KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN

The Baker Democrat-Herald in a very able editorial of recent date raises the question "Are We Headed for Dictatorship?" Mentioning that though such thought may appear or sound like a silly question the neighbor paper goes on to quote from a recent book from the pen of Henry Wallace, present secretary of agriculture, and recognized as one of two or three most close to President Roosevelt and his ideas of administration.

In his book, entitled "America Must Choose", Secretary Wallace says:

"To carry out such a program effectively may require a unanimity of opinion and disciplined action even greater than that which we experienced in the war years 1917-19. The extraordinarily complete control of all of the agencies of public opinion—we shall count less on social discipline voluntarily aroused and more on direct compulsion—regimented opinion—a complete army-like nationalist discipline in peace time."

Read and study the above quoted paragraph again from the book of one rated high and influential in the Roosevelt cabinet. Note the plain prediction, as our contemporary remarks in its editorial, of Hitler methods. Prediction of a socialistic state, the population to be regimented, the press to be censored in defiance of constitutional guarantees and the private affairs of citizens to be controlled by the government.

The Baker-Democrat editorial goes on to say: "Mr. Wallace is speaking of federal direction of agriculture which would tell the farmer what he could grow, how much he could grow, what he could sell it for and everything else. This would be part of a complete program of planned economy. Since millions of people would object to it the scheme is to suppress them. This involves suppression of the rights of free speech, freedom of the press, freedom of assembly and other rights the Anglo-Saxon people won by their blood centuries ago."

We do not think the question of our editorial friend in the next county at all silly or misplaced. It is a question, we believe, quite uppermost in the minds of many thinking people of this nation today, in small communities and large. And though we do not believe that such a condition will ever be allowed to come to pass in this country of a free minded people, who sincerely and devoutly love their freedom and the traditions of their country that have made such freedom possible—we do believe it is well and sound minded that they study the question and have it well before them in these times.

It does not seem possible that American citizens, in another few years, will have accepted a program which makes them exist as tax-paying slaves and machines for the benefit of the government, without will or opportunity to do or be otherwise. It cannot be that we will discard the fundamental doctrine of our country that government exists for the individual, and that our public officials are servants and administrative officers of the people, rather than their overlords and masters. Yet we do emphasize however, it is well at this particular time, we bear these dangers in mind.

Snow Flake Recipes

Let's look a good breakfast in the face. A half-grapefruit and a cup of coffee may be alright as far as they go, but don't expect to arouse a lot of enthusiasm on the part of your husband by limiting the menu to just those items. Men need sustenance, and they need it especially at breakfast because they are inclined to go easy on the lunches.

Remember there isn't a man in captivity who can live without eggs—and even if he could, he wouldn't want to. The wife who can make a good omelet needn't worry much about her husband straying from the fold. Here's an omelet which we can recommend as a first-class husband-holder:

Fluffy Cheese Omelet
4 eggs, 1/2 cup hot milk, 8 Snow Flake crackers, rolled fine, 1/2 tsp salt, 1/2 cup grated American cheese, 2 tbsp. butter.

Separate eggs and beat yolks until lemon colored. Pour hot milk over finely rolled crackers and beat until creamy. Season add 1/4 cup of cheese and combine with beaten egg yolks. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Heat butter in heavy frying pan. Pour in omelet and cook, covered, over very low flame until barely set. Fold, sprinkle with remaining cheese and slip on to a hot platter. Serve at once, 6 portions.

And still another quick breakfast dish which always goes over big with the men is apple fritters. The following recipe will serve six people easily, yet it requires only two large apples or three small ones. It's the Snow Flake soda crackers, you see, which make the apples go further than nature intended:

Apple Fritters
1 cup hot milk, 12 Snow Flake soda crackers, 1/2 tsp salt, 1 tsp. baking powder, 2 eggs, 2 cups finely chopped cooking apples, powdered sugar or foamy sauce.

Pour hot milk over finely rolled crackers and salt, and beat until smooth. Cool; add baking powder and beaten eggs. Stir in apples. Drop by spoonfuls in deep hot fat (350° or 370° F) and fry for 2 to 3 minutes. Serve with powdered sugar or foamy sauce, 6 portions.

Mock Sweetbreads
1 lb. ground stewing veal, 2 tbsp. ground suet, 9 Snow Flake soda crackers, 1 egg, 1/2 cup milk, salt and pepper, 1 tsp. butter, 1/2 cup water. Mix ground veal and suet, crackers, slightly beaten egg, milk and seasoning. Form into small patties, put in a baking dish, dot with butter, and pour water over all. Cover and bake 30 minutes in a hot oven (475° F). Uncover and brown. Serve with white sauce. Six portions.

Spinach Loaf
1 1/2 cups chopped, cooked spinach, 9 Snow Flake soda crackers, crumbled fine, 1 cup grated cheese, 1 egg, well beaten, 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. pepper, 1 tsp. lemon juice, 1 cup hot white sauce.

Combine ingredients (except white sauce) in order given and place in buttered loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (375° F) about 20 minutes. Unmold and pour hot white sauce around the loaf. Six portions.

Bold Colors Mark Wardrobe For Men

By Harry McCarthy, of Trotters
Colors for men will be bolder and stronger this spring. Very soon there will be new spring suits abroad, in blues and grays, and the lighter tweed shades. With them will go the darker, more boldly colored shirts, plain and in smart, careful patterns. Neckties, in turn, will be lighter in tone but in colors to harmonize.

Hats, too, tend toward the darker shades, such as tobacco and Burgundy brown and deep blue gray. Men's fashions are no longer the monotonous tones that they were in the past unimaginative decade, they have taken on a dashing flare.

'LITTLE WOMEN' IS AUTHENTIC PICTORIZATION

Authentic in every detail, the costumes in RKO-Radio's dramatization of Louisa M. Alcott's classic, "Little Women," are exactly as they were in that period. It is like a style show of the time to view "Little Women" which will be shown at the Liberty theatre Mar. 8, 9 and 10.

Those directing the production went to much expense and a great deal of minute research in order to be sure the settings and costumes were typical.

As in the original story, Jo's double romance, first with Laurie, the rich boy next door, and later with the lovable Fritz Bhaer, provides the main plot, while the romances of Meg and Amy and the life and tragic death of Beth, the kindly deeds of the mother, Marmee, the kind heart of grandfather Mr. Laurence and the grumblings of tyrannical old Aunt March contribute the counterplots.

Katharine Hepburn enacts the role of Jo, Douglas Montgomery is Laurie, Paul Lukas as Bhaer, Frances Dee as Meg, Joan Bennett is Amy, Jean Parker is Beth, Spring Byington is Marmee, Henry Stephenson appears as Mr. Laurence and Edna Mae Oliver portrays Aunt March.
