Guests—Mrs. Tom Wallinger, of the Lower Cove market road, is entertaining some interesting guests, her sister, Mrs. H. H. Gregory, of Rose Lodge, Ore., and her son, H. H. Gregory Jr., with Mrs. Gregory and the baby daughter, Shirley Anne. They came Tuesday of last week, but because of Mrs. Gregory's indisposition have not really started their visiting among her old friends in this valley yet. One trip, to the lookout station on Mt. Emily, has been enjoyed and others are being planned. Mrs. Gregory has only visited here once in 24 years, so she has a lot of visiting to catch up on. Sunday the Wallinger family entertained the members of the Everett Wallinger family and a few guests at dinner at their home, including Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wallinger, Virgil Wallinger, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reavis and small daughter, Joanna Mae, and the Misses Mary Taylor and Hazel Crawford. To those who know the families and the guests, it is needless to state that the chief interest of the day centered about the two young ladies, Shirley Anne Gregory and Joanna Mae Reavis, who seemed to mind not all being so much in the spotlight.

Meeting Postponed—The meeting of the Priscilla Sewing club which would have come on Thursday, has been postponed on account of the annual meeting of the county aid, Thursday, at North Powder.

Spends Weekend—Miss June Whittaker, of Pilot Rock, a student at the Eastern Oregon Normal, spent the weekend with her friend, Miss Josephine Fisher, in the Frosty district. The two girls became friends at the 4-H club summer conferences at Corvallis.

Give Reception—The Parent Teacher Association of Island City and the Ladies Aid of the community church sponsored a reception and dinner at the church Friday evening, welcoming the teachers of the school and the minister, Rev. Hertzog and his family. There were 75 people present for the supper which was served buffet style at 7:00 o'clock. The program which followed consisted of these numbers: Songs, audience. Address of welcome, Mrs. Homer T. Wilson. Response for the teachers, Mr. Hicks. Response by the minister, Mr. Hertzog. Reading, Mrs. Workman. Group of songs, Annamae and Pluma Shaffer. Piano solo and monologue, Mrs. Clifford Blokland.

Blue Mt. Grange—The first all-day meeting since last spring was held Wednesday by Blue Mt. Grange. State grange officers, including master, overseer, lecturer, secretary and executive committee, were nominated. Clarence Carter was appointed to fill a vacancy in the executive committee of the local organization, the other two members being L. F. Wright and Jay Braithers. The members voted unanimously in favor of making many much needed improvements to the hall and they decided to have their first work meeting next Wednesday, Oct. 11, which will be an all-day affair. It was decided to also have the next regular meeting day, Oct. 21, as another all-day work meeting. Clarence Carter, lecturer, presented a short program which included a song "What Shall the Harvest Be," by the grange and three readings, "The Tempest," by Mrs. Lily Nizer; "The Red Rooster," by Mrs. J. B. Lindsey and "The Uncivilized," L. F. Wright. Next Saturday, Oct. 14, beginning at 5 o'clock in the evening, "Booster Night" will be observed at the hall. Mr. Carter is to arrange the program and the home economic committee is to have charge of the refreshments.

Cast Removed—John Endicott, of near Allice, who was injured severely several weeks ago in a runaway accident, has had the cast removed and is now able to be around some on crutches.

To Valley—Mrs. Martha Jane Moss has gone to the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fuller, of the Valeria district, where she will spend the winter. Mrs. Moss has rented her home in La Grande to Claude Berry.

Conclude Stay—I. Zundel and son, Lowell, former residents of the Grange Hall neighborhood and who spent a week in La Grande looking after business matters, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Spencer. They left Monday evening for their home near Medford.

Being Cars—Twelve carloads of Grande Ronde prunes, the harvest of which is in progress, have been sent at the P. F. E. plant at North Powder. The crop, which at one time was thought not to be over ten cars, is estimated at twice that number. The valley's apple crop, with some 80 cars from the Weatherspoon orchards near Elgin, are now moving. A big pear crop of the Yakima district has been stored, awaiting a more favorable market, expected in December.

Returns to Valley—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pike and family have returned to the valley and are making their home in the vicinity of Union. Before going to the Idaho town the Pike family lived on their ranch north and west of Summerville.

To Salem—Miss Oehler, teacher in the Imbler High School, has gone to Salem to spend the next two weeks at her home. The Imbler High has closed for a two weeks' vacation during the apple picking season.

Illness Regretted—All over the valley, the illness of "Aunt Anne" Hug, of Elgin, is deeply regretted. Mrs. Hug, who is always the inspiration at the big annual gathering of the Hug clan, is one of the few survivors of the Swiss group who came to this country and then settled in this valley because it reminded them so much of the homeland. Aunt Anne is 97 years of age and recently fell on the floor in her home, the shock of the experience being more than she could stand, though no bones were broken. While her great age makes her recovery a question, her friends are hoping that she may recover.

Entertains Club—Mrs. James McKinnis, of near Summerville, entertained the members of the Priscilla Sewing club at its last meeting. Twelve guests were present for a delightful afternoon of sewing, visiting and refreshments.

To Wallowa Lake—The Misses Marjorie Horton, Imogene Russell and Marie Tigglebeck, drove to Wallowa Lake Saturday afternoon and spent the weekend at Miss Russell's cabin.

Guests—Mrs. George Rynearson, who operates the telephone exchange at Imbler, has had as her recent guests, her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Boro, of Coeur d'Alene, Ida., who were on an auto tour which took them down into the Crater Lake region after leaving this valley.

Returns to Portland—Miss Ruth Comstock, who has been recuperating at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Comstock, of the Mill Creek canyon, has gone to Portland to complete her course in nurse training. Ruth has had a rather hectic time making a sufficient recovery from her illness of several months ago to be able to get really into her work.

FARM LIFE CLAIMED GOOD TRAINING

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Bright lights of the city haven't the lure for boys from the farm that they are popularly believed to have. Instructors at Dunwoody institute here have discovered.

And that is one reason, they say, why farm youths make good mechanics if given a reasonable chance. "The farm boys are freer from distractions. They are more accustomed to work, and have usually developed considerable mechanical understanding." Boys from the farm, on the average, he says, are more mature in judgment and more inclined to "know what they want."

FOOTBALL PLAYERS TURN TO FARM TO ASSIST TEAM MATE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Football players of Loyola university the school that scared Southern California in 1932, went to the aid of a fellow player when Frank del Giorgio's father told him 35 acres of land would have to be made ready for planting before he could register. When members of the squad heard about it, Kermit Klitzke, who is expected to give Del Giorgio a hard battle for the tackle position, suggested going to the dairy farm and aiding the 195-pound griddler. Ten players volunteered to help Del Giorgio, who was first-string tackle of the 1932 eleven.

California now has a $10,000 fund to be used to pay rewards for the arrest of kidnapers.
