

CHILDREN HAVE EXCITING TIME AT EAST NORMAL

Would you like to join a circus, go to the Century of Progress, travel over Europe and Asia, watch Johannes Gutenberg print his famous edition of the Bible, or take a trip through the famous buildings of ancient Athens? If you were attending the J. H. Ackerman training school, you would have the privilege of doing one of these exciting things.

"Since the Barnes circus was in La Grande not long ago, it is not at all difficult to understand why the children in the first A and B and second B have selected this circus as their main project," said Miss Edith Darby, critic teacher for this group. When asked about her work. The youngsters are busy learning circus songs, making animal costumes, forming a rhythm band, and learning all about animals, so that their circus, which they intend to give toward the end of the term, will be a thrilling, as well as convincing affair. As a part of nature study this group is also studying canaries, rabbits, bird houses and the Campus Creek.

The members of the second A class are busy just at present exploring La Grande as they have most urbanely decided that city life is the unit they intend to study. As a result, Miss Freda Koenig, critic teacher, is busy describing them through all sorts of buildings and plants.

"We went through the Sacajawea hotel," said Miss Kennedy when discussing her expeditions. "We rode up and down in the elevators, went through the kitchen, entertainment rooms, and even up on the roof, where I held on to them thus," she demonstrated with appropriate gestures. In the third A and B, sheifer in other lands and nature collections are being used as the units.

"We're going to Chicago," said Miss Mayme McCarter, critic teacher, when asked about her plans. All sorts of adventures await the fourth and fifth graders who are eagerly collecting all the material on the Century of Progress which they can find. The sixth A class, also under Miss McCarter's supervision, is making a history of records, beginning with the very first records made and carrying the work through modern times.

"Every one in the seventh and eighth grades is helping make a large pictorial map of the United States," announced Miss Eva Wear, critic teacher for these ambitious people. "We are studying the literature, history, geography, and civics of our country and planning all of our work about this unit. We hope to have an assembly at the end of the term. An interesting unit called 'The Ancient Museum,' which is quite self-explanatory, is occupying the time of the sixth B."

HOME OWNERS' LOAN SET-UP TO BE PUSHED

work. There was no indication as to who will be given the appointments for La Grande. Lipscomb said he hopes to set up headquarters in the federal building in Portland, and said supplies are being forwarded at once. As soon as Lipscomb reaches home he will line up his office staff. Not more than a dozen persons will be hired, he said.

"When this has been done," he continued, "we will let the people know we are ready for business. He said many applications already have been received in Washington from Oregon home owners.

Whether the La Grande branch will be established in the post office building here has not been announced, although this is regarded as a possibility.

WALTERS REPLACES PAGET PORTLAND, July 29 (AP)—Appointment of Horace E. Walters of Corvallis as assistant manager of the Oregon home owners' loan corporation occasioned considerable surprise here as it followed by two days what had been considered the permanent appointment of Merwin E. Paget of Portland to the same post.

Richard Dix's Marriage on Rocks

Richard Dix of the movies and his wife, the former Winifred Cox, have separated after two and a half years of marriage. Dix said his wife wasn't interested in movies, and that he wanted to be a doctor. In society, hence the split. They have one child, a girl, born early in the year. The couple is pictured here in happier days.

COUNTY CONTROL UNITS IN WHEAT REDUCTION PLAN

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—County wheat production control associations, the mainprong of the voluntary domestic allotment plan, will be set up speedily in wheat producing states in the next three weeks by farm administrators as the next step in their campaign to cut down wheat production.

Instructions to extension workers and special representatives in counties without agricultural agents is going forward, following Secretary Wallace's announcement of wheat allotments from 42 states and 2233 counties.

One other announcement is necessary before the campaign of administrators to obtain agreements from farmers to reduce their acreage for harvest next year will be in full swing.

Wallace, determined to go ahead with his plans without any further wait for an international wheat acreage reduction agreement, said that within 10 days he will announce what percentage of reduction farmers will be required to agree to take in order to qualify for cash payments.

His announcement came after the decision of the London wheat conference to recess until August 21, without having reached agreement.

No More Than 20% The maximum reduction which Wallace will require will be 20 per cent, with prospects that because of this year's light production of the grain that he may select a smaller figure.

Each county producing wheat has been given an allotment representing a share in the estimated human domestic consumption of the grain for the coming year.

In some countries the allotments are small and reduction campaigns may not be undertaken there specifically.

If farmers there and in other countries growing small quantities of wheat wish to join in the plan, however, they will be permitted to form control associations with a larger area than a single county.

The allotment principle works in this way: Wallace estimated that the nation's needs for wheat as food during the coming year aggregated 450,000,000 bushels, which is 54 per cent of the average annual production for the five years ending June 30, 1932.

Girl, 18, Threat For Trapshooting Crown This Year

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A new trapshooting star is looming on the horizon in West.

When shooters from all over the country gather at Sandusky, O., Aug. 21-26 for the annual Grand American championship, the feminine contingent will be faced by a new threat.

She is Mercedes "Tommy" Huff, 18-year-old Ohio State university co-ed, who finds her recreation from her studies and stenographic work on the firing line at the Columbus Gun club.

Miss Huff has been practicing faithfully all summer and has hopes of lifting the North American women's crown from the brow of Mrs. H. G. Grigsby, of Oklahoma City. It's no great trick for the Ohio State co-ed to break 50 straight targets any evening she goes to the traps.

Last year, with little or no preliminary preparations, she entered the Ohio championship at Sandusky, stood on the line with many a veteran shooter and shattered 91 out of 100 targets to walk away with the state women's title.

Beside being an excellent shotgun shot, Miss Huff is proficient with both the rifle and revolver.

Wallowa Lake's Level Dropping Half Foot Daily

ENTERPRISE—Since the hot weather set in the level of the water in Wallowa lake has been lowered half a foot daily, says the Record-Chief. At this rate there will be some storage left at the end of the season, and a light snowfall next winter would leave the irrigated valley in a predicament next summer.

The figures in the hands of Water-master Glenn Jacob show the maximum storage last year was 10.5 feet, and this year it was 17.8 feet. The gain this year was too slight to be considered, except that the highest point was reached later in June this year than last. Farmers used water carefully in June and this delayed the heavy drain on the storage.

For some days the ditches have carried all of the natural flow plus water enough to reduce the level six inches a day. The natural flow is practically the same as last year, so the excess is drawn wholly from the storage.

The peak of the irrigation season in the upper valley is believed to be past, and less water will be used for a few weeks. This could stop the drain on the storage and leave some surplus at the end of the season, an end the farmers have been trying to reach for several years.

HACK AND RAMAH STILL AT IT NEW YORK (AP)—Possibly the most genuine enmity in the big leagues is that between Rogers Hornsby, now of the Cards, and pudgy Hack Wilson, Brooklyn outfielder. It had its inception when both were with the Chicago Cubs, the Rajah as manager. During the last Cardinal-Dodgers series at Ebbets field, Hornsby posted himself daily in the bull pen in left field, and the verbal exchanges between the pair were at times more interesting than the game.

PORTLAND GAINS IN COAST RACE BY 2-0 VICTORY

By the Associated Press Gene Lillard's third basing and timely hitting are important reasons for the fourth place position of Los Angeles today, two games behind Sacramento in the battle for the Coast league championship.

The Angel infielder clubbed a ninth inning home run with one man on base last night to give Los Angeles a 5-3 win over the Senators and a 3-1 lead in the series.

San Gibson blanked Hollywood 2-0 with four hits to lift Portland back into undisturbed possession of second place and even the series with the Stars. The Beavers bunched two of their eight blows off Frank Sheltenback in the fourth for their first score and three more for their second run in the sixth.

Johnny Babich of the Missions and Herman Pilleite of Seattle engaged in a 12-inning pitching duel with the veteran Inks hurler raining the edge when Bradbury's single scored Art McLarney to even the series with a 5-4 victory.

After dropping three in a row, Oakland came back to nose out San Francisco, 5-4.

WELL, HERE'S NEW JACKRABBIT STORY

SAN FRANCISCO— "Tush!" said George C. W. Egan on hearing of the rabbit which escaped, a pursuing dog near Croswell, Neb., by jumping in the running board of a passing automobile. Egan declared two jackrabbits Neb., by jumping on the running board of his car in Northern California and without any apparent purpose than just to go for a ride. They rode several miles, anyway.

OVER THE VALLEY

Rev. Wallis Resigns— Friends in this valley have received word that Rev. Hall K. Wallis, pastor of the Methodist church at Enterprise since he left Island City a few years ago, has asked to be released from his pastorate at the close of the present conference year, which comes next month. Rev. Wallis has been very popular in the Wallowa county seat, but poor health makes continuation of relations impossible. He served the Island City church for a number of years and he and Mrs. Wallis were active in La Grande affairs as well as in their own community. Future plans have not been announced.

Return Home— Clifford Conrad has returned to his home near Imbler following a stay at the Grande Ronde hospital when he underwent an operation for the removal of his appendix.

Move To Salem— Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Austin and children, who have lived in the Ladd Canyon district for a number of years and have been prominent in affairs there as members of the family have in La Grande, left Friday for Salem where they will reside in the future. We understand Mr. Austin has traded his ranch in this valley for an auto camp in the Capitol city.

Are Released— The Leo Niederer family in the Dry Creek neighborhood has recently been released from quarantine. The boys have been having the scarlet fever and the quarantine was over the house for several weeks. The members of the family who were ill have all improved satisfactorily.

To The Lake— Mr. and Mrs. Sam C. Smith have gone to their cabin on the Methodist camp grounds to spend a time with their daughter and family from Phoenix, Ariz., who have been there all this month.

Does Well— Mrs. Claude Y. Beale, of near Lone Pine, is getting along splendidly at Hot Lake where she underwent a major operation a few weeks ago. If everything goes well she plans to be home within a week or two.

Home For Week— After having been at her home on the edge of Imbler for a week, during the summer. Mr. Cleaver is superintendent of grounds at the Wouderland.

Get Together Club— Members of the Get-together club, the women residing in the Ladd Canyon neighborhood, held another of their out-of-door meetings Thursday afternoon. This club arranged three meetings for the summer months to be held in the lovely grove across from the school, one third of the membership to be responsible for the serving each week. There was a large attendance at Thursday's meeting and Mrs. Henry Erwin had charge of the entertainment.

At Grandmother's— Mrs. Jeanette Tuttle, of the Willow Creek district, has as her guest for a few weeks, her grand-daughter, Miss Jean Kelton, who came to the valley last week from her home in Tacoma.

Lamb's Pie Up— One of the unusual but always possible accidents to the sheep business happened last week in the Lick creek

Wallowa Co. Pioneers Have Annual Meeting

The Wallowa Pioneer association held its annual picnic and meeting Wednesday, July 26 in a lovely grove out of Lostine. Long before noon people were gathering with well-filled lunch baskets, and enjoyed a picnic dinner in the cool shade along the Lostine river. It was estimated that there were near 400 people who listened to a well-prepared program which commenced at 2 o'clock.

Most Products Showed Price Increase, Report

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)— Prices have dropped some since, but in the month from June 15 to July 15 the farmer got 78 per cent as much for his products as he did on the average from 1909 to 1914.

The bureau of agricultural economics, in making this finding, said the month had shown substantial increases for grains, cotton, fruits, vegetables, dairy products and chickens and eggs. The only group reroading a drop was meat.

On June 15 the prices stood at 64 per cent.

the administration will step in to see that the spirit of the agreement is lived up to.

These and other points are covered in new official interpretations of the agreement, made necessary by increasing numbers of questions from industrialists desirous of signing but uncertain whether the agreement might not require impossible payroll outlays.

Today the stream of returning agreement blanks, signed by employers from coast to coast, continued steadily. Definite figures as to the numbers were meager because many postmasters had failed to count the return envelopes.

K. M. Simpson reported that an agreement was being reached on a code for the oil industry, which a committee appointed by General Johnson is rewriting to substitute for proposals presented by the industry.

Among the other troublesome questions in which Johnson will be asked to take a hand immediately is the split between Walter C. Teagle, head of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and a member of the administration's industrial board, and a resigning vice president of the company, James A. Moffett, offered a place on the federal committee and who intends to accept.

A friend of President Roosevelt, Moffett is expected in informed Washington sources to be selected as an administrator for the agreement which the government is to have prevail in the oil industry.

Monday, hearings will open on steel, first of the big industries to bring up sharply the question of unionization of labor.
