SHADING OF EGG PRICES REPORTED

PORTLAND, Nov. 17 (AP)—Shading of egg prices became more or less general in the local territory during the last 24 hours although every effort was being made by local co-ops to stem the tide of chiseling. Owing to practically a general downfall of law enforcement in regard to egg grades, because such enforcement appears impossible, sellers have been freely grading as they chose and buyers have been bewildered by the many different prices named for so-called fresh gathered goods.

Result was not quite so good for the general price list although Manager Keeney of the Pacific co-op reports that his organization has been maintaining the price, as well as the quality.
