LOADING SUPPLIES FOR BYRD'S TRIP INTO ANTARCTIC

BOSTON, Sept. 9 (AP) -- Loading of supplies for Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd's second Antarctic expedition has started at the Boston navy yard.

The few precious luxuries were as carefully checked and packed away as the bare necessities while Byrd's picked crew of 70 scientists and adventures arrived in small groups to superintend the stowing of their equipment.

September 25 was set as the sailing date of the expedition, making it necessary for the stevedores to work quickly as they slung equipment necessary for a two-year stay in Little America aboard the steamers Bear and Pacific Fir.

The Bear, an old revenue cutter and whaler, was scheduled to carry the expedition through the ice fields to a point as near the base camp as possible. The Pacific Fir, main supply ship of the expedition, was to anchor at the edge of the ice pack.

A huge twin-motored plane was put aboard for use in flying over the South Pole and south magnetic pole and an auto gyro was listed in the equipment for other uses. Tractors and snowmobiles lined the navy yard docks and 150 sled dogs awaited their turn to board ship.

Yakima Fighter Beats Alvarado, Of Los Angeles

SEATTLE, Sept. 20 (AP) — Seattle boxing promoters haven't yet brought them tough enough for Henry Woods, Yakima negro lightweight.

The young two-fisted battler who is just out of high school last night chalked up his 44th victory in 51 fights, scoring a technical knockout over Jimmie Alvarado, Los Angeles, after eight rounds in a scheduled ten-rounder. Woods has yet to lose a bout as he gained draws in the other seven matches.

— THIS CURIOUS WORLD —

MANY instances have been recorded in which a heroic rattlesnake, on finding itself facing death at the hands of man, gallantly sank its fangs into its own side, and thus saved itself from a less glorious end. But science has found that a rattler cannot poison itself, nor another of its kind.
