Mrs. Lee B. Bouvy Entertains Thursday Afternoon In Honor of Miss Anne Stange

One of the week's most interesting events was the luncheon at which Mrs. Lee B. Bouvy entertained yesterday at her home complimenting Miss Anne Stange, whose marriage to George William Decker, of Los Angeles, will be an event of Aug. 24 in La Grande. Luncheon was served at one o'clock with guests invited from among a group of intimate friends of the guest of honor and the hostess.

Plan Joint Meeting At Medical Springs

A group of the young folks of the Church of Christ of this city plan to go to Medical Springs this evening where they will meet a similar group from the Baker Church of Christ to spend the evening in devotional and social events. A number of these young people were students at the summer conference recently held at Wallows Lake, and the events of this conference will be reviewed at the Friday evening meeting. The party will leave the church at 6 p. m. Rev. Paul De F. Mortimore will accompany the group.

Party Honors Harry McCarthy

Harry McCarthy was surprised last night on the occasion of his birthday anniversary when a group of his friends were entertained at the McCarthy home. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock at a table attractively arranged with a centerpiece of French marigolds and yellow tapers. Cards were enjoyed after dinner. Covers were arranged at the table for Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Eckley, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Woodell, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Finlay.

Compliment Miss Peggy Hess

Mrs. Jack Hitt Jr. and Jessie Burbridge entertained last night at the home of the latter to compliment Miss Peggy Hess, of Union, whose marriage to Harry Griggs, of Payette, Idaho, will be solemnized in Payette on Sept. 2.

Hollywood Just A Long Holiday, Merivale Says

By Robbin Coons
HOLLYWOOD — Aspersions have been cast on the fair face of movie-land before, but Philip Merivale of the stage is due to rank high among the aspersion-casters of all time. He is stern and he glowers as he mentions the name of Hollywood. Come October, when he will be free of his contract, and he will be gone from these parts, he says, forever.

He has been here since February, and to date has not made a picture. "For two years," he storms—quietly and with dignity, of course—"I fought against coming into pictures, and last year I finally allowed myself, against my better judgment, to be lured to Hollywood. Endurance Contest "What have I done since? Nothing, I am waiting. Waiting. They hope, I suspect, that I will become tired and commit suicide. But I have disappointed them, and am still waiting. They tell me I am to play in 'As Husband Go.' I am not keen on doing it, but if I do I will be able to leave the sooner. Therefore I welcome it. The sooner I can escape from this terrible place the less unhappy I shall be. I have tried to settle my contract, but we have been unable to come to terms. So here I am. To save my sanity I have used the time writing a couple of plays. They are not much, but at least they kept me from going crazy."

Another "sanity-saver" is his starring role for George K. Arthur in "A Tale of Two Cities"—a play he has considered, he says, taking to New York in the winter. By now you will have gathered, as I did, that Mr. Merivale does not like Hollywood. He does not like picture, either, except for certain of Charles Chaplin's. He goes to films, he says, only when he is "caught in the rain and they offer shelter." Aside from a conviction that the screen suffers from "infantilism" and has no style whatever—"style being the essence of art"—Merivale has no personal grievance against it, except that it keeps him here. "And after seeing my test," he declares, "I don't know why!" Merivale, one of Broadway's best known actors, star recently of "Death Takes a Holiday" and "Cynara," is here on a two-picture contract with Fox. He was originally slated to star in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," but the idea was discarded, along with several others for him.

PELICAN FACING FATE OF EXTINCT AUK AND PIGEON

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The fate of that "queer old bird, the pelican, whose beak holds more than his belly can," is worrying Uncle Sam. There is real danger, the national park service has discovered, that the ungainly, pouch-beaked bird may follow the great auk and the passenger pigeon to extinction. A survey of the pelican population, just completed by the park service's wild life division shows that there are probably fewer than 50,000 of the white pelican species left in the United States and Canada. Once the birds were countless throughout North America. Generally unpopular, and with every man's hand against it, the unfortunate pelican is losing out in the struggle against the advance of civilization. The park service is trying to save it by protecting its breeding grounds not only from hunters but, equally as important, from mere visitors, who disturb the birds to such an extent they break and abandon their eggs. The pelican is one of the champion fish eaters of the United States, and for that reason has been ruthlessly slaughtered in the past. Fishermen believed the birds were seriously depleting the supply of fish.

A good-sized colony of pelicans may consume as much as 4000 tons of fish in a season, the park service points out, but these, they say, for the most part are fish that are valueless as human food and in some cases are fish that cause real damage to food fish. Horses Win Maiden Starts PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Two horses, both bred by Citizen, won their maiden races in Greatham park. Both were Oregon bred. Mary McFadden, owned by J. N. McFadden, chairman of the Oregon racing commission, and Laura Boker, owned by Harold W. Ray, one of the stewards of the club, were the victorious thoroughbreds. In addition they were ridden by the same jockey.

Livestock Men To Meet In Chicago

DENVER, Aug. 18 (AP)—F. E. Molin, secretary of the American National Livestock association, said today he expects Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to call a conference in Chicago soon after August 28 between a committee of livestock men and a group representing meat processors to work out a marketing agreement. Pretzel Bakers Bashed ST. LOUIS (AP)—Literally millions of pretzels are being turned out daily in St. Louis since the return of 3.2 beer in many states. Pretzel bakers here reported they would not be able to catch up with orders before fall.

Blow-Proof!

RIVERSIDE TIRES

have LATEX WELDED CORDS

(100% PURE LIQUID RUBBER)

which prevent Cord Separation . . the cause of blowouts

Do you know this? An average size tire goes round 395 times every minute at only 35 miles an hour! Think what happens when you drive at this speed—or faster! Friction develops scorching heat inside your tires! In many tires other than Riversides this heat separates cords! It weakens the tire, forms internal blisters! When you hit a rock or a bump . . . BANG! A blowout!

You need the added protection Riversides give you! Riversides' Cords—the heart of the tire—are made from extra strong, long staple, premium cotton. Every cord in every ply is dipped in LATEX—100% pure, liquid, virgin rubber. This welds the cords into a super strong unit! It gives Riversides the strongest tire carcass made! It prevents cord separation . . . the cause of blowouts!

Normal School Picnic Today

Students of the summer session at the Eastern Oregon Normal school will be entertained this evening at Pine Cone at a swimming party and picnic. Swimming will be enjoyed at 4 o'clock, after which lunch will be served.

Freight Rates Of Newspaper Held As Too High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Freight rates of newspaper paper from certain Oregon and Washington points to Idaho have been found unreasonable by the interstate commerce commission and a new scale was prescribed. The new rates, which the roads were ordered to establish on or before November 9 next, must not exceed the following: From Oregon City, West Linn and St. Helena, Oregon, and Camas, Tumwater, Millwood and Vancouver, Wash., 39.5 cents a hundred pounds, minimum 50,000 pounds, to Weiser and Payette, Idaho; 43 cents to Nampa and Boise; 47.5 cents to Glenn's Ferry; 55.5 cents to Buhl and 61 cents to Montpelier.

To a Husband—

who can't give his Wife
a Vacation this Summer...

YOU can't quite manage it this year? And she's being a good sport about it? You be a good sport, too! Invest a little money to keep her kitchen cool and comfortable—to lighten her cleaning tasks, to free her for hours of outdoor fun. Install an electric range. Completely insulated. No air currents to flow through the oven and carry heat into the room. The heat stays in the range. Cook and kitchen stay cool. The electric range is clean. No blackened pots or pans to scrub. Best of all, electric cookery is truly automatic. Your wife prepares dinner in the morning, pops it in the oven, sets the automatic control. Then she's free. For resting or reading, golf or tennis, bridge or shopping. Doesn't that sound like a sensible solution to this year's vacation problem? Won't you let us demonstrate the coolness, the cleanliness, and convenience of the electric range? Down payment is low. Actual figures prove operating costs in your own neighborhood less than you probably think.

Why We Save You Money

Of course Riversides are made in one of America's largest and best tire factories. BUT... they come direct to us—minus the manufacturer's selling and general overhead expense. That's a saving. The second saving comes from Wards low cost method of distribution. These two reasons explain why we sell high quality tires for less. It's simple to figure out for yourself why Riversides are better in quality, mileage, and safety than any other tire at the same price.

Cord Separation
This shows how cords inside tires other than Riversides are separated by heat. Cord separation causes internal blisters, weakens the tire. A blowout is the result! Riversides are Blowout Proof because of Latex dipping!

Latex Dipping
By an extra process, every cord in every ply in all Riverside tires is dipped in Latex. This welds the cords into a super strong unit that defies cord separation and blowouts!

*RIVERSIDE TIRES will not blow out under normal road conditions during the life of the tread if they are kept properly inflated in accordance with the specified air pressures.

Wards Unlimited Guarantee

For your protection every single Riverside tire is guaranteed by Wards to give service that is satisfactory to you. No time limit! No mileage limit! A tire has to be extra good—has to be extra safe to be backed by the strongest tire guarantee ever written!
