WHAT 65-CENT WHEAT MEANS

Wednesday the price of wheat in La Grande mounted to the 65-cent level, the highest paid here in three years.

The rise, very sharp, began after last December when a low mark of 23 cents a bushel was quoted locally. In May there was a sharp rise that brought the quotation up to 48 cents a bushel, and since then the trend has been upward nearly every day, and this last week gains have been extremely encouraging.

In fact, the gain has been so encouraging to Inland Empire grain growers, that Portland at present is enjoying the biggest trade in wheat from interior sources in many months—one sale alone running up to 100,000 bushels. The producers are taking a good profit for the first time in several lean years!

Sixty-five cent wheat means much to the Grande Ronde valley, and higher prices are quite possible. No estimate has been made of the 1933 crop, but if the yield were to be 1,000,000 bushels—and that is no unusual crop for Union county—65-cent wheat would mean a return of $650,000!

And if wheat were to reach the dollar mark locally, it might mean the return of a million-dollar wheat crop to the Grande Ronde valley! That would be farm relief of a type that cannot be beat!

AN ACT WITH TEETH IN IT

Perhaps no one thing accomplished by the recent session of congress, inspired of course by the administration, stands forth as more important to national welfare than the national industrial recovery act.

Already, much has been done under the provisions of the act and much more is in the making. The purpose is to promote the organization of industry for co-operative action and to induce united action of labor and management to eliminate unfair competition, promote industry, to increase consumption of industrial and agricultural products by increasing purchasing power to relieve unemployment and to improve the standards of labor.

To provide for fair competition and to prevent unreasonable price-cutting, codes must be approved by President Roosevelt, and when so approved, the provisions have the full force of the law. Any violation of an approved code is punishable by a fine of $500 for each offense and each day the violation continues is a separate offense.

Undoubtedly, 90 per cent of the industries and businesses of the nation would have voluntarily entered upon such a movement except for the recalcitrant 10 per cent. But that 10 per cent—or whatever percentage it might be—exists, and therefore there was need of a new law.

Unlike many other laws passed in the past, this particular bit of legislation amounts to something because, first, it has "teeth" in it; second, there is a man at the head of the government who stands ready to let those "teeth" do a little chewing if necessary.

It's a new experiment in government control of industry, but although barely under way, it already appears that it is destined for success.

AT THE LIBERTY

ROBERT MONTGOMERY and SALLY EILERS at "MADE ON BROADWAY"

One of the liveliest and most entertaining pictures of this season is "Made on Broadway," the farce-drama with Robert Montgomery and Sally Eilers, in leading roles, that opened today at the Liberty Theatre. The sensational story of life "behind the scenes" in metropolitan politics provides Montgomery with a role that has the dash and flip humor at which he excels. A tempo that rises along at breath-taking speed is packed with situations that are thrilling and at the same time blended with comedy.

Sally Eilers portrays a lady of questionable reputation who is the center of hectic high pressure leading to a smashing climax. The part has strong dramatic possibilities that are played for the utmost in screen value with Miss Eilers in outstanding her previous screen triumphs.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Feik have moved into a home on the J. A. Leak place. They formerly lived at the N. M. Feik farm.

The hay is reported as not being greatly damaged as yet by the moisture.

Miss Shirley Ruth Palmer of La Grande, is spending her vacation with friends here.

Alva Thornbury, of near Starkey, was a business visitor here Saturday.

Luther Hayes, who lives in the Pleasant Grove neighborhood, met with an accident Friday while hauling hay at the E. D. Whiting farm. His fingers were caught in the derrick pulley. They were badly mashed and one was broken.

Vance Johnson and Thora Bean, of La Grande, are spending the week with their aunt, Mrs. Nellie Nebeker.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Molinet, of La Grande, accompanied by Mrs. Molinet's aunt and sister from Salt Lake, visited in the neighborhood Sunday.

The hail which fell Sunday cut the leaves on the corn and vegetables but did not seem to injure the fruit crop very much.

WASHINGTON TO RECEIVE MORE CODES

Dumbar Manufacturers' association which several days ago submitted a code to Johnson, conferred with him today to seek an adjustment of terms in the agreement which he had pronounced unacceptable.

The code calls for working hours running as high as 48 a week with minimum wages as low as 22 1/2 cents an hour.

As a result of the increase in minimum wages and the reduction in working hours in the cotton industry, as provided by the cotton code effective Monday, many textile mills have found a second shift to employ.

Southern and northern bituminous coal producers, representing a large portion of the nation's total tonnage, are expected to hand in their code Tuesday.

Reach for a Lucky — for always Luckies Please!

Men smile at my simple reasoning

Whenever the subject of cigarettes comes up, I sit back quietly and let the men explain about the "Toasting" process. Then, if they ask my opinion, I'm pretty frank and tell them why "Luckies please"—me, at least. After all, there's an intimate relationship between a cigarette and my lips —and I'm very sensitive about my personal daintiness. Certainly I enjoy Luckies' delicious tobaccos and their mellow-mildness—but the comforting purity of "Toasting" is what I prize almost above everything else. And that is a woman's reason for saying "Luckies Please!"

because "It's toasted"
