The 20th Century did not begin with the year 1900. It began with January first, 1901.

A CENTURY is 100 years, yet the year 1899 is frequently spoken of as the end of the 19th century. If this were the case, the first century of the Christian era would have been only 99 years long.

complement of men will be working within another week or two. The men employed on these projects are given not over 30 hours of work a week or a limit of 130 hours a month. The pay varies from a minimum of 59 cents and hour for common labor to $1.20 an hour for skilled work. Mr. Meyers, who took over the duties of disbursing officer for the district last week, told the Rotarians of the pleasure and gratification so noticeable in faces and manners of the men who received their first pay checks under the local C. W. A. work last Saturday. All were men who had had no work for some time and many with families and household in real need. He stated that close to $1,000 in payroll checks were paid out last week and around that amount would be paid out this Saturday. With the full complement of 336 men cared for the total payroll check should be around $2300 a week in this district through the winter as various new and other projects get under way.

Contest Winners On Way To Portland

The contest in La Grande was held under the sponsorship of Moon Drug Company, Glass Drugs, Inc., L & L Drug company, Wright's Drug store and the Red Cross Drug store. Skipper Don Mills admitted extreme difficulty in choosing the three acts to compete in Portland, and commented very favorably on the artistry of all the contestants. The La Grande contest was the best of the Eastern Oregon shows Mr. Mills staged he said after the local performance.

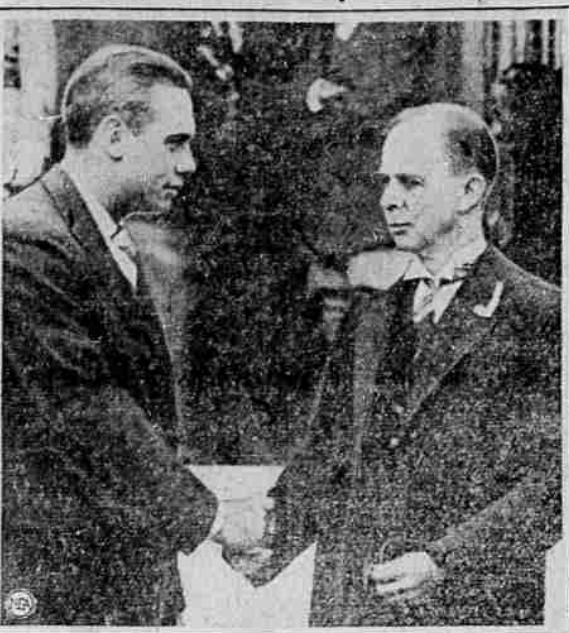

Sober Tones Noted In Royal Clothes This Year

By Rita Ferris (Associated Press Fashion Editor) PARIS (AP) — The women of Europe's royal families wear clothes in sober tones this season. Dark brown, midnight blue and black are the hues they have generally chosen, although many of the royal frocks are lightened by a touch of shimmering lame or sparklin strains.

China-Saving Hint If you are fearful lest your guests break your delicate but rather slippery cups and saucers at the tea party, pour a drop or so of hot water into the saucers and then the cup will tend to cling to its saucer and not slide when being passed around.

SAVE COLD CREAM JARS FOR MARMALADE GIFTS Don't throw away your old cold cream jars and other similar containers. Save them to hold your gifts of jams and marmalades. Orange, grapefruit and dried fruits can be made into preserves and marmalades, and poured into the jars. Several jars of these sweets tied in Christmas wrappings make most acceptable holiday gifts.

It's Colonel Terry Now, Suh

Bill Terry, boss of the world champion New York Giants, will be a bit awe-inspiring when he leads his team on the field next season—for Bill is now a colonel. The boy manager from Memphis recently visited Gov. Hill McAllister of Tennessee, and when he left that official's office he was a colonel on the governor's staff. Bill is shown above, at left, with Governor McAllister.

"Rising Tide" Of Divorce A Myth, Foundation Says

PASADENA, Dec. 4 — The "rising tide of divorce" is largely a myth and the public has been badly fooled by statistics on this subject, declares the Human Betterment Foundation. "Current figures show one divorce suit filed for every five or six marriages today," says a report issued today. "From this the fallacious conclusion is drawn that one marriage out of every five or six is destined to break up."

"Such an idea is nonsensical. No one would make the mistake of reckoning bank failures, for instance, by comparing the number of failures in a year with the number of banks opened that year. The failures would be compared with the number of banks in existence.

"If the same method were applied to divorces, it would be found that there is some divorce each year for every 125 existing marriages. When it is remembered that in a large part of the divorces, one and sometimes both parties are biologically abnormal persons, as shown, for instance, by their shorter expectation of life, it will be realized that the marriages of normal people are still relatively stable.

"The present century is a period of change in every way. But the family has probably changed less than any other human institution."

LIQUOR BILL FIGHT NEAR IN SENATE

(Continued From Page One) will be made to include utilities under the provisions of the excise tax. Utilities and similar firms under the present act are exempt.

Governor Julius L. Meier, in a special message today, urged the introduction of the prepared measure calling for a one per cent privilege tax on "persons engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property and utility and other services."

The bill prepared by the executive department, was sent to the taxation and revenue committee of the house, where it has since resided. The measure would provide for relief for public schools of the state.

The governor scored the master of the state federation of labor and the head of the state federation of labor from whom he said the chief opposition for such a tax bill came. He said both of these officials were "obstructionists in the sense that while they are always profic with objections to any and all solutions presented, neither has any remedy to present for this or any of the other serious problems confronting the state."

The legislature again demonstrated it agrees almost solidly on a few things when the house passed another vetoed measure. It was senate bill 11 from the regular session, which would locate unemployed on state lands. Only nine votes opposed its passage.

The second major legislative proposal passed the house late yesterday when the bill providing up to $3,000,000 liquor revenue for unemployed relief carried.
