WORLD MARKETS AWAITING EFFECT OF SILVER PACT

LONDON (AP)—With a mixture of hope and skepticism world markets are awaiting the effects of the eight-power silver pact.

The Lancashire cotton industry, which comprises the best and most important of the growers of the American staple, is particularly hopeful that its trade with China may be revived.

Silver bullion brokers, however, say that it was too much to hope that any sudden bulge in silver prices would ensue.

Danger in Extreme Rise in fact, should silver prices push up rapidly and in advance of the general world price level, some authorities warn that it might prompt exports of metal from the private hoards of China and thus defeat the purpose of the pact.

In any case the measure has yet to be ratified by the government. Once ratified and April 1 to act, the countries will start withdrawing an annual 35,000,000 ounces from the market, which may well have a distinct effect upon the price level.

These purchases by the five producers—Mexico, United States, Canada, Australia and Peru—will offset the sales from the Indian treasury, since it agrees to restrict any sales that it may make to an annual average of 35,000,000 ounces during the next four years.

However, the pact does not compensate for another serious depletion of the world supply of silver, the slump in demand from China, normally the largest consumer. Chinese imports of silver, as estimated by Handy and Harman, New York bullion brokers, fell from 137,000,000 ounces in 1929 to only about 40,000,000 ounces in 1932. At the same time, Indian consumption of the metal dropped from 22,000,000 ounces in 1929 to 12,000,000 ounces in 1932.

Thus the slump in demand from the Far East was greater than the drop in world production, which amounted to 261,000,000 ounces in 1929 and 161,000,000 ounces in 1932. Eastern sales are unsetting.

Sales of metal from the Indian treasury during the last year resulted in an enormous accumulation of silver in an abandoned and widely regarded by experts as perhaps the most unsetting influence of all in driving this important monetary metal to the lowest price in history.

However, it is said that removal of the pressure from the Indian Treasury should be accompanied by a restoration of something like normal demand from the Far East to restore proper conditions in the silver market.

Such a demand, it is explained, should be restored by improvement in the general world level of prices, such as seems to be under way.

Urges Hunters To Be Careful Of Fires

high temperature prevail, the situation becomes more and more acute. The forest protection agencies in Wallawa county are taking every precaution to prevent the occurrence of fires.

The recent electric storms over Wallawa county have caused the protective agencies considerable trouble. Approximately 20 fires were reported by lookouts and others which were caused by lightning. Several of these fires reached over 30 acres in size before they were brought under control.

Due to quick action on the part of lookouts and other users of the forest a number of the fires were put out while still very small. "There is nothing that the forest fire-fighting agencies can do to prevent the occurrence of fires resulting from lightning storms. On the other hand, man-caused fires are avoidable. Campers, fishermen and hunters, who build campfires and who smoke, as a general rule, are very careful with fire in the woods. They build their campfires in safe places and put out every spark before leaving their camp. The smokers do their smoking in camp or stop at a safe spot, enjoy their puff of nicotine, then put away their cigarettes, cigars, or pipe before they proceed in their travel through the brush. They go further than that when they enter the forested areas: they possess the required campfire permit and are equipped with the necessary shovel, axe and bucket. They are thus prepared to put out the campfires properly and are in a position to put out fires left by some careless individual which they might run across.

With the opening of the grouse season in Wallawa, Union and Baker counties on August 20 according to the state game commission, it is anticipated that there will be a heavy influx of hunters into the dry timber and grass lands. The plea of the local forest fire-fighting agencies to the sportsmen who expect to take to the field for their limit of grouse is that each hunter consider himself as a special fire warden while in the woods, and in the pursuit of his sport go what so ever he can to prevent and suppress forest fires. By so doing the man-caused fires will be kept at a minimum, which will mean that no steps will have to be taken to close the Wallawa forest to all entry during the present period of high fire hazard because of the highly inflammable condition of the forest cover."

HORNBY SHINES IN ROLE OF SLUGGER IN PINCHES

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, new manager of the St. Louis Browns, has been coming through for the Cardinals this season despite injuries and inability to hold down a position in the field.

He's been seeking that old apple in the toughest role known to batting science—that of a "pinch hitter." Opposing hurlers always bear down on pinch hitters, but the Rajah boasts an average around .380 for his trips to the plate when runs and games hung in the balance.

INQUIRY OF BANKS ASKED BY COUZENS

"As hearings before the senate banking and currency committee the comptroller himself testified he had not enforced the law because he was waiting, hoping there would be a recovery," said Couzens.

Leading out at banking methods in Detroit, the senator finally asserted that "I know of no other city in the whole world where there was such an orgy of pyramiding of corporations and the fixing of fictitious values and earnings."

He charged the Union Guardian Trust Co., the impending closing of which has been given as the reason for the declaration of Michigan's banking holiday Feb. 14, had "jockeyed the children's fund of Michigan out of $200,000," and asked Prosecutor Harry S. Toy to investigate with a view to criminal proceedings.

The white haired senator thwarted every effort of his inquisitor to draw from him an admission that the government was in effect a partner in the Detroit financial policies because the consolidations which created the two big banks were permitted.
