at the United States conference of mayors just as Mayor John D. Dore, of Seattle, had finished a declaration that the Pacific northwest was slipping deeper into depression because of delay in allocating the public relief money.

"I am glad to have this opportunity to extend my greetings to the United States conference of mayors, and through your organization to thank the mayors of the various cities of this country for the help and support they have given the national administration in carrying out its program for national recovery," said the message.

"The federal government is glad to have the co-operation of the conference. I wish you and the chief executives meeting with you all success in the discussions of the important issues confronting all public officials."

"I hope that during your deliberations you will consider carefully the relationship of your states and subdivisions to the recovery program of the federal government. Congress has appropriated three billions three hundred millions of dollars to finance a comprehensive program of public works, in part for federal projects. Approximately one billion six hundred millions already have been allocated."

"We are at the point now where the states and municipalities interested in public works projects should come forward quickly with proposals which will give immediate work to their unemployed."

"We want to co-operate to the fullest possible extent and I assure you that after your projects have been passed upon by the state advisory boards they will be acted upon in Washington with a minimum of delay."

"We will match speed with you. The money is available and we want to put men to work."

"I wish the mayors all success in their deliberations and I especially hope that these deliberations will result in a stimulation of interest all along the line on our public works program."

Many schools in Eastern Kansas have laid plans to burn wood this winter, buying stove wood cut up by the unemployed.

Nearly 1,200,000 farms in this country have been growing approximately 840,000,000 bushels of wheat a year, says the department of agriculture.

Production of creamery butter last year was the largest on record, totaling 1,694,132,000 pounds.

The average cost of a trip on an airplane in continental United States is 61.10 cents a mile, says the department of commerce.

Surveys of 78,000 acres for a national forest in Eastern Kentucky are being completed.

Paints President's Portrait for White House

Here is the official oil portrait of President Roosevelt that will be hung in the White House beside those of former chief executives of the nation. Mr. Roosevelt is shown as he poses for the artist, Ellen Emmet Rand, of Salisbury, Conn.

TODAY IN BRIEF, IN AND AROUND OREGON

AS CHRONICLED BY THE DAILY LEASED WIRE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

FORMER CASHIER SENTENCED

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 22 (AP)—Edmund J. Whelan, former cashier of the Peninsula National bank here, was today sentenced to five years in McNeil Island federal prison for embezzlement. The court was told Whelan had taken $15,000 in the past eleven years. He was indicted on only one charge, however, under the statute of limitations. This accused him of taking $3,000. The charges alleged 22 separate embezzlements. Federal Judge James Alger Fee pronounced sentence.

Exposure Fatal To Cleveland Aviator

JACKSON, Mich., Sept. 22 (AP)—Harold L. Neff, Cleveland air mail pilot whose plane crashed in a swamp near here early Saturday, died early today.

Neff, who lay beside his wrecked plane for 63 hours before being discovered, had been in a Jackson hospital since Monday night. He had suffered a severe reaction from his long exposure.

SCIO, Sept. 22 (AP)—The disposition of a "man eating" mule is attributed to a horse on the George Leever farm near here.

Leever went to the pasture to get his saddle horse. After the animal was caught another horse made a dive for it, missed, and bit a chunk out of Leever's upper lip.

CHANCELLOR KERR REPLIES

PORTLAND, Sept. 22 (AP)—Confident, he said, that it is "both accurate and adequate," Dr. W. J. Kerr, chancellor of higher educational institutions in Oregon, late yesterday transmitted to the state board of higher education a report from the executive officers of Oregon State college denying that there had been any irregularities in the conduct of the building department of that institution.

The report was a pointed rejoinder to charges made by Otto P. Kubin, head of the accounting division of the office of the secretary of state, who recently sharply criticized the work of E. P. Jackson, building superintendent at the college.

New Business In Lumber Increases

territory for the week ending Sept. 16 showed a 20 per cent gain over the previous week, but was still 6 per cent under the three-year weekly average for September, the Western Pine association said today.

PORTLAND, Sept. 22 (AP)—Lumbermen who are members of the committee on production for the west coast lumber division under the NRA code, met here today to establish quotas for October production.

E. O. N. GRAD ENTERS U. O.

Dwight Mahoney, a graduate last spring of the Eastern Oregon Normal school, has gone to Eugene where he has entered the University of Oregon as a junior.

SCHOOLS DEMAND SERIOUS THOUGHT

As some millions of school children all over the United States are getting themselves squared away for the coming year, their fathers and mothers might profitably spend a little time in meditation about the present plight of the entire school system.

Few public services have felt the depression more than the schools. Teachers have gone unpaid, school activities have been cut down, some schools have been forced to extend their holiday periods, others have had to close entirely, nearly all have had to drop certain courses and consolidate a number of activities.

Nor is that the worst. While all of this has been happening, there has been developing an influential and vocal group which has insisted that the schools have been getting more than their share of tax revenues even in good times. We are being told that our school system is far more elaborate and more expensive than it need be. It is being argued not only that the school budget must be drastically reduced during the depression, but that the reductions must be permanent.

Anyone who has ever paid taxes will admit that the schools have been costly. It is probably true that many school executives have become a bit self-important in their claims for tax support. Some towns have built school buildings on a too-elaborate scale. Some schools have tried to include too many things in their curricula.

Nevertheless, admitting that there has been extravagance and a lack of judgment in many school boards, one far more important fact remains unchanged. It is simply this: our whole society is built up around the public school system, and any drastic change in the school system must have far-reaching effects on the entire nation.

We are committed to a political democracy, and we are now trying to broaden it to make it an industrial democracy as well. To make a go of it we must have a body of citizens whose minds have been given all the training, all the enlightenment, which they can assimilate. The system simply cannot work otherwise.

Before we consent to permanent reductions in our public school services, we must do some very careful thinking.

FOOTBALL TO BE BROADCAST

The long awaited news that football will be on the air during the coming season was released yesterday by Harold R. Deal, advertising manager for Associated Oil company. Picture shows Hugh E. Rosson (left), chairman of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Athletic Association radio committee, and Deal concluding arrangements whereby Associated will pay the conference colleges $60,000 for exclusive broadcasting privileges of Pacific coast conference controlled games. An additional $15,000 will be paid to independent colleges, and approximately $50,000 invested in radio station time and network facilities during the season. All stations of both NBC and the Columbia Don Lee network on the coast will be utilized.

Re-employment Office Opened service men, with dependents, will be given preference if they present their honorable discharge certificate.

Mr. Metcalf emphasized that registration does not promise a job for the unemployed man. It is reported that about 25 Union county men will receive work on the Elgin project.

The new office will coordinate with the work of the Union county relief committee, but will apply only to the federal projects. The committee's work will proceed largely as in the past.

Bucking Horses Do Stuff at Round-Up was the only bulldogger on the lot to come within sight of a creditable mark today, and his steer forced him to go 31.1 seconds. He also won the day's money for roping, tying his animal in 20.3 seconds. In bulldogging, only the bare hands may be used and the steer must be thrown flat on the ground on his side.

There were some good riders in the world and northwest bucking contests yesterday and the competition became hotter today as the field narrowed down.

Significant of the tough horses yesterday was "Gone Wrong," formerly a tame cow pony belonging to J. Q. Gilmore, of Union. But he was converted into a bucking horse and piled Tommy Zahn, of Enterprise, unceremoniously in the first day of the world's bucking championship.

The old home of General John H. Morgan, confederate cavalry leader, has been restored and made into a museum at Lexington, Ky.

1 ALWAYS the finest tobaccos

2 ALWAYS the finest workmanship

3 ALWAYS LUCKIES PLEASE

Why do we say "Always Luckies Please"? Well, one reason is that every Lucky is made of choice, ripe tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop. Another reason—Luckies are always round, firm, fully packed—with no loose ends to sputter and spark.

Careful examination and inspection by over 60 precision instruments and 17 alert scientists guarantee unfailing uniformity. That's why Luckies draw so easily, burn so evenly—always mild and smooth. And that's why—"Always Luckies Please!"
