jury were DeLille Greene, Jake Rostock, Henry J. Ritzler, Harry Brenholtz, Clark Fitzgerald and Edward Moon. The inquest took place at Walker's funeral home.

Fire Loss Here Much Less Than Last Year

(Continued from Page One) for the first half of last year. Much less property and insurance were at risk this year, also. The value of property at risk during the last six months was $248,065 and in 1932 during a similar period the figure was $456,983.41. Insurance at risk this year amounted to $230,210 and last year $372,941.17.

Winners Given In Red And White Essay Contest

In announcing the contest some weeks ago the Red & White stores stated no essay must exceed 50 words in length. Some contestants unfortunately paid no attention to this stipulation as several very good contributions, the judges stated, had to be thrown out because of their length.

Honorable mention was given to the following: Mrs. Garfield Simmons, La Grande; Mrs. Ella Smalley, Island

City; Mrs. Mable Zigler, North der; Mrs. Chas. Ault, Elgin; Mrs. Sayre, La Grande; Mrs. E. I. Shep La Grande; Mrs. W. B. Bach, Powder; Bernadine Hungerford, Island City, the last named an 11-old contributor.

Prizes for the four winners available to them at the office of the Interior Grocery company, Jefferson Ave., Lester Kingsley, agent. The first prize winning contribution of Mrs. Davis follows: "I trade with you because you excellent quality products, you need to be fresh, at cash prices credit basis. Your delivery service prompt and reliable. You are owned with community interest heart. Your atmosphere of friendliness and good will makes trade pleasure and creates a desire to turn."

Governor Meier In Favor of Sales Tax

in my opinion, is antiquated, burdensome and inequitable on real property." The governor explained that "levies on farm properties will be reduced both by the elimination of the state property tax and by the division of the funds with the counties."

Meier pointed out that "there is scarcely a piece of farm land in Oregon today which can be leased for a rental equivalent to the taxes against the land," and that the same is true with respect to the owners of homes in Oregon cities and towns.

"I wish to make it plain, with all the emphasis at my command," the governor said, "that not a single dollar of the revenue to be derived from the proposed sales tax is to be used for additional expenditures."

"On the contrary, every dollar so derived will be used to reduce state and local property taxes."

"Since the submission of the measure," he continued, "it has been subjected to so much misrepresentation that even farm organizations, the particular class that the measure was drafted to aid, have seen fit to oppose it."

"In this connection I wish to emphasize that farm products which are sold to dealers or to each other for resale are exempt from the tax, that the personal property tax is removed from livestock, from implements, from growing crops, and that levies on farm property will be reduced both by the elimination of the state tax and by the division of the funds with the counties."
