Miss Mae Neill Complimented Friday at Luncheon At Mrs. H. E. Brady's Country Home

Miss Mae Neill, of Honolulu, Hawaii, who is spending the summer in La Grande with her mother, Mrs. Nellie Neill, was the inspiration for one of the most delightful events of the week yesterday when Mrs. Hugh E. Brady entertained at luncheon at her country home. Miss Neill has spent the summer in La Grande and plans to return to Hawaii in about two weeks.

SALES TAX SWAMPED BY OREGON VOTE

Laughlin (wet) 1365. Bonus amendment: yes 1785; no 1133. County manager plan: yes 977; no 1869. Grand jury change: yes 1157; no 1947. Two-thirds bond vote: yes 1230; no 1406. Power fund bonds: yes 1093; no 1070. State repeal of dry law: yes 1926; no 1305. Oleo tax: yes 1445; no 1930.

By The Associated Press. Except for the change in the soldiers' bonus law, which was sponsored by the soldiers' aid commission, all other proposed measures were defeated over the state. The proposed tax on oleomargarine, without which no election in Oregon in recent years has been complete, was swamped under an overwhelming negative vote. The vote on the secondary measures, including 1157 precincts out of 1787, gave:

Manager government: yes 46,219; no 80,332. Grand jury: yes 47,609; no 77,098. Debt limitation: yes 59,943; no 62,893. Power bonds: yes 51,061; no 75,068. Oleo tax: yes 42,737; no 103,160.

Wheat Limiting Plan Is Not Yet Submitted would be taken by farm administrators until after Monday's conference here with handlers of grain, including representatives of exchanges and brokerage houses. At that time administrators intend that the industry offer suggestions for stabilizing prices of wheat and other grains and that the initiative be taken by them. The idea of the new plan as outlined in Chicago is to restrict price changes either up or down to a certain range above or below $1.03 a bushel, the commodity parity aimed at by the agricultural adjustment act.

Buttons Popular In Hollywood

BY NEA Service. HOLLYWOOD.—It no longer is "button, button, who's got the button?" Everybody's got 'em! And big silver or gold metal ones adorn some of the smartest all white costumes these days. Genevieve Tobin, whose old-fashioned costume is nightly smart on Genevieve, wears a heavy white shimmering silk sports frock with silver buttons and a silver belt buckle as the only touches of adornment. It is particularly smart, because the buttons actually button something, those on the waist buttoning down the cape yoke and fastening the front of the waist, those on the skirt buttoning shut the skirt. She adds a few silver bracelets, for good luck!

Youthful Note Gives Appeal to House Dress

BY CLAUDETTE. If you wish to be youthful, this dainty little house dress should be the next addition to your wardrobe. It might well be called a "maid's delight," with its girlish puff sleeves and square neck and yoke. The model makes up beautifully in checked material, employing white gingham for ruffles outlining the yoke at the base of the sleeves, and on the pockets.

OREGON 20TH TO RATIFY REPEAL PLAN

of ballots cast yesterday, was giving repeal a two to one lead. In Tennessee, which voted Thursday, the repeal led had narrowed to less than 9000. Dry leaders, charging fraud, threatened to contest the result. The governor of Colorado has decided to call a special legislative session to provide for a vote on prohibition, the repeal of which is held in at least 36 states, the number required to amend the constitution, will have passed on the repeal proposal before the end of the year.

UNION COUNTY VOTE

The voters of Union county as a whole approved repeal of the 18th amendment to the federal constitution at the polls Friday, although a few precincts voted dry.

WILEY POST ON HIS WAY TO NEW YORK

22 minutes from Fairbanks, Alaska, a distance of 1450 miles. The flight was 171 hours, 57 minutes, compared with the elapsed time of 182 hours, 42 minutes when he and Gatty made their flight, putting him 10 hours and 45 minutes ahead of the time, with only the remaining 2200-mile flight to New York facing him. When he left Edmonton he was 20 hours 12 minutes ahead of the old record. The Oklahoma flier brought his plane, the Winnie Mae, down at Blatchford field in a driving rain. He was suffering from a severe headache but said he did not wish medical attention.

For several hours during the night, Post said, he flew at an altitude of 20,000 feet. The roar of the machine had deafened the flier and he looked tired. The flier planned to complete the journey to New York in a single hop. Informed that he might expect a tail wind all the way to New York, a distance of 2100 miles, the flier remarked, "I can stand it." He hoped to be back in New York by midnight, Eastern Standard time. "I'm not certain I can make it in one hop, but that is sure my intention," he said. He remarked that the robot pilot in the flight had "worked okay" on the Fairbanks-Edmonton hop. It had been repaired in Russia.

Mannish Mode Noted in Sports, Street Frocks

BY KITA FERRIS (Associated Press Fashion Editor). PARIS (AP)—A mannish mode marks certain feminine fashions these days, especially in sports and street frocks. The mannish slouch hat of soft felt, with its soft brim pulled over the eyes and its crown creased close to the head, gives a rakish air to many a coat and street suits themselves are often cut on the most tailored lines. Broad padded shoulders, straight cut jackets, and skirts as tightly tailored as a pair of trousers are the outstanding effects in the silhouette. Sometimes the coat matches the skirt, but as often it is of contrasting color.

One of the smartest mannish wool suits this season combines a dark brown broad-shouldered jacket with a greige skirt. Mannish coats, although fewer in number, are shown by the smartest designers, many of whom have cut their cloth along military lines. Blue wool coats designed with small turnover collars like those of a soldier's overcoat and finished with brown leather buttons and belts are shown as smart models for early fall wear, while tailored tweed coats are shown for sports. Wide flannel slacks in tones of cream or green are shown for beach wear.

NEARLY MILLION WORKERS SEE END OF 'HARD TIMES'

By James Cope (Associated Press Staff Writer). WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—For nearly a million working men and women the depression is as good as ended today, their wages suddenly lifted back to the purchasing level of better days by voluntary co-operation of industry with government. For hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions more, the day holds forth hope of similar good luck in the immediate future. Textile workers—not only cotton, but rayon, silk and allied products—all over the north and south, went back to their mills Monday morning on a 40-hour work-week schedule, 85 per cent of pay intended to give them the purchasing power of 1929. In steel mills, labor today is earning 15 per cent more than last week—in some cases even better—a boost back to the level of 1932. In countless other industries which have submitted or soon will present their so-called codes of fair competition, the compact by which the government allows them to regulate themselves in exchange for giving labor a lift, the promise of a real living wage to workers is near immediate realization. This is the fruit of intensive work by Hugh S. Johnson and a corps of aides told off by President Roosevelt to administer the industrial control plan of the national recovery law, maintaining of his program for restoring prosperity.
