FAIR OR FASCIST?

If there is truth in the report that the federal government is preparing to crack down hard on strikers whose cause is labeled "unjustified" by federal investigators, the administration would seem to have bitten off a mouthful which will take a great deal of very energetic chewing. In any other country on earth, such a step would be taken as prima facie evidence of a swing to the extreme right—toward Fascism, to be blunt.

The one thing that would prevent Americans from looking at it in that light would be the reputation for fairness and liberalism which the Roosevelt administration has built up thus far. For the implications of the program are clear. Labor is warned not to strike without governmental permission. The last-resort weapon of the working man is to be used only when Washington believes its use to be justified. By withholding relief from so-called "unjustified" strikers, the government reserves the right to decide when a walkout may be called.

All this brings with it a tremendous responsibility for the people at Washington. If the government can tell labor when not to strike, it logically follows that it is up to the government to see that labor gets the squarest kind of deal in its negotiations with industrial management. Washington has to fight the working man's battles for him. A government which undertakes to break strikes when it feels such course advisable also must undertake to make them, on occasion.

This brings us into a field so new and unexplored that no living mortal can say what we are going to see when we get to the other side. It also brings the New Deal to its acid test. Nothing could make the ordinary working man swallow a dose like this except the previously mentioned reputation for fairness and liberalism possessed by the present administration. And nothing could harm that reputation as much as a couple of ill-judged decisions as to the "justifiability" of certain strikes. The success or failure of the whole New Deal easily might hinge on the way this new policy is handled.

TODAY IN BRIEF, IN AND AROUND OREGON

AS CHRONICLED BY THE DAILY LEASED WIRE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

TO CHRISTEN CRUISER

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 16 (AP)—When Miss Lella C. McKay breaks a bottle of champagne against the steel hull of the 10,000-ton cruiser "Astoria" at Puget Sound navy yard Dec. 16, the founders of the city of Astoria will act through her.
Miss McKay is a great-granddaughter of Alexander McKay, partner of John Jacob Astor. In his attempt to found a great fur empire in the Pacific northwest.

SCHOOL SITUATION BETTER

GRANTS PASS, Nov. 16 (AP)—Forty-one per cent improvement in city school tax receipts coming simultaneously with a 20 per cent saving in city school expenditures today brought announcement by James P. Doyle, chairman of the city board, that the Grants Pass high and grade schools would continue throughout the nine months of the regular term this year without interruption.
At the same time contemplated suspension of high school bus service in the city district has been given up.

WOULD KEEP CORPS ACTIVE

SALEM, Nov. 16 (AP)—Opposition to disbandment of the Salem American Legion drug corps, once national champion, was voted by the American War Mothers of Oregon at its annual convention. It was learned here last night.
Mrs. Daniel T. Penney, of Portland, state president of the War Mothers, pleaded in a letter to Capital post that the corps be kept active as "an inspiration to this state." Before leaving for the national convention the corps announced it would disband when it returned. However it still retains its identity.

and light group were estimated at 6,000. The estimated number returned to employment in the telephone and telegraph, electric railroad, anthracite mining, metalliferous mining, quarrying and non-metallic mining, and building construction industries was smaller.
"The decrease of 28.1 per cent in the canning and preserving industry represents an estimated drop of over 55,000 workers in this industry between September and October.
"This decrease, of course, is expected following the peak month of September. The bituminous coal mining industry, due largely to strikes in certain localities, also reported a sharp decline.
"The decreases in number of workers in the remaining three industries (hotels, laundries and dyeing and cleaning) were much less pronounced."

REDUCE TROUT PRODUCTION
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., (AP)—Production of rainbow trout in Missouri state hatcheries, which in 1932 made up 24 per cent of the total, will be reduced to about 2.5 per cent in 1934 under plans of the game and fish department. Officials explained there is comparatively little water available in the state for the trout.

Doctors Give Creosote For Dangerous Coughs

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.
Creomulsion, with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops all coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.
Creomulsion is powerful in the treatment of all colds and coughs, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.
Your own druggist guarantees Creomulsion by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creomulsion as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creomulsion on hand for instant use. —Adv.

Power rates follow (pumping and sewage disposal):
First 20,000 K. W. H. per month 1.4 cents per K. W. H.
All over 20,000 K. W. H. at rate of 8 of a cent per K. W. H. (no demand charge).

Except in emergencies the city agrees not to pump water between 4 and 8 p. m. during the months from October to March, inclusive.
All night service is interpreted as meaning from dusk to dawn.
The light and power company agrees to handle maintenance and replacements.
Estimates are that the new contract will save the city approximately $350 per month under the present plan of operation, and would save $660 per month under full operation. At present the city is using only part of its street lights.
After ratification of the contract last night President Victor R. Melville expressed gratification at the generous offer made by the E. O. & P. Co. and Gene Walker, local manager, responded with an appropriate talk.

LOST WEIGHT, COUGH
Mr. M. J. Webber of 79 A St., Springfield, Ore., said: "I lost weight, had no appetite and developed a cough. Some nights I would cough all night. Before I had finished one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I had no more cough and was soon enjoying real health." Write to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y. Your Attention, Please!

With few exceptions, during the past 90 days, we have advertised in this paper each week a number of articles with prices on them and calling attention to the unusually low prices brought about by making our purchases before the recent sharp increase in raw materials.

Also during this same period we have had daily freight arriving with more of these purchases until our store is literally filled from top to bottom with seasonable merchandise which is now on display at prices based on our low cost.

Suits, hats, shoes, overcoats, Sox, underwear, shirts and all accessories necessary for the complete outfitting of the man or boy. Dresses, coats, shoes and oxfords, sweaters, undies and gloves from the style centers for the ladies.

The materials and workmanship of these clothes are of the finest. We could (and will if necessary) go into long detail telling you just why we believe this merchandise, with old, long established names that are synonymous with quality, has finally been recognized as leaders in the field.

We invite you to come in. Look at our stock. Ask questions. Find out for yourself just why we have been and still are, so lavish with our statements about quality and low prices.
