Mrs. Faye Miller Is Elected President La Grande Council P. T. A. For The Coming Year

Mrs. Faye Miller, prominent member of the parent teacher association in La Grande, was yesterday elected to the presidency of the La Grande Council at the annual meeting of the council held at the Sacajawea Inn. To be associated with her in official positions will be Mrs. Lewis Wetzel, vice president and Mrs. L. A. Kennedy, secretary-treasurer. The new officers will be installed on Monday, May 7 by Mrs. Klesner, the state president, who will be a distinguished guest in La Grande at that time. Her visit will be the inspiration for an all day meeting at the Sacajawea with a school of instruction being the main feature of the day's deliberations.

In addition to the election of officers, reports by various chairmen of the work of the year just closing were given. Mrs. O. B. Maxam explained the standard blanks, which each group must forward. Mrs. Fred Reed, chairman of the committee on publicity, reported on the year's work in this direction. Included in Mrs. Reed's report was the local announcement of the great honor and recognition which has come to the Rivera association. Each association prepares a booklet each year in which is kept an outline, from published reports, of the work done during the period. Out of the hundreds of booklets in the state each year, eight are chosen which are made a part of a display at the national convention. The book kept and submitted by the Rivera school was one of the eight chosen for the state of Oregon.

Ackerman P. T. A. Meets Thursday

The J. H. Ackerman Parent Teacher association is scheduled to meet Thursday evening at the Normal school at 8 o'clock. An interesting and instructive program has been arranged by Mrs. Glen Wagner, chairman of the child study club of the association. This club has successfully conducted 16 meetings of the study groups this year as compared to the customary five which are required for a standard association. Speakers to appear on the program are: Mrs. Herbert Evans whose subject is "Recreation" and which is quite apropos now in view of the summer playground which project is so much before the community's attention at the present time; Prof. E. L. Skeen, who will speak of the adolescent child and the parents' responsibility; Fred Kiddie, who will discuss the sales tax.

Officers for the coming year will be elected at this meeting and the request is made that all members and officers be present and an invitation is extended to interested friends.

Wakelita Club With Mrs. Richardson

Mrs. Joel Richardson used the spring flowers which are so lovely now for the decorations about her home Monday, when she had for her guests members of the Wakelita Bridge club. Mrs. James O'Neal was a guest during the afternoon. Scores after a few hours of playing showed Mrs. A. E. Hug to have made high and Mrs. W. E. McClure, second, and each received a prize. Mrs. Richardson served.

Announcements concerning the meeting next Monday afternoon will be made later.

Gatusi Campfire Group in Meeting

The Gatusi Camp Fire group had an interesting meeting at the home of their guardian, Mrs. Ray Williams. Plans were made for a swimming party Monday at the Cove pool. Mrs. Stella Jean Ingle presented a very good book report while Miss Jean Davies was in charge of the entertainment for the afternoon.

Liquor Control Law Is Scored By Group

Liquor problem. "Everything the wets promised us has proved a fraud," Dr. McBride said.

"They gave us only one thing," he declared. "They said they would bring liquor out in the open and they certainly did."

By unanimous rising vote the delegates requested preparation of a bill for the next legislature "requiring the liquor traffic bear all expense of crime and damages associated with the traffic."

They also requested a law directing the state to tabulate crime statistics associated with liquor traffic in Oregon, and requested publication of these figures annually.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Anti-Liquor League, J. P. Newell, of Portland, was elected president of the society. Other officers will be chosen within two weeks.

The convention authorized appointment of a committee to draft a bill banning liquor advertising by manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers.

An intensive drive for temperance education among the youth of the state was planned.

Compulsory insurance of all automobiles was advocated. C. C. Chapman, of Portland, said "that is the only way we will get protection from drunken drivers for property damage."

COVE PERSONALS
The school children entered in the oratorical contest, Thursday with great interest, and of the 3d, 4th and 5th grades, Jean Williamson was first in the humorous reading, and Ines Towle in non-humorous. For the 6th, seventh and eighth grades, Georgia Lindsay won first place in the humorous and Winnifred Baker in non-humorous.

Mrs. L. J. Chadwick and Mrs. L. E. Anderson were hostesses to the Ladies Guild at the Chadwick home Thursday. This was the first social meeting since before Lent, and the party was greatly enjoyed. This was the annual meeting and officers were elected: Mrs. Erma Barker, president; Mrs. A. G. Conklin, vice president; Mrs. Louis Presto, secretary-treasurer. The secretary reported the year's work. In the absence of the president and the vice president, Mrs. Conklin presided and led the devotionals. Bridge was played at four tables with Mrs. A. G. Conklin winning high score and Mrs. Mangren low. Guests of the club were Mrs.

Ernie Miller, and Mrs. Virginia Bauer. Two members who have been absent for some time were present, they were Mrs. McIntyre and Mrs. Lawson. Daffodils were used for favors. Mrs. Price, Mrs. Dunnigan and Mrs. Lincoln will be the next hostesses at Camp Yew Bow on Friday, April 20.

Mrs. Helene Lincoln, who went to Portland several weeks ago to stay in definitely, returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. R. S. Comstock was given a "surprise" party Tuesday evening, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hefty, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Conklin, Mrs. A. G. Conklin, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rees, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mills, Mrs. E. E. Cood and Mrs. Chris Bertsch. Bridge was played at four tables, Mrs. Mills and Mr. Lawson winning high scores.

A birthday cake was a feature of the refreshments.

Thursday was the annual meeting for the Dorcas society at the home of Mrs. Lee Childers, an all-day meeting with a potluck dinner. Mrs. Childers was elected president, Mrs. Alice McClain, vice president, Ruth White secretary, Mrs. Jas. Hoatson treasurer, and Mrs. Earl Baker, chaplain.

The work of the day was sewing caps for rugs. In the afternoon a missionary meeting was held, with talks on missions by Mrs. Earl Baker, Mrs. Eddie Hartley and Mrs. Childers. LUCKIES are All-Ways kind to your throat

— so round, so firm, so fully packed no loose ends

We like to tell about the finer tobaccos in Luckies—the choicest Turkish and domestic, and only the mild, clear-center leaves—they taste better—than "It's toasted"—for throat protection. But we're just as proud of the way Luckies are made. They're so round and firm, so free from loose ends. That's why Luckies always "keep in condition"—do not dry out. Luckies are always—in all-ways—kind to your throat.
