

Big Sport Attractions Here This Weekend

TWO GRID GAMES AND FIGHT CARD ARE SCHEDULED

This weekend will be an unusually interesting one for Eastern Oregon sport fans, whether boxing or football is their favorite. Three big events are scheduled for Friday and Saturday in La Grande, and a large number of out-of-town people are expected to attend.

First on the list is the Lewiston-Eastern Oregon Normal school football contest, to be held at the E. O. N. gridiron Friday afternoon. Coach Bob Quinn will send his Mountaineers against a rival of several years standing, that same rival seeking to avenge a 12 to 0 defeat at the East Oregonian's hands last year.

Second, on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the La Grande High school Tigers will meet Mac-Hi's football team of McLoughlin school at Milton-Freewater. The game will be played on the L. H. S. gridiron and will be the first important home game of the season for the blue and white. Both teams are rated on par by early season dope and a spectacular contest seems certain.

Third, on Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Sacajawea Inn, a 28-round boxing card will be staged by Leo McCarthy and Martin Fitzgerald, under the auspices of the American Legion. Johnny O'Hara, 138, of Los Angeles, will meet Don Mack, of Portland, also a 138-pounder, in the ten-round final. Jim Musler, 142, of La Grande, and Abe McCoy, 145, of Enterprise, are slated for the six-round semi-final, and William Young and Don Hough, 145-pounders of this city, meet in one of three scheduled four-round bouts. Other preliminaries are: Al Walker, 140, vs. Jean McClain, 138, and Floyd Sullivan, 125, vs. Young Corbett, 132.

Two big football games and one big boxing card in one weekend!

Columbus Nine Is Winner of Series

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 4 (AP)—The little world series championship was in the hands of the Columbus Red Birds of the American association today as the result of their five out of eight games victory over the Buffalo Bisons of the International league.

The Birds climaxed their drive to the title last night with a 10-2 victory in a game featured by the brilliant pitching of their tall right hander, Jim Winford.

Sport Slants

Life seems to be either up or down for Johnny Goodman. There is nothing halfway about the manner in which the Nebraska golf star goes about his competitive chores.

He first tasted the heights when he knocked off Bob Jones at Pebble Beach four years ago in the amateur, but he passed out of the tournament the same afternoon.

He wasn't heard of so much for the next two years, but after being left off the 1932 Walker Cup team he celebrated by whipping three of its members in the national amateur tour afterward.

Johnny scaled the open championship peak at North Shore this June and they began to talk about another Jones. But at Kenwood, he came a cropper against old Chandler Egan, in the first round. Egan won the title twice long before Goodman was born.

In four of his five tries for the amateur title, Goodman has failed to get past the first day of match play. California entries seem to be Johnny's particular jinx. Lawson Little beat him in the second round at Pebble Beach in 1929. Johnny McHugh of San Francisco ousted him the next year at Merion in the first round. Billy Howell turned up from Virginia to beat Goodman in the first round at Beverly in 1931. This year Egan, entered from Del Monte, California, barred the way.

There's still plenty of trouble spotting the best group of American amateurs in golf. The game has developed so fast and widespread a pace that no one player, favorite or otherwise, is as marked a man as was Bob Jones during the years he dominated the sport. Or even close to it. Only one of the 1933 quarter-finalists, Ros Somerville of Canada, reached the same stage of the 1933 amateur tournament at Cincinnati.

Sandy's company a year ago in the "last eight" comprised Chick Evans, Jesse Guilford, Bill Blaney, Johnny Fischer, Francis Outmet, Maurice McCarthy and Johnny Goodman.

This year the quarter-finalists were Somerville, Lawson Little, Max Merston, Jack Westland, Eddie Held, George Dunlap, Jack Munger, the 18-year-old sensation from Dallas, and Sidney Noyes.

Fischer On The Way
Slim Johnny Fischer, the son of a Cincinnati mail carrier, now studying law at the University of Michigan, can be put down as one of the youngsters who should carry through to the top before he is done with amateur title chasing.

His two year record in the national amateur now is one of the best, including the feat of tying the medal record in 1932 and setting a new mark of 141 before a home-town gallery this year. The pressure of trying to live up to expectations of his friends and followers finally told on the Cincinnati youngster but it failed to dim the real class of his game. Fischer has every shot in the bag, plus a temperament that has manifested its steadiness under fire. He is a tremendous hitter and as fine a workman around the greens as the younger generation has turned out.

Idaho College Resting After Downing Albion

COLLEGE OF IDAHO, Caldwell.—Unless a tentative game for this weekend with Intermountain Union college at Helena or Great Falls, Mont., materializes, College of Idaho Coyotes will get a two weeks rest following their first game of the season last Saturday night, when they defeated Albion State Normal school Teachers, 12 to 0, Friday evening, October 13. The Coyotes will meet University of Idaho Vandals in a night game in Caldwell.

Coach Loren H. Bauler will drive his men hard this week in an effort to erase weakness uncovered in the Albion game. Apparently with a strong defense, the Coyotes seemed unable to present a convincing driving offense against the Albion Teachers.

Jackson Kayoes Datto In First

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 4 (AP)—With a steaming left to the midriff, three seconds after the opening gong, Young Peter Jackson, 135, Los Angeles negro, knocked out Johnny Datto, 135, Manila, Filipino, in the scheduled 10-round main event of last night's fight card here.

The punch was the only one of the contest.

BRESHEARS GIVES STORY OF SLAYING

strong box. Stevens opened them. Then he heard a noise in the front room and looked in. Mr. Allen had broken his bonds, removed the handcuffs and was entering the kitchen. Stevens caught him just before Mr. Allen reached the kitchen door, hit him twice over the head with the keys and padlock from the strong box, then dragged him back to the front room. He picked him up "like a wrestler" and slammed him down on the floor. He again tied Mr. Allen's hands with cord and shoved handcuffs into his mouth. Stevens said he didn't know where he got the handcuffs. Then he went back into the room where the trunks were located and searched them thoroughly. "I never got a nickel," he told Sheriff Breshears. (Officers after the crime, found $25 hidden in an envelope which Stevens overlooked.)

Stevens came out of the room and looked at Allen, who had rolled over a bit. He didn't move. Stevens couldn't hear his heart and became frightened again. He ran from the house, entered the car and drove to Union. Somewhere along the way he stopped the car, got out and threw the keys and padlock as far as he could. He couldn't tell the sheriff where he did this. "I didn't know, I was so scared and excited," he said.

Then he drove back to the Fred Calvin place, parked the car in its usual place about 10 o'clock, and went to the brush back of the flouring mill, where he spent the night.

In the morning he returned to the Calvin place, spoke of the "excitement of the night before," and of an old man being killed at Cove. This started the rumor that eventually resulted in his arrest at Shaniko by Sheriff Breshears the following Tuesday. The next day, Sunday (the day Mr. Allen's body was found) Stevens burned his clothing in Calvin's heating stove, after hiding them Saturday in his bedroll.

He admitted to Sheriff Breshears that a fingerprint file found near Mr. Allen's body belonged to him, and also identified the cord used to tie Mr. Allen's hands.

He said he was out with a "drunk" previous to the crime, who told him Mr. Allen had a lot of money in a trunk, told him where the keys were and said that he (the drunk) had frequently taken money from the trunk. He told Stevens he took as much as $400 at one time but didn't take it all, because he was afraid if he did, the old man would notice it.

Stevens said he found the keys where the drunk told him they were, but steadfastly refused to tell the relations in the new deal last night after a talk with the president when he called for an end of "mob conditions" in the blutinous fields about Pittsburgh.

Sixth Inning Fatal To Senators, 6-1

In this instance Johnson sided with labor and told the operators of the "captive" mines operated by the steel and iron companies to quit "quibbling about small points."

Mr. Roosevelt talks tonight before the conference of Catholic charities here and there is every expectation that he will expound in detail his ideas on the troublesome labor issue in the recovery campaign as well as the credit expansion program to back it up.

He is permitting no interpretation of the clause in the national recovery act declaring the right of collective bargaining for labor.

He is standing pat on the right of employees to deal with employers through their own representatives. The signing of 17 more codes for industry last yesterday by the president marked the transition of the recovery drive from the organization to the enforcement phase.

AMBRIDGE, Pa., Oct. 4 (AP)—Three workers were beaten and one picked up by a mob of strikers in an outbreak of strike violence at Ambridge steel plant today. One worker was reported in a serious condition.

Led by three "insurgent" local union chiefs, a crowd of 15,000 Payette and Greene county coal diggers at a mass meeting yesterday shouted down district leaders, and greeted with loud "noes," Governor Gifford Pinchot's plea that they end the walkout begun three weeks ago.

HARRISBURG, Ill., Oct. 4 (AP)—Saline county, a center of bitter fighting between the Progressive Miners Union and the United Mine Workers for supremacy in the coal fields was in a virtual state of terror today following a night of bombings and periodic gunfire.

The most serious disorders occurred in Harrisburg and Galatia. Bombs rocked six homes and shattered windows. One man was wounded by gunfire in Galatia.

Rotarians Dine On Venison At Luncheon Today

Through the courtesy of Francis Greulich, the members of the La Grande Rotary club enjoyed a venison feed today at noon at the La Grande hotel. Mr. Greulich shot the deer from which the venison was taken, getting his buck earlier in the season.

The program, in charge of W. C. Perkins, was presentation of Joe McElroy, cowboy photographer and lecturer, and his pictures.
