Annual B. P. O. Elks Ball To Be Held Thursday Evening At Temple Will Be Formal Affair

Formal attire will be the mode Thursday evening at the B. P. O. Elks annual ball, and Elks and their ladies are looking forward with a great deal of interest to the event. Dancing will be enjoyed from 9:30 to one o'clock, with several features planned, such as favors, attractive decorations and good music.

Patriotic Tea Thursday

The Daughters of Union Veterans will entertain members of all patriotic organizations in this city Thursday afternoon at a tea commemorating the birthdays of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. The event will be held at the home of Mrs. Lucie Buell, 2004 Second street, from 2 to 4 o'clock and an interesting program has been arranged by Mrs. Eliza Neukirshner.

Plans were completed Monday when the Daughters met at the home of Mrs. Neukirshner. Women of all patriotic organizations in the city are urged to attend the event.

The group will spend Friday, May 1 at the home of Mrs. Alpha Victor quilting. A potluck lunch will be served at noon.

The birthday anniversary of the president, Mrs. Neukirshner, was observed and Mrs. Buell made a presentation talk and presented her with

Bible Searchers Meet Wednesday

An interesting meeting of the Bible Searchers class has been planned for Wednesday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Jennie Thompson, Mrs. Nellie Robertson, Mrs. H. M. Bradshaw and Mrs. E. D. Jasper are hostesses.

Miss Kopp Honored On Anniversary

Miss Laura Mae Kopp, who attends St. Paul's school for girls at Walla Walla, spent the weekend in La Grande with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Clarence A. Kopp. Saturday afternoon a group of a dozen friends called at the Kopp home and cut birthday cake with Miss Kopp who celebrated her birthday anniversary that day. Spring flowers decorated the serving table during the informal event.

Miss Kopp left this morning to return to school.

Sewing Club To Meet Tomorrow

The Stitch and Chatter Sewing club of the American Legion auxiliary will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Julius Roesch. The meeting has been changed from Thursday to Wednesday because of Washington's birthday. All women who are interested in sewing for needy children are invited to attend.

Life of LaSalle Is Reviewed

The life of La Salle, the explorer, was reviewed Monday before the Art Ramblers club by Mrs. F. A. Epling at the home of Mrs. H. S. Brown. "La Salle" by L. V. Jacks, was the background for the review. Election of officers was held with Mrs. J. K. Wright named as president.

Art Research Club Meets

Renaissance art and movements furnished the theme for the program presented Monday afternoon when the Art Research club met at the home of Mrs. Glen Thompson. Mrs. Arthur Wright completed her series of studies of Renaissance art in Italy. Mrs. John Bennett discussed scholasticism and humanism and compared the two movements. The city of Ravenna also was the subject of discussion and Mrs. C. C. Humphreys discussed St. Helena, the patron saint, and Mrs. H. A. Zurbrick, the churches.

Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Winburn celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at a dinner Saturday evening, with their daughters, Mrs. Carl Sloop and Miss Florence Winburn, entertaining at the Winburn home. A green and pink color scheme was carried out in the attractively appointed table at which places were arranged for the following guests, Messrs. and Mesdames William Winburn, William Banton Sr., Walter Winburn, Frank Poole, William Banton Jr., Henry Winburn, Frank Young, Carl Sloop, and Miss Opeta Winburn. Vernon and Miss Donna Lee Banton, Gerald Young and Misses Florence and Lavana Winburn.

The guests of honor received several gifts in silver.

LEGION IDEA LIKE THAT OF WASHINGTON

can Legion today is that of rehabilitation of our veterans of the World war. An effort to restore to our veterans, disabled in the line of duty, the compensation and hospitalization taken from them by a deluded congress and an ill advised president with the passage of the national economy act last March.

"It is clearly the duty of the government to care for its disabled veterans. It is not a state responsibility, it is an obligation of the federal government," said Washington in one of his addresses.

"The American Legion believes in adequate national defense in peace times as well as in times of war. Preparedness for war discourages war. That was also Washington's belief.

"The American Legion's program of Americanism with education of the youth of the nation to a sublime attitude of good citizenship is another of Washington's great ideas brought strongly forward again down through the times."

Sid Burleigh, prominent attorney and legionnaire, the other principal speaker of the program, spoke of the American Legion as the greatest and largest organization of its kind the world has ever known. "An organization of over a million members," he said. "There are only two requirements of membership in the American Legion," said Burleigh. "Decent moral character and an honorable discharge from the United States army after time of service in the World war."

"The American Legion makes no distinction in its membership between rank or service. The highest ranking general is on a par with the man who served no higher than private. The man who was allowed to fight overseas stands no higher than the man, willing but not so fortunate to get across.

"There are deeper reasons for the American Legion than comradeship and play in which the public usually sees them at conventions, gatherings and the like.

"Though the purposes of the American Legion are many and varied from time to time, the real ideals of the organization are found in the preamble to its constitution which starts out 'For God and Country...'

Fred Reed, commander of La Grande post No. 48 of the American Legion, introduced the speakers. Interesting also was the introduction of members of the drum and bugle corps of the local post, champions of the state, by Harley Richardson. The state, according to this speaker, was organized in 1923 under the leadership of Ray Williams. Since that time it has attended every state convention in the 10 years and, though it did not win the state championship until last year, has always stood high. At the national convention of the American Legion at Portland two years ago it ranked sixth place in competition with scores of corps from all over the United States. It has 600 miles, carrying the name of La Grande to all parts of the state and northwest.

The story of "These Thirty Years" begins 30 years ago in the town of Brookfield. Dave Haines and his aged mother see their farm and everything they own put on the auction block to satisfy a greedy mortgage holder. During the auction, however, Dave becomes inspired by a "horseless carriage" seen tearing down a rutted country road at the neck-breakin' speed of 20 miles per hour. He sees a great future in automobiles and wants Jed Travers, local livery stable owner, to go into business with him. Jed withholds his decision until Dave proves what his "carriage" can do in a cross-country race with a horse.

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Feb. 20 (AP) — Trapped in their beds by a raging fire, ten aged women were burned to death in the infirmary of the Pennsylvania memorial home early today. One other woman received slight burns and four others were rescued unharmed.

Firemen and attendants stood by helpless in 18-below-zero weather as the flames raced through the 18-room, one-story frame building.

The victims, ranging in age from 64 to 94, all widows, daughters or cousins of Civil war veterans, had no opportunity to flee from their hospital beds as the fire started about the middle of the building and swept through the corridors.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP) — New York was frozen in today, held fast in a sheeting of ice and snow that paralyzed the complicated transportation system serving 10,000,000 persons in the metropolitan area. It was the coldest Feb. 20 in 31 years.

PUBLIC INVITED BY FORD DEALER TO SEE PICTURE

"These Thirty Years" To Be Presented at Granada by Perkins Motor

"These Thirty Years," a new talking picture produced by the Ford Motor Company, is to be shown at the Granada theatre, Friday and Saturday, this week. Complimentary tickets are being distributed by the Perkins Motor company under whose auspices the local showings are being held.

The story of "These Thirty Years" begins 30 years ago in the town of Brookfield. Dave Haines and his aged mother see their farm and everything they own put on the auction block to satisfy a greedy mortgage holder. During the auction, however, Dave becomes inspired by a "horseless carriage" seen tearing down a rutted country road at the neck-breakin' speed of 20 miles per hour. He sees a great future in automobiles and wants Jed Travers, local livery stable owner, to go into business with him. Jed withholds his decision until Dave proves what his "carriage" can do in a cross-country race with a horse.

Success favors Dave. He wins the race — also the hand of May Lacombe. They have a son, Bob, who becomes a problem in later life for he favors playing to working, and spends his "dad's" money gambling on the stock market. The "crash" of 1929 catches Bob. He loses everything — including his girl, Ann Bailey, who has been disgusted with him for some time. Jed, the partner of Dave, sticks by Bob, saves his life on one occasion, and finally inspires him to become the man his dad, and Ann, would like him to be.

The players featured in "These Thirty Years" include David Morris, who played in "Come Easy," "Young Sinners," "Cradle Snatchers," and "In the Best of Families"; K. Elmo Lowe, who played the lead in "There's Always Juliet," and other well known plays; Donald McDonald, who played the leads in "Left Bank" and "Here Today," and took part in "Forsaking All Others" featuring Tallulah Bankhead; Frederick Forrester, who played the father in "Animal Kingdom," Alice John, who plays the part of "Mom" in "These Thirty Years" has played for the Theater Guild, Arthur Hopkins, and Charles Frohman.

Railroad Men in Drive To Repeal Part of Act

the transcontinental non-perishable traffic they formerly handled. As a result thousands of railroaders have been forced into unemployment. The western conference committee maintains, backing their statement by statistics, that repeal or modification of the fourth section would mean a return of a substantial part of the transcontinental traffic to the railroads. The addition of only one daily freight train each way across the western states would mean a return of 205 men to work on the railroads in Oregon and a total annual addition to the payroll of $342,000, their statistics show.

The unions endorsed the movement yesterday. J. H. Cunningham, district freight and passenger agent at Walla Walla, represented the Union Pacific company at the meeting, at which I. A. Snider, chairman of the Oregon division of the western conference committee, presented facts about the movement and led the discussion.

Vernon Bull, B. of R. T., was appointed chairman of the committee of which the other members are L. S. Hanford, conductor; C. C. Bull, engineer; B. A. Shank, fireman; J. T. Cook and I. C. Bower, signal department; and Russell Dahlstrom, clerks.

E. O. N. WOMEN HAVE CHOICE OF 4 SPORTS

Women at the Eastern Oregon Normal school are given the choice of Dorothea Weick, star of "Mädchen in Uniform," who has come to America under the Paramount banner. Her first picture here will be the classic, "Cradle Song" coming today to the Liberty theatre.

The world's most complete music libraries were searched to provide a perfect tonal background for Dorothea Weick's first American starring picture, "Cradle Song," which comes today to the Liberty theatre. The play is itself a classic, written by the famous Spanish playwright, G. M. Martinez Sierra. For that reason, care had to be given the musical background. Franke Harling composed and assembled the score, using every possible source.

four physical education activities this term, under the direction of Miss Marjory Horton, director of physical education. Classes are organized in basketball, volleyball, clogging and folk dancing.

"WIFE SAVING STATION"

Each year Turkey and Greece ship us thousands of bales of fine tobaccos—

But why send 4,000 miles for tobacco?

... because spicy, aromatic Turkish is the best seasoning there is for a cigarette.

It adds something to flavor and aroma that no other tobacco can give. Chesterfield uses Turkish tobacco—from Samsoun, Smyrna, Cavalla and Xanthi.

Then it blends and cross-blends them with various kinds of choice home-grown tobaccos in the right balance to give you a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better.

A leaf of Turkish tobacco—smaller than the palm of your hand—800 or more to the pound. There are many thousands of these leaves in each of these bales below, ready for shipment to America.
