PRESIDENT'S N. R. A. PLANS GOING AHEAD

down daily, officials insist the emblem of co-operation has real trade value.

They cite as evidence two principal recent occurrences: a big candy store chain was deprived of the eagle for paying waitresses hardly more than half the required rate. It appealed for reinstatement the same day, and later agreed to pay back wages to all hands for a month. Before the eagle was ordered down from the store of a "chisel" in a small eastern city, more than 1000 people signed a petition asking that the merchant be disciplined.

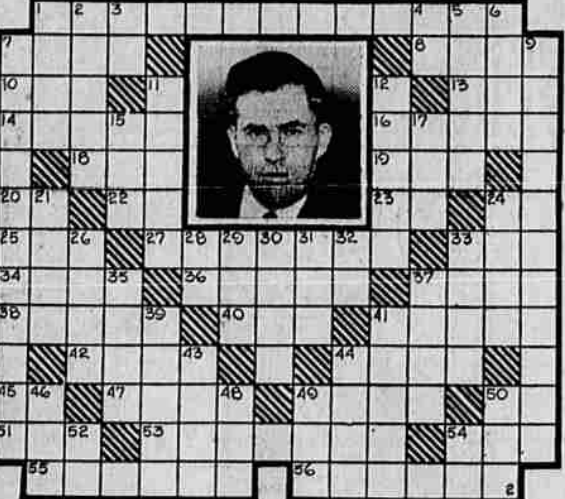

Half a dozen smaller merchants who had been deprived of the sign went to great lengths to get it back again.

CAPES BEING WORN BY SMART PARISIANS

PARIS (AP)—The Princesses May de Faucigny-Lucinge is among smart Parisians who are wearing capes. She has a three-quarter-length Molyneux model of brown and beige checked wool which she wears for sports with a skirt of the same fabric. A brown velvet blouse completes the costume.

TIGERS DEFEAT UNION 31 TO 14 IN OPENING TILT

Playing in form expected to be displayed in mid-January instead of mid-December, the Tigers basketball team upset the fast-moving Union Bears last night 31 to 14 to open their season with a victory.

Rarely has a La Grande team shown as much teamwork and smoothness this early in the season, and that, coupled with Ralph DeBole's stellar work, accounted for the win.

DeBole, a veteran guard from last year, consistently broke through Union's close defense to score shots of the "set-up" variety. His total for the evening was seven field goals—14 points. Kenneth Webb, another veteran guard, broke through twice in the last half to score.

On the defense, the Webb-DeBole combination and the Osborn-Irwin combination both functioned nicely, particularly the former.

Tail Tom Zivkovich, starting at center, gave promise of winning out in the battle for this position, scoring twice, and getting the tip-off with regularity.

South was the scoring star of the Bobcats, accounting for seven points, with Reuter, sub center, ring-i-g two field goals in the last half.

Thursday, Dec. 21, the Tigers go to Imbler. Only two games were scheduled before the Christmas holidays.

Summary table for the basketball game: Union, South, Ward, Sayre, Baxter, Reuter, Miller, Clime, Hudson.

Freed in Mercy Killing of Aunt

After allegedly admitting that he had hit his aunt over the head with a flower pot to end the torture she was suffering from cancer, John Stephens (above) was exonerated of murder by a coroner's jury at Atlanta, Ga. Doctors attributed the death to cancer rather than the blow.

CLOSE HEAVY IN STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—The stock market was subjected to a rather vigorous bear drive today and quoted values sagged 1 to 3 or more points before some support arrived.

The selling flurry lasted about half an hour but the volume was the heaviest of the brief session. The close was heavy. Transfers approximated 900,000 shares.

OREGON STATERS DOWN MULTNOMAH

CORVALLIS, Dec. 16 (AP)—Multnomah club fell an easy victim to the Oregon State college basketball team here last night, as Coach Slat's quintet swamped the Portland club's team 44 to 22.

Starting four lettermen in the opening lineup, O. S. C. led 20 to 0 at the half, and seldom did they relinquish a 20-point lead.

The Staters will meet the Union Oil five here tonight.

Kiddies Publish Christmas Edition

Pulp also furnished contributions from the first grade.

Several interesting contributions were also printed from the second grade. Christmas presents furnished a great deal of the material and Kenneth Waldorf writes, "I am asking Santa Claus to bring daddy a shirt and a tie. I hope he brings daddy this."

Gerald Chrusoski, potential capitalist, says, "I have six cents saved for Christmas presents. I am going to save some more."

Gordon Roberts is writing a letter to Santa Claus in which he is asking for "a pair of house slippers and a great big cocoonut."

"I have 50 cents," writes Richard Hertzog, "I am going to buy a car for my little brother and some shoe strings for my oldest brother for Christmas."

Other contributors from the second grade are Harold Courtney, Mary Ellen Wagner, Richard Evans, Hazel Jean Trollinger and John Bean.

Three short poems are among the third and fourth grade sections. "Santa Claus is coming," "With his reindeer, sled and toys, He has presents for all good girls and boys."

George Tias writes as a warning to all the little bad children.

"Christmas is coming! Christmas is coming! The very best time of the year, Oh how I wish it were here," is written by Richard Miller, while Mary Frances Bailey has written the following:

"Christmas is coming! And Santa Claus will soon be here, With his coat stuffed full of toys, He had dolls and doll-beds for the girls.

And wagons and horns for the boys, Leonard Kennedy, Helen Erling Van Bloklund, Janess McIntyre, Maxine Helvey, Marian Sluder and Ballard Brooks have also contributed.

The fertility of life has been felt keenly by Jimmie Saling, fifth B grade, who submits this poem: "Christmas has come But not to stay. Only one night And it's on its way."

And when we see The presents that are Around the tree, We open them with glee. And when we look them over good We put them in the closet Where the old toys stow."

Billy Wagner and Meridee Moore, two fourth B pupils, also contributed for that section.

A fine note has been struck by Ralph Pinley, fifth B, in his poem, "The Christmas Tree":

"Oh, little Christmas tree, Are you lonesome for your friends Away out in the woods? Little Christmas tree, You will not be lonesome When you are alone. When you are alone You shine like the halo Around Jesus' head, little tree."

Other contributors from the upper grades are Griselda Busch, Robert Kiddle, Jean Jasper, Verma Baker, Mary Fan Cross, Jean Buchanan, Kay Andrews, Ellen Garity, Jimmy Mills, Loren Long, Winton Puckett, Betty Larson, Edna Jasper, Marian Larson, Thomas Kennedy, Frances Millering, Floyd Wetzel, Billy Warner, Elinor Ashman, Keith Patten, Heloise Lee, Marian Christensen, Betty Burns, La Verda Puckett, Jean Stoddard, Patricia Hall, Janice Moon, Bobby Karther, Jean Inlow.
