Society Editor Has Suggestion For Resolution

The society editor has a suggestion for a most acceptable resolution for the new year and one which not only would promote business and social relations but which also would be a boon to any society copy writer. Our suggestion to the women is ascertain at more social functions during the year and then call early the next morning, Main 600 is the number, and in a bright, cheerful voice say, "I have a society item in which I know all of my friends will be interested." If the society editor does not drop dead she will be very pleased.

Auxiliary Holds Christmas Party

The L. A. to the B. R. T. hold its annual Christmas party Wednesday night at the Eagles hall. Thirty-five members were present. Guessing contests were arranged and the prizes were presented to Mrs. Grace Roland and Miss Ludella Luper.

A program was presented which included a variety of numbers. Four eighth grade girls from Riveria school, Dorothy Mann, Elna Waltz, Jeanna Mae Sullivan and Wanaruth Strain, sang Christmas songs, accompanied by Thelma Strain; Little Miss Ludella Luper gave a recitation; Jerry Jeanne Kimmell, a song; Billy Fleener and Bonita Hesse, Christmas skit; Thelma Strain, a group of popular piano numbers; Geraldine Stoppel, recitation; and a group of popular songs by the girls' quartet, accompanied by Miss Strain. Mrs. Austin Arnett arranged the program.

A box lunch was served late in the evening around the decorated Christmas tree.

Club Enjoys Christmas Party

Members of the So-Ne-He club enjoyed a Christmas party Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Grant Swalberg. After the business meeting they exchanged gifts in a fish pond and played appropriate games. Mrs. Beta Gaertner will entertain the club on Jan. 3 when election of officers will be held.

Bible Searchers In Enjoyable Meet

A pleasant afternoon was spent Wednesday by a group of 40 members of the Bible Searchers class of the Presbyterian church when they gathered at the church for a one o'clock potluck luncheon. Following the luncheon a program was presented in the community room.

Each received a gift from a grab bag. A basket of gifts also was presented to Rev. J. George Walk, minister of the church.

Mrs. J. K. Wright led the devotions, telling the Christmas story. Other numbers on the program were two pieces played by Arlene Galtner, a recitation by Barbara Murray and songs by Griseida Busby and Carolyn Bohnenkamp.

Home Missionary Society Meets

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church was entertained at the home of Mrs. E. F. Tyler Wednesday with Mrs. W. H. Hertzog, vice president, presiding at the business meeting.

Christmas carols were followed by the devotions led by Mrs. A. W. Leffel on the topic, "Road Menders of Life," and the Road to Bethlehem Leads to Jesus." Mrs. G. C. Headly presented the lesson on the subject, "Woman's Part in World Peace."

"The Standing of Women Before Christ," a paper, was furnished by Mrs. Hertzog.

A Christmas play, "There's a Song on the Air" was very impressive when presented by Miss Louise Whitney, Jean Hyde, Estella Lyle, Barbara Fines and Adelaide Zarelet.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Miss Alice Klippel.

Mrs. W. H. Hertzog was named as the hostess for the January meeting.

Just Buy A Bit of Scotch-

A bit of Scotch in the way of a gay plaid talleta blouse is just the thing to pep up your dark tweed suit. The high collar, softly tied, and interesting sleeves are smart details.

HERE is a simple but snappy little blouse that can be made up in plain crepe or satin. It comes in six sizes: 14, 16, 18 and 20 (with corresponding bust measurements of 33 1/2, 35, 36 1/2 and 38) and also in 40 and 42. Size 18 requires 2 1/8 yards of 39-inch material plus 1-2 yard of contrasting material for the collar and cuffs. In monochrome, size 18 requires 2 3/8 yards.

GOVERNMENTS OF WORLD TRYING TO AID RECOVERY

By Smith Reavis (Associated Press Foreign Staff) Nineteen thirty-four promises to be a year of world experimentation in economics and government as statesmen seek to speed the end of one of history's longest and stiffest hard-time spells.

A lot of 1933's international headaches are prominent on the sheet of unfinished business.

First of all, leaders face the problem of dislocated media of exchange with two major and many minor theories at clash. Happy days, they all agree, won't come again until commerce can move in undisturbed and unimpeded channels.

In the United States President Roosevelt proposes to raise basic purchasing ability, and commodity prices, by the use of a "managed" currency.

In Italy Premier Mussolini will lower wages and prices in one sweeping operation in the hope that thereby Italy may compete in the world's markets.

Americans Assail Tariffs France sticks to the gold standard and calls for monetary stabilization throughout the world.

In the Americas tariff barriers are being attacked by bi-lateral bargaining, as proposed by Cordell Hull, United States secretary of state, at the Pan-American conference in Montevideo. The nations of the western continent will seek a solution of the troublesome debts question in an economic gathering at Santiago, Chile.

Europe, anxious to sell its products abroad and thus fill the domestic blunder, clings to its tariffs and quotas as bargaining points. Mr. Roosevelt has indicated a disposition to do some bartering himself with wines and liquors as the first bait.

Most statesmen feel that the closing months of 1933 marked at least a slight upturn from the business stagnation of last winter and spring. World unemployment has decreased, if only slightly; many basic commodity prices have risen; some world surpluses have been reduced.

Big Conference Little Politically there are many of the old 1933 snags in the 1934 channel. The conference system didn't work so well in the 12 months just ended; witness adjournment of the London

Branded Son's Killer by Wife

Accused by his wife of beating their 3-year-old son to death, Donald K. Smith, 30, above, Littleton, Col., farmer, was spirited away to Denver for safety when a crowd gathered at the Littleton jail, causing fears of possible lynching. The slain child is shown below.

Tigers Tackle King's Imbler Team Tonight

(Continued From Page One) vantage to the Tigers. But what probably will prove even a greater disadvantage, is that Coach Jimmy King still has a few of his 1932-33 veteran cagers on the squad — and they would like nothing better than to defeat the team from the larger school.

Coach Woodie, after a couple of somewhat disappointing practices this week, was uncertain today as to his starting lineup, and said he probably would not know until a short time before the opening whistle. Last week, when the Tigers defeated Union here, he started Zivkovich, center; Hyde and Stitt, forwards; and DeBole and Webb, guards.

This will be the last game on the Tiger schedule until January.

Injured Toronto Hockey Player

While surgeons operated to save the life of Irvin (Ace) Bailey (above), of the Toronto Maple Leafs, whose skull was fractured in a hockey game with the Boston Bruins, police questioned Eddie Shore, Bruins' star, about his part in the accident. A delicate trepanning operation was performed on the injured star in a Boston hospital.
