ANNIVERSARY OF LEGION OF CELEBRATED (Continued From Page One)

General White, one of the four founders of the American Legion in this in 1919, officer in command of the national guard in this area, pointed out that "the men who served at Antietam, in the wilderness, and at Gettysburg, saved our country from division and possible dissolution." "Yet how small a service was that," he continued, "compared with the service they performed in the years that followed." "The Grand Army of the Republic is forming now for its last muster. Inevitably, as human life goes, the American Legion, the ex-service men of today, will come one day to their own last muster. And when that day comes the record of the American Legion can be written in one word—the word 'service'." General White blamed "unscrupulous politicians" for connecting the word "bonus" with the legion, instead of the word "service." He denounced those who have "used" the legion for their "own selfish ends," and who thus have brought criticism upon the ex-service men.

unday with frost in Eastern Oregon tonight, and somewhat cooler weather generally. The minimum this morning was 40 above, the same as yesterday, but the mercury did not climb as rapidly as during the last week, and it was doubtful if today's high would go much beyond the 60 mark. There were some traces of new snow this morning on the higher slopes of Mount Emily.

An Engine That Breathes A Bird's eye view of the new super-speed train of the Union Pacific ready to leave the shops on its first test run. The nose of the high-speed, light-weight, streamlined Union Pacific train has a pair of nostrils, covered on the outside with a grille work, similar to the usual automobile, with an internal shutter arrangement for the control of air flow produced by huge steel fans. The grille work is streamlined into the general design of the train. The air intakes and their apparatus act to cool the radiators of the 600 horse-power, 12-cylinder engine. These radiators are slung under the roof of the engine room which is immediately behind the train car shown in the top foreground of the picture. Air for the ventilation system is also taken in at the front of the train and then is passed through the filtration process and into the air-conditioning apparatus which is installed throughout all the passenger cars. The triumphal national tour of the new Union Pacific streamlined train will bring it to La Grande on Monday, April 2, from 7:30 a. m. to 9:30 a. m., at which time it will be on exhibit at the station. Iowa produces more popcorn and (mothy seed than any other state or foreign country, the yearly yields being, respectively, 35,000,000 pounds and 750,000,000 bushels. Dated at La Grande, Union county, Oregon, this 23rd day of February, 1934. JESSE BRESHEARS, Sheriff of Union County, Oregon. February 23, March 2, 9, 16

TODAY IN BRIEF, IN AND AROUND OREGON AS CHRONICLED BY THE DAILY LEASED WIRE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS DANA RETURNS TO JOURNAL PORTLAND, Mar. 16 (AP)—Marshall N. Dana, for nearly eight months regional advisor for the four Pacific northwest states in the public works administration program, has returned to active duty as associate editor of the Oregon Journal. He was granted a leave by the Journal at the time of his appointment to the PWA post by President Roosevelt last year. ASHLAND WOMAN KILLED ROSEBURG, Ore. Mar. 16 (AP)—Mrs. H. A. Ferguson, 75, a resident of Ashland, was killed this morning in an automobile accident a mile south of Sutherlin. The car was driven by her husband and occupied also by her two sisters. TO LET NEW CONTRACTS PORTLAND, Mar. 16 (AP)—Contracts for one of the main construction jobs on the Bonneville dam will be awarded about May 15, a month after the government issues specifications for cofferdams, excavation and concrete placement for the main dam that will block the unretarded flow of the mighty Columbia river. TAB BLAST CAUSES FIRE SALEM, Mar. 16 (AP)—An explosion of hot tar in the Grey and Wagner billiard parlors here early this morning, resulted in a fire which caused damage amounting to between $4,000 and $5,000, persons connected with the establishment estimated. The equipment and goods were said to be fairly well covered by insurance. CREPE DANCE BROCK TRIMMED WITH SATIN WASHINGTON (AP)—Peggy and Mildred English, the only twins on this season's debutante list at the capital, have identical dance frocks of the palest pink crepe, trimmed simply with braided satin of the same shade which outlines the neckline and fashions the belts.

Be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.—Ephesians 4: 32.

NO NEED FOR ANY NEW 'ISM' Events of the last year certainly have given us an education in the uses to which letters of the alphabet can be put, what with the RFC, the PWA, the CCC, the CWA, the HOLC, and so on. But there is one group of three letters that has won more publicity than any of these, and that very profitably might be dropped now, for a while at least—the group ISM.

We have wasted enough energy, of late, arguing the pros and cons of capitalism, socialism, communism, fascism and heaven knows what other kind of ism, to bridge the Atlantic. It has got us, as far as anyone can see, precisely nowhere, and it's about time we turned to something else.

It is perfectly foolish to say that American democracy has failed. We have hardly, so far, made a whole-souled attempt to make it work. To let the troubles of the last few years persuade us that we must find our salvation in some fan or other—in socialism, fascism, or what you please—is to take the lazy man's way out. It is to hunt for some formula which will relieve us of the necessity of working and sweating and thinking our way out of the mess into which we got ourselves.

To work together to improve what we have, to find some way of working and living together which will be the best thing for the greatest number of people, and at the same time developing all this within the framework of our existing institutions—here is a cause worth all our brains and our energy. If we try it whole-heartedly, and fail, then—and not before then—we can start worrying about the lems.

SICK SAMUEL SLIPS SENTRIES Poor old Samuel Insull Sr., who is wanted in the United States to answer to some embezzlement charges—some say it was a "grand" theft, put one over on the Oregon government yesterday when, probably disguised as a woman, he slipped through one of those famous police cordons.

Possibly the Greek sentries figured that the sick old woman who passed through their ranks—Samuel has been sick, you know—had been begging for medicine or something, or just sharin' miseries with Samuel. Or possibly the sick old woman may have dropped her purse just as she went by the cordon.

Anyway, sick ol', slick ol' Samuel slipped one over on the Greeks. We wonder if they "have a name for that," too. Maybe it's a naughty, naughty one, who knows?

A WORTHY ORGANIZATION The American Legion here, on the eve of the celebration of the 15th anniversary of the national organization's founding, agreed to sponsor a drive to help the Salvation Army chapter handle La Grande's transient problem. Which is one more very worthy endeavor that this veterans' organization has added to its long list of community services. The legion continues to grow from year to year, both in membership and helpfulness to the nation, and we wish to congratulate them not only for this latest movement, but for all the "good turns" they have done in the last 15 years.

"Insull Dons Skirt And Slips" says heading of story in Pendleton's East Oregonian regarding recent getaway of much wanted financier. The old boy may be lacking in many desirable characteristics but at least he retains some old time modesty, according to our neighbor headwriter.

The best team won at the Union tournament. La Grande won all her games by convincing scores, defeating Nyssa, Imbler, Haines and Baker in order. Her season performance showed that the tournament victories were no accident. She will go to the state tournament backed by the good wishes of the entire district. The Baker team did better than was to have been expected in getting as far as the finals. A combination of new, comparatively inexperienced players, a new coach, sickness, injuries and a poor gymnasium in which to practice gave the local high school the least satisfactory season in several years. Better luck next time!—Baker Democrat.

GOVERNMENT 'FIGHTING MAD' AT HIS DASH (Continued from Page One) 4 p. m. Wednesday. Previously, authorities had indicated they believed Insull fled from his home and Greek jurisdiction early Thursday morning. The ministry of marine announcement was believed to have marked the close of one of the most widespread police searches in the history of the nation. "The government was represented as 'fighting mad' because 'last week's invalid' put it in an embarrassing light by his secret maritime dash. The public also was nettled.
