Mr. Dixon Heads Manual Training

The Manual Training department of the school, under Robert S. Dixon, has done quite a bit of work already. This is Mr. Dixon's sixth year in La Grande. He attended Toulouse University in France in 1919, studied industrial arts two quarters at Oregon State college in 1927, received his A. B. degree in mathematics from Washington State college in 1929, and an A. B. degree in education from the same college in 1929; he is now working for his master's degree in education at Stanford, where he has attended two quarters during the summer.

Last year there were five periods of Manual Training. This year the classes have been cut to three periods, all in the forenoon, with nearly the same number of boys. The classes are mixed, from freshmen to seniors, and each boy is doing something of his own.

Among the projects being worked on are chairs, buffets, tables, writing-desks, and cedar chests. There is also one myrtle-wood cedar chest. Myrtle-wood is very rare, and is grown only in Western Oregon and in the Orient, near Jerusalem. Last year some myrtle-wood lamps were made.

Mr. Dixon teaches manual training only in the morning. In the afternoon he has one class of General Science and one of Algebra.

The last four weeks have been confusing for the boys in the shop because of the work done upon the stage for the senior play. They created the personnel of the classes in Period I, Manual Training I — Bur Courneyne, Verdine Cummings, Owen Allen, Gerald Hill, Donn Jennings, Richard Kilby, Edgar Kelly, William Neff, Alvin Burt, Marvin Smith, Lynn Sakfield, Edward Waite, Richard Walker, Donald G. A. G. S. HAVE NOV. PARTY

An A. G. S. party was held Friday at three o'clock in study hall.

The first number on the program was two piano solos by Miss Peterson, of the Normal school faculty. They were: "Craecantienne Fantastique" by Paderewski, and "Danse Negre" by Cyril Scott. As an encore, Miss Peterson played "Danse Americaine" by Dent Mowrey, one of Portland's foremost composers. Mrs. McClay gave two interesting readings, entitled "The Naughty Little Chick" and "The Angel Cake." She was accompanied by Mrs. Gralapp. Two vocal solos were

HIGH SCHOOL PRIVILEGES

There are several privileges granted to the students of the La Grande High school, which, through constant proof of their real value, are rapidly approaching a place where they will be regarded as a necessity. Because of these privileges students are more willing to approach with interest tasks which might otherwise be of a rather unpleasant nature.

The library is one of the finest sources of added interest to which students have access. In the pages of its volumes many interesting items of research are found and may be presented in various classes. Here one may also get books for his personal use and the types of books on the shelves of the library are so varied that it is possible for each one to find his choice there.

The athletic program involves every student who desires to take part and is one of great value because it supplies recreation, surely an essential, for those who live in places where the like would otherwise be out of the question. Of course, a social side of high school could scarcely be said to be complete without its football and basketball games.

The music department is one which all students may enter. They have a wide choice of band, orchestra, glee club or a capella choir. In one of these organizations most students find an unlimited supply of pleasure, as well as benefit. An education is not well rounded unless it includes some knowledge of music.

The opportunity for participation in dramatics is given to all who are qualified—although students are at the present without an auditorium there has been no slack in this field and they are looking forward to the time when they will again have better accommodations.

It would mean so much to the high school students if the public would make an effort to realize the importance of these issues and support them in every manner when opportunities may occur in the future.

rendered by Mrs. Stoddard, also accompanied by Mrs. Gralapp. They were: "Brown Bird Singing," by Hayden Wood, and "Rosalie," by Reginald de Kaden. Mrs. Clifford Bickland presented two pianoliques, "The Youngest in the Family," and "At the Movies." That the audience greatly enjoyed the program was shown by the enthusiastic applause with which each number was received.

An orchestra composed of Jim Bruce, Lawrence Pilmore, Wayne Gooderham, Eugene Cummings, Gale Curtis and La Veda Millering, played for the dancing which followed the program.

Vena Mae Ward was in charge of the program. Jean Walter, the refreshments and Mary Ellen Stoddard and Kathleen Peare, hospitality. — Joanne Leslie.

Senior English Class Completes Study of Drama Through The Ages

The Senior English classes, taught by Miss Pettigrew, have been studying, during this semester, the drama through the ages. The students of English 7 believe it to be one of the most interesting and beneficial courses that they have ever taken.

The first thing studied was modern drama. This proved most interesting as the students discussed the Little Theatre movement, prominent actors and actresses, both in the moving pictures and on the legitimate stage, famous producers, designers and playwrights. Many projects were studied that the students had never thought of before and found them very profitable!

The Citizen And His School

The State Department of Education is sponsoring a series of radio broadcasts designed to place a greater knowledge of the public schools, their methods of organization, and the problems they face before the people of the state.

The program is divided into six sections, each of which is considered one of the major educational objectives: Health, Citizenship, Home Membership, Worthy Use of Leisure, Vocations and The American Public School.

As a part of the weekly program, the department is opening each lecture with a brief discussion of the educational conditions that prevail in each county of the state.

The subject for this week is, "How Do High Schools Prepare for Citizenship," by F. W. Farr, Ph. D., Professor of Secondary Education, Oregon State College.

All programs will be given over Radio Station KOAC (550 kilocycles) every Tuesday night at 7:30. Tune in TONIGHT.

Watch this column for announcement of program each week.—Herbert Evans, Superintendent.

The people of La Grande are cordially invited to attend a "Silver Tea" given by the A Cappella choir in the music room of the high school, from three to six o'clock, Friday, November 24. There will also be an extensive program.

VOLLEY BALL SEASON CLOSED; PEP POINTS WON

Volleyball is at a close! The Junior girls have earned 7 points toward the pep contest as they took second place in the first team games and first place in the squad team games. The Sophomores earned five points as they placed third in the first team games and second in the squad team games. The freshmen and seniors both earned four points as the freshmen took fourth place in the first team games and third and fourth in the squad team games and the seniors took first place in the first team games which earned them four points.

As I am a Senior, I must explain to you why the seniors only earned four points. Only enough senior girls turned out for volleyball to make one team and a few substitutes. This, naturally, gave them no squad team and they had only the one team, the first team, to carry points toward the pep contest. Senior girls, come out and show us what you can do and the next time the seniors will earn eight points toward the pep contest.—Sophia Gletthuber.

TO PENDLETON IN A TRUCK

We, consisting of about 27 students, and two snare drums and the bass drum, left the high school at 9:20 in a Ford V 8 truck for Pendleton. Our driver was "Buck" Anderson, a very competent driver too, who was recommended by Mr. Perkins, who furnished the truck. I wish to take this space to thank Mr. Perkins on behalf of the students who went, and Mr. Gralapp. He certainly showed a very fine spirit of co-operation by giving us the truck, driver and gas to accompany.

The road was quite frosty and slick in spots. It was not very cold due to the canvas fastened to the high side boards, and also to the blankets brought by different individuals. We hit quite a dense fog at Bowling Point on Cabbage hill, and did not get out of it until we got to the bottom of the hill. We got in Pendleton at 11 and got out at the Dorian hotel. It was damp and gloomy in Pendleton. They told us that they had not seen the sun for three weeks over there.

We were all very much disappointed at the outcome of the game. We met at the Dorian hotel right after the game and left immediately. Coming up Cabbage hill we stopped to see if we could help one of the La Grande cars that was stalled. We found out we couldn't, and left. A little further on we hit an extremely dense fog. We had to go slow because we could not see very far ahead of us. It got slightly cold on the way home but that did not worry us very much. We got back at 6:10, and went to our homes. I'm sure that all of us had an extremely good time, and we all feel very grateful to Mr. Perkins.—Robert Helm.

PIERCE SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY

An assembly was held in study hall at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, for social science students.

The speaker, ex-Governor Pierce, was introduced by Mr. Bunt, head of the social science department. The subject, Mr. Pierce chose was "The New Era."

Mr. Pierce believes that this is a wonderful time in which to live; that old conditions are breaking, and a new era is coming. He thinks that we should use our own products. To quote Mr. Pierce: "America must keep to herself; we must find substitutes for coffee, rubber, etc." It is also Mr. Pierce's idea that one of our greatest economic evils is the present high rate of interest; he believes that the rate of interest should not exceed three and one-half percent.

Mr. Pierce stated that about a century and a half ago, capitalism and industrialism had their beginning and with them came a new feeling of nationalism. In conclusion, he spoke of the seven marvelous discoveries and inventions by which the world made great strides in advancing civilization; it is his opinion that we are on the verge of an eighth invention.

"The effect of Mr. Pierce's talk was to produce a serious consideration of present day problems by his audience.—Joanne Leslie.

Tiger Team Is Featured In Series of Articles

Kenneth Webb has been with the squad for three years. During those three years Webb has become very skilled and efficient in football. His graduation this year is deeply regretted by the student body. He was born at Union, Oregon, January 28, 1916. He entered into high school from Central in January, 1930. Webb plays guard.

Bog Webb was born at Enterprise, Oregon, April 3, 1917. He graduated from Riveria and entered into high school on January 23, 1931. This is Bog's first year of football and he is doing some real playing in the backfield.

Charles Young is playing his second year of football. He has another year to devote to football which is very fortunate for the Tigers. Chuck plays tackle. He was born in La Grande on June 23, 1917. He entered into high school from Riveria on January 23, 1931.

William Young, a sophomore, is playing his first year with the squad but we will see more of Willie in the next two years. He was born in La Grande February 2, 1918. He graduated from Riveria in May 1932 and entered into high school the following fall.

Howard Zink is another beginner in football and has a good start for his next two years. He was born in Baker, Oregon, July 14, 1918. Howard left Riveria and entered into high school in January 1932.

Last but not least is our water boy and manager, Dee Clay. Dee has been watering and assisting the Tigers in all ways possible. This makes his second year at the job.
