WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 30 — Going to buy gold on the world market now. What we been buying has been just "home talent" gold. They claim the more you buy and the more you pay, the cheaper your dollar will get.

Well, you will have no trouble on foreign support in this scheme. It will be no hardship for them to charge you even $5 an ounce.

Now here is what us dumb ones don't get. When we had practically half the world's gold, our dollar was still higher than a flagpole's stiffer.

But this is no place for the ignorant, for there is two people you can't argue with. One is a professor, for he has specs, and the other is an economist, for he has a title. Yours,

Will Rogers

ROTARY HEAD VISITS LOCAL CLUB MONDAY

William J. Dinsmore, of Tacoma, Guest at Special Meeting

William J. Dinsmore, of Tacoma, Wash., district governor of Rotary, was a guest of the La Grande Rotary club at a luncheon Monday at the La Grande hotel, the occasion being his annual visit to this city.

Mr. Dinsmore has charge of district No. 1, which includes Alaska, British Columbia, Alberta, Washington, Oregon and part of Idaho.

Three one-act plays, a comedy, a drama and a fantasy, will be presented by Sock and Buskin, dramatics honorary at the Eastern Oregon Normal school, under the direction of Miss Florence Day. The date of production will be set later.

The casts have been chosen by the director and Sock and Buskin. "The Flattering Word," a comedy, by George Kelley, will be presented with John Singer in the role of the fever and Mr. Rigley, Charlotte Dusenberry, as Mary, his wife; Louisa Pinson, as Eugene Tash, the actor; Jean McKennon, as Mrs. Zooker, and June Udick as Lena, her daughter; Miss Evelyn Mastern will assist in the direction.

"Trifles," a drama, by Susan Gilgapel, has five characters, a sheriff, played by Neill Ross, county attorney, by Robert Culliff; Hale, Leonard Marshall; Mrs. Hale, Jean Williams; Mrs. Stevens, Winifred Scott; Guy Tucker is the assistant director. The fantasy, "The Princess, Marries"

LAST HALF TAXES DUE THIS WEEK

The last half of the 1933 taxes, payable in 1933, are due not later than Nov. 5. It was announced today by Deputy Sheriff Dick Claycomb, in charge of the tax collecting department of the sheriff's office.

So far, payment of the last half taxes has not been very heavy, but somewhat of a rush is expected during this week.

This will be the last time that taxes in Oregon will be paid only in half or in full. Beginning in 1934, quarterly tax payments will become lawful.

Sues Film Firm For $1,000,000

Charging that the sun baths she was required to take in Africa as the "white goddess" of the film "Trader Horn" wrecked her health, Edwina Booth (above) filed suit against Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer corporation in New York for $1,000,000 damages.

WINTER SEASON DRAWS NEAR IN EASTERN OREGON

A Grande people have been speculating the last day or two, when to expect the first fall of snow. The speculation, of course, was caused primarily by the rainy, somewhat chilly weather the last few days, and also by the fact that snow fell in Klamath Falls and Central Oregon yesterday.

"It won't be long," most of them think. Others point out that La Grande may expect its first snowfall anytime between Oct. 1 to Dec. 1. Tomorrow will be Nov. 1, beginning a month that sometimes is in the fall and sometimes in the winter period in Eastern Oregon.

"The weather man predicts colder and unsettled weather for Eastern Oregon tonight.

High mountains in California also were covered with snow Monday, and drenched lower elevations. Wind, accompanying the rain, caused damage estimated by growers at $80,000 to the apple crop in the Pajaro valley of California as it whipped unpicked fruit from the trees. The San Joaquin

DUSHANE AND PAUL FAIL IN ESCAPE PLOT

Pair of Bank Robbery Suspects Seek to Burn Hole in Jail.

OFFICERS THWART THEIR ATTEMPT

Two and Glenn Simms, of Ukiah, Scheduled to Enter Pleas on Friday Morning.

Jesse D. "Slim" Paul and James Dushane, two of three men held in the Wallowa county jail at Enterprise on charges of robbing the Stockgrowers and Farmers National bank at Wallowa, attempted to escape yesterday, according to reports received here.

The two, who with Glenn Simms, of Ukiah, Ore., are scheduled to enter pleas in circuit court at Enterprise Friday morning before Judge J. W. Knowles, were unsuccessful in their attempt, due to discovery by officers. They had climbed on top of the cage in the jail and were trying to burn a hole in the ceiling when officers

Red Cross Roll Call Plans Will Be Made Friday

There will be a meeting of the American Red Cross Friday night at 7:30, in the office of the La Grande Investment Co., for the purpose of perfecting plans for the annual Roll Call for 1933. At a recent meeting of the Red Cross, Mr. Mortimer was re-elected chairman of the local chapter for the ensuing year, and other officers were elected and appointed.

During the past year thousands of dollars worth of flour and clothing have been brought to La Grande and distributed among the needy by the efforts of the Red Cross. Mr. Mortimer reports. This is the only medium through which these supplies could have been secured and in this alone the Red Cross has rendered an inestimable service to the city of La Grande, he points out. With relief conditions still demanding considerable attention throughout the coming year, he regards it as very important that the Red Cross be adequately financed and the only means of finance is the Roll Call which takes place between Nov. 11 and

GERMANY'S IDOLS IN DECLINE

With the advent of the Nazis into power, two of Germany's most famous heroes and idols now pass into political eclipse. President Von Hindenburg (left), shorn of all real power, spends most of his time at his East Prussian estate, while Chancellor Hitler runs the government. General Erich Ludendorff (right), who caused the dismissal of Chancellors and cabinet ministers in the early days of the Republic, received a last and humiliating blow recently when Hitler banned his "Tannenberg League." During the World War Hindenburg and Ludendorff together won the great battles of the Masurian Lakes and Tannenberg.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE TO ATTEND COURT OF HONOR FRIDAY

On the occasion of a visit by H. L. Hayward, field executive of the Spokane area of the Boy Scouts of America, a special scout court of honor will be held at the La Grande High school building Friday evening, beginning at 8 p. m.

Mr. Hayward is a recognized leader in Boy Scout work and an excellent speaker, and a special invitation is being issued to the public to attend the court of honor.

Harvey Carter's new troop of scouts, No. 7, organized about two months ago, will present a playlet during the evening. The main purpose of the court, of course, is to reward scouts who are entitled to promotion.

GAME HEADS PLANNING TO TAKE ACTION

If Season is Again Opened, Commission to Make Recommendations.

Telephonic communication between the Observer and a representative of the state game commission in Portland today revealed that if the state legislature again opens the elk season in Eastern Oregon next fall, the game commission will recommend that it be held after the deer season has been closed.

The representative also indicated that the game commission, after the open season had been declared by the legislature, was forced to regard it largely as an experiment, since the season had not been opened since 1907, and that any mistakes that

N. R. A. IS FACING TEST IN COURTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP) — Directors of the government's recovery drive face challenges from three directions, each arising behind legal points yet to be decided.

Upon the doorstep of the comptroller-general there rested for decision the complaint of a local Ford dealer, low bidder upon a contract for trucks from the civilian conservation corps, contending that it should not be denied because Henry Ford has not signed under the NRA.

From the District of Columbia supreme court came a temporary injunction restraining the secretary of the treasury from awarding a contract to other than the low bidder for a New York postoffice annex, who was claimed not to have met NRA requirements.

In the supreme court of the United States there stood a promise to review the first challenge received by it, of the wide recovery legislation, a case arising under the New York milk control law. Argument has been set for December 4.
