PORTLAND WITHIN HALF A GAME OF LEADING LEAGUE

By the Associated Press

Apparently thriving on extra work, the Portland Beavers were within half a game of the first place Sacramento Senators in the Coast league pennant tussle today after handling Seattle a 9-1 series bouncing.

The 1932 champions completed the route of the seventh place Indians with three weekend victories, winning 7-1 Saturday night and 11-9 and 4-3 in yesterday's doubleheader. The Indians outhit Portland 17-11 in the opener and bunched their blows, but three Beaver double plays kept down the visitors' run total. Traveler hitting by his mates gave Rudy Kallio the decision in the second game pitching duel with Dutch Ulrich.

Sacramento nosed out Oakland 3-2 Saturday and took the 7-inning nightcap yesterday 6-5 to capture the series, 5-0.

The Missions snapped out of their losing streak during the weekend to win 7-5 Saturday at Los Angeles and 9-3 in the 7-inning second game yesterday. The Angels took yesterday's opener 10-4.

Four aces of the Hollywood mound staff tried to hold Joe Demaggio, 18-year-old Seal rookie, hitless over the weekend and all failed. Today the surprising outfielder had run his consecutive game hitting streak to 49, three short of the Coast league record set in 1915 by Jack Ness of Oakland. The Stars won the Saturday opener, 12-4 and Hollywood took the nightcap 2-1. Tom Sheehan hurled a 12-9 victory yesterday and the short second game was won by San Francisco, 5-4. Hollywood walked off with the series, 6-3.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

THE swing the lasso man had made was very strong. My, how it swayed as he kept pushing it up high. The Tinies laughed in glee.

"Oh, higher, higher," Goldy cried. "I'm really wild about this ride. Push us above the tree tops so we'll see what we can see."

"Hey, nix!" yelled Duncy. "We'll be spotted. I must admit that I am thrilled, but we have traveled high enough. Why pull off foolish stunts?"

The others shouted, "Fraidy cat! All you would do is lose your hat." And then, when they insisted, Duncy said, "Well, do it once."

• • •

"ALL right," the lasso man cried out. "Get ready, now, to scream and shout like folks do on a shoot-the-chutes. 'Twill take your breath away."

He pushed the bunch like everything, and o'er the tree tops went the swing. Shrill voices promptly filled the air. Cried Scouty, "That's the way!"

"Oh, let me down! I've had enough," wailed Duncy. "This ride's getting rough." And so the lasso man just let the spacious swing die out.

As soon as it was hanging still, the bunch jumped out. "My, what a thrill," said Dotty. "That's the finest one I've had, without a doubt."

• • •

A SCREAM was then heard over head. They all looked up and Windy said, "What a funny birds! What are they? Oh, I wish they would come near."

"They're skinnyscouts! Don't worry, son. I'll shortly show you lots of fun. I'll toss a lasso in the air and shortly have them here."

The two birds both cried on again. Up went a coil of rope, and then wee Dotty cried, "You've caught them both. Oh, bring them down to earth."

"I will," replied the lasso man. "And just as quickly as I can." The two birds flapped their wings and screamed for all that they were worth.
