Many Interesting Services Scheduled; Camp Meetings Continue at the Salvation Army Hall.

Programs of local churches for next Sunday include the following:

Zion English Lutheran Church (Mc Avenue near Fourth)

At the morning worship at 11:00 o'clock the pastor will speak on the theme, "Abiding in His Presence." A duet, "Never Alone," will be sung by Lena Lotte and Virginia Wurt. The choir, directed by Mary Eliza Angell, and accompanied by Lily Belle Angell, will assist with the service.

The Sunday school will observe Foreign Mission day with a special offering Sunday morning to go to the work of missions. All the children who have bright colored pictures, Christmas cards or valentines, will bring these to Sunday school, and they will be sent to missionaries in India for its work.

Fred Matthes Jr., leads the Luther League meeting Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock. The discussion will center around the theme, "Choosing My Amusements." This is the third topic on the subject of "Choices" which the league has been discussing during January. All are invited to attend these services.

Church of the Nazarene (Corner Spruce and 2d)

Sunday services begin with Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. with classes for all. Inspirational hour is from 11 to 12 o'clock in the morning and the Y. P. S. meeting begins at 6:45 p. m. Evangelistic hour is from 7:30 to 9 p. m.

Prayer meetings are held Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p. m.

Central Church of Christ (Pennsylvania Avenue)

January is being observed as "Loyalty Month" at the Central Church of Christ and an effort is being made to have every member of the church attend at least one service each Sunday. An accurate roll is being kept of those who attend.

Next Sunday morning the pastor, Paul De F. Mortimore, will preach at 11 o'clock, using the subject, "The King's Wedding." The communion will be served at this hour and the choir will sing an anthem.

The junior service is also conducted at 11 o'clock under the direction of Miss Gertrude Wagner. The children assemble in the main auditorium for communion and then return to the primary building for their own special service.

The Bible school last Sunday had an attendance of considerably more than double that of one year ago. Extensive campaigns are being conducted by each class to gain new members and the school is maintaining the highest average attendance in its history.

The Senior Christian Endeavor society meets at 6:15 in the new room recently provided for their convenience. The High School society meets at 6:30 in the church basement. These two groups offer interesting services to the young people of the city.

Wide interest is being shown in the evening service which begins at 7:30. Musical features at this service include an orchestra prelude and congregational singing of favorite hymns. A special object lesson for children attracts many of the younger folks to this service. The sermon topic Sunday night will be "God's Service Station." A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend all of these services.

First Methodist Episcopal Church (Fourth and Spring)

Beginning at 9:15 in the morning the church Sunday school will be in session with programs of worship for the several departments. The increased interest and attendance at the beginning of the school is something to be commended and gives a wholesome suggestion to visitors or late-comers. These opening services which are brief are followed by helpful classes for all ages of pupils. If not in some other school, try coming here and joining this group, the pastor invites.

At the morning worship service the pastor will present the first sermon in the series dealing with the theme of "Spiritual Recovery." The subject for this Sunday is "Religion in the Home." There will be an anthem by the chorus choir besides a special offertory number.

The Epworth League meetings are at 8:30 and are for all young folk who would like to give time to Christian discussion.

The evening service is at 7:30 and in addition to the congregational singing of familiar hymns there will be some special musical attraction each Sunday evening. This Sunday Miss Bernita Pierson will play the organ voluntarily and the offertory numbers. The feature this week is to be provided by the High school girls sextet. The pastor will speak briefly from the subject "To Him That Hath."

Island City Community Church

The preaching service at this church begins at the hour of 9:45 with the pastor, Rev. W. H. Hertzog, in charge of this worship service. The sermon is followed immediately by the Sunday school session which begins at 10:45. Both services are for all the folk of the community and all are urged to join in the service.

Presbyterian Church (Sixth and Washington)

"There is a universal quest to know God. Men through great telescopes have searched for Him in the stars and with microscopes have sought Him in the flowers, but they have seen only His footprints. The fact that God is seen in Jesus Christ is generally conceded. It needs to be impressed upon us that Jesus is seen today best in His followers," said the minister, Rev. J. George Walk in announcing his sermon for 11:00 o'clock Sunday morning, on "Two Formations." The choir will sing the anthem and otherwise assist in the service.

Last Sunday morning during the session of the Bible school, the junior boys of Miss Stoddard's class staged a very interesting play based on the Russian story "Where Love Is, There God Is Also," by Leo Tolstoy. The play was given in two scenes: I. A cold day in winter. II. The night of that same day. A cordial invitation is extended to all who are free to do so, to attend all the services of the church, the Bible school at 9:45 a. m. and also the Young People's Forum at 5:00 o'clock in the old dame next to the church, and the meeting of the High school group of Christian Endeavorers at 6:30 p. m. in the church.

Baptist Church (Sixth and Spring)

The subject for the morning sermon at the Baptist church Sunday will be "Our Great Brother," Mrs. J. P. Scroggin will sing a solo, "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes."

Following the young people's program, the pastor will use as his subject "Our Father."

The young people's topic for discussion is "How to Get Along With Others." Don Gray will be the leader.

At the Thursday evening meeting, the pastor is leading in the study of the Bible school lesson for the coming Sunday. All Bible school teachers are urged to be present for this study.

The subject of the Sunday service will be "Life."

The golden text is, "If thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments" (Matt. 18:17).

The lesson-sermon consists of citations from the authorized version of the Bible, and correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following:

"In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death" (Prov. 12:28).

"Man's privilege at this supreme moment is to love the words of our Master; if man keep my saying, he shall never see death." We must realize the ability of mental might to offset human misconceptions and to replace them with the life which is spiritual, not material" (S. & H. p. 428).

Saturday night Rev. Mr. Carlson, of the Gospel Mission, will bring the message.

Criticism Aimed At Expense And Salary Advances

SALEM, Jan. 19 (AP)—Pointed criticism was directed against the state game commission Thursday in comments on the secretary of state's audit of the commission for the practice of making salary and expense advances to employees. Instances of credit cards on the state for gasoline used in private cars and the expensive system of paying five cents a mile for private cars when considerable traveling is necessary instead of purchasing state-owned cars.

The audit, prepared by the office of the secretary of state, pointed out these abuses with emphasis, using the traveling expenses of E. H. Crockett, publicity and research man for the commission and of Ralph Cowgill, engineer.

During the year ending last September the audit pointed out Crockett's reports showed he traveled 29,776 miles for which he was paid $1488.80 and Cowgill traveled 19,072 miles for which he was paid $953.80.

Sermonette Edited by Harriet R. MacDonald

And this commandment have we from Him, that he who loveth God, love his brother also. I John 4:21.

Who then can fail to recognize the test in public life that determines whether he lives by love from God or from himself? The apostle John puts the test in these unforgettable words: "Hereby know we that we love in God, and he in us, if we love one another. If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar; for this commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God love his brother man also." We fall to live by God's love when we hold any man in contempt, or even dislike him. We may love some more than others. Those who have common interests of necessity draw closer together. Like draws to like. It is quite another matter, however, to hate anyone inside or outside one's own group. And anyone may know when hatred supplants love. In whatever degree this reigns in our hearts we do not live by the love of God, for "he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust." "The mercy of the Lord endureth for ever." In Him there is no variability or shadow of turning. We can do no wrong that will ever cause Him to withdraw His love from us, or turn against us. Until, therefore, we can attain the same love for everyone, even our worst enemy, we do not live by love, a love that is of God, and is eternal.

The Sunday School Lesson in Rhyme by Carlos A. Flummer

JESUS BEGINS HIS MINISTRY Mat. 4:12-25.

From "His own city" by the sea— Capernaum of Galilee— The Savior spread the gospel light 'O'er all that land of darkest night.

As he was walking by the sea, Along the shore of Galilee, Andrew and Peter there He met, As they were fishing with a net.

He said to them, "I follow me, To fish for men, your work shall be." They left their nets without delay To follow Jesus from that day.

A little farther down the shore, The Savior called two helpers more— The faithful sons of Zebedee, Who proved true followers to be.

Throughout all Galilee He went, Exhorting people to repent, And spread the news through all the land That heaven's kingdom was at hand.

He healed the sick, the lame, the blind, And cured disease of every kind; Delivered those who were possessed, And set those free by sin oppressed.

From far and near the people came, When they had heard His wondrous fame, And brought the sick by pain distressed, And they were all with healing blessed.

AT THE LIBERTY

Bing Crosby and Fifi D'Orsay in a scene from "Going Hollywood"

With the opening of Marion Davies' latest, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "Going Hollywood," at the Liberty Theatre, another outstanding musical screen production has been contributed to the theatre public, with Bing Crosby, top notch radio crooner, assisting Miss Davies in the musical meriment.

The new film, directed by Raoul Walsh, possesses a lavish background of merry melodies and scenic spectacles, and is strengthened by a tuneful score composed by Nacio Herb Brown and Arthur Freed.

Unlike many musical numbers introduced from the screen, the Brown and Freed songs were written especially for the dramatic episodes in which they figure within the picture.

Bing Crosby plays the convenient role of a radio crooner who goes to Hollywood to make a motion picture. It places him doubly in an advantageous position to sing several of the numbers in many of the scenes. Also he shares song numbers with the blonde star.

Hollywood and her dazzling film studios provide the locale for the story, which is based upon an original written by Donald Ogden Stewart.

Also, it provides ideal opportunity for the presentation of many dance ensemble spectacles, directed by Mme. Albertina Rasch.
