Whitman Will Play Puget Sound Team

WALLA WALLA, Nov. 3 (AP) - Twenty-three players and Coach R. V. Borleske entrained this morning for Tacoma where the annual Whitman-College of Puget Sound football game will be played Saturday.

While several regulars were in top condition Borleske said that in Wednesday's and Thursday's signal drills "they looked more like a football team than any time this season."

rivers in Western Washington, after one of the heaviest rain storms of recent years had brought a downfall of nearly two and a half inches here in 24 hours, today threatened flood damage in the Puget Sound area.

Highways were inundated at various points, and the Stevens Pass highway over the Cascades, above Skiyomish, was closed because of slides.

The Snoqualmie river was out of its banks in several places last night, and the peak of the high water was expected on the Green, the White, the Snohomish and other rivers during today.

In West Seattle, four homes were hit by slides and one was wrecked, with its occupants, Hans Hanglyland and his wife, unable to escape and being out and bruised when it toppled over a bank.

HOOD RIVER, Ore., Nov. 3 (AP) - Clear skies today following a week of stormy weather in which 3.10 inches of rain fell, revealed that Mount Hood and Mount Adams have new mantles of snow far below the timber line.

Clear Weather Is Predicted For N. W.

A torrential rain between 5 and 8:30 o'clock last night brought a half-inch of rain, and the total for Thursday was .87 of an inch. Seattle had 2.26 inches during the day.

The Willamette river here rose more than one foot in the 24-hour period. A further moderate rise is expected.
