

PERSONALS

Here Yesterday—
Rev. R. C. Lee, of Union, was a visitor in La Grande yesterday. He is pastor of the Methodist church there.

Return Home—
Mrs. Bob Coy and young son, Robert Jr., have returned to their home following several days visit in Idaho and Montana points.

To Pendleton—
Mrs. H. M. Bradshaw and Mrs. E. E. Beatty are spending the day in Pendleton visiting Mrs. Beatty's daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Hettick.

From Imbler—
Charles Noyes was a business visitor here yesterday from his home at Imbler where he is a student in the high school.

Returns—
Mrs. Grace Mollitor has returned from Walls Walla, where she has been the past week visiting with friends.

In Pendleton—
Mrs. C. R. Hibberd was in Pendleton the latter part of the week, going to attend the Sickler funeral.

Returns From Pasco—
Miss Donna Peik returned home Monday after spending an enjoyable weekend in Pasco, visiting her friend, Miss Hazel Snyder. Miss Snyder is a former resident of La Grande.

Returns Home—
Floyd Sherwood who has been seriously ill at the Grande Ronde hospital for the last several weeks, was removed to his home yesterday, and is recovering nicely, it is reported.

Here—
H. F. White was a visitor in La Grande Saturday from his home at North Powder.

At Milton—
Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Norton spent Sunday visiting Mrs. Norton's sister, Mrs. Harrison, at Milton.

On Business—
A. N. Stomedahl was a business visitor in La Grande yesterday from his home on the Catherine Creek road above Union.

Three nursery schools were opened at Pittsburg, Kas., as part of the federal relief program.

D. A. Cleveland, Washka, Tex., citrus grower, has a collection of birds and eggs believed to represent every known species in the western hemisphere.

The young or larvae of the gypsy moth, forest pest, have been found riding the wind 2,000 feet high.

Robert Bruere, chairman of the textile code advisory committee; David C. Coyle, of the public works administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, department of agriculture economists; Alice Barrows of the education bureau of the interior department; and Lawrence Todd, representative of the soviet news agency.

Wirt said Miss Kneeland had quoted Tugwell as having said he "would have closed the grain and stock ex- change if he had the power," and that he termed last summer's business improvement "a speculative spree."

Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

Speaker Rainey's name figured, too. Wirt quoting Westervelt as having said "he had asked Rainey what congress was going to do, and Rainey replied that congress would assemble, pass certain laws, stay in session until May or June, and within a month or six weeks the government would take over some industries" and then I don't know what will happen."

Those cited as present at the September dinner were: Robert Bruere, chairman of the textile code advisory committee; David C. Coyle, of the public works administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, department of agriculture economists; Alice Barrows of the education bureau of the interior department; and Lawrence Todd, representative of the soviet news agency.

The dinner was in the Barrows home in Virginia.

Wirt said Miss Kneeland had quoted Tugwell as having said he "would have closed the grain and stock ex- change if he had the power," and that he termed last summer's business improvement "a speculative spree."

Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

Speaker Rainey's name figured, too. Wirt quoting Westervelt as having said "he had asked Rainey what congress was going to do, and Rainey replied that congress would assemble, pass certain laws, stay in session until May or June, and within a month or six weeks the government would take over some industries" and then I don't know what will happen."

Those cited as present at the September dinner were: Robert Bruere, chairman of the textile code advisory committee; David C. Coyle, of the public works administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, department of agriculture economists; Alice Barrows of the education bureau of the interior department; and Lawrence Todd, representative of the soviet news agency.

The dinner was in the Barrows home in Virginia.

Wirt said Miss Kneeland had quoted Tugwell as having said he "would have closed the grain and stock ex- change if he had the power," and that he termed last summer's business improvement "a speculative spree."

Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

Speaker Rainey's name figured, too. Wirt quoting Westervelt as having said "he had asked Rainey what congress was going to do, and Rainey replied that congress would assemble, pass certain laws, stay in session until May or June, and within a month or six weeks the government would take over some industries" and then I don't know what will happen."

spent the past winter at Laguna Beach, Cal., and in Portland while her daughter drove down to Portland for her and visited through vacation week.

Returns—
Mrs. Grace Mollitor has returned from Walls Walla, where she has been the past week visiting with friends.

In Pendleton—
Mrs. C. R. Hibberd was in Pendleton the latter part of the week, going to attend the Sickler funeral.

Returns From Pasco—
Miss Donna Peik returned home Monday after spending an enjoyable weekend in Pasco, visiting her friend, Miss Hazel Snyder. Miss Snyder is a former resident of La Grande.

Returns Home—
Floyd Sherwood who has been seriously ill at the Grande Ronde hospital for the last several weeks, was removed to his home yesterday, and is recovering nicely, it is reported.

Here—
H. F. White was a visitor in La Grande Saturday from his home at North Powder.

At Milton—
Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Norton spent Sunday visiting Mrs. Norton's sister, Mrs. Harrison, at Milton.

On Business—
A. N. Stomedahl was a business visitor in La Grande yesterday from his home on the Catherine Creek road above Union.

Three nursery schools were opened at Pittsburg, Kas., as part of the federal relief program.

D. A. Cleveland, Washka, Tex., citrus grower, has a collection of birds and eggs believed to represent every known species in the western hemisphere.

The young or larvae of the gypsy moth, forest pest, have been found riding the wind 2,000 feet high.

Robert Bruere, chairman of the textile code advisory committee; David C. Coyle, of the public works administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, department of agriculture economists; Alice Barrows of the education bureau of the interior department; and Lawrence Todd, representative of the soviet news agency.

The dinner was in the Barrows home in Virginia.

Wirt said Miss Kneeland had quoted Tugwell as having said he "would have closed the grain and stock ex- change if he had the power," and that he termed last summer's business improvement "a speculative spree."

Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

Speaker Rainey's name figured, too. Wirt quoting Westervelt as having said "he had asked Rainey what congress was going to do, and Rainey replied that congress would assemble, pass certain laws, stay in session until May or June, and within a month or six weeks the government would take over some industries" and then I don't know what will happen."

Those cited as present at the September dinner were: Robert Bruere, chairman of the textile code advisory committee; David C. Coyle, of the public works administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, department of agriculture economists; Alice Barrows of the education bureau of the interior department; and Lawrence Todd, representative of the soviet news agency.

The dinner was in the Barrows home in Virginia.

Wirt said Miss Kneeland had quoted Tugwell as having said he "would have closed the grain and stock ex- change if he had the power," and that he termed last summer's business improvement "a speculative spree."

Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

Speaker Rainey's name figured, too. Wirt quoting Westervelt as having said "he had asked Rainey what congress was going to do, and Rainey replied that congress would assemble, pass certain laws, stay in session until May or June, and within a month or six weeks the government would take over some industries" and then I don't know what will happen."

Those cited as present at the September dinner were: Robert Bruere, chairman of the textile code advisory committee; David C. Coyle, of the public works administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, department of agriculture economists; Alice Barrows of the education bureau of the interior department; and Lawrence Todd, representative of the soviet news agency.

The dinner was in the Barrows home in Virginia.

Wirt said Miss Kneeland had quoted Tugwell as having said he "would have closed the grain and stock ex- change if he had the power," and that he termed last summer's business improvement "a speculative spree."

Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

Speaker Rainey's name figured, too. Wirt quoting Westervelt as having said "he had asked Rainey what congress was going to do, and Rainey replied that congress would assemble, pass certain laws, stay in session until May or June, and within a month or six weeks the government would take over some industries" and then I don't know what will happen."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THE GREENLAND WHALE HAS A MOUTH FIFTEEN FEET IN LENGTH, BUT ITS THROAT IS ONLY ONE AND ONE-HALF INCHES ACROSS.

IN carrying an average-weight person a mile, it is estimated that the feet endure a stress of 350 tons. But Pavlova's performances were much more strenuous than walking, and 25 miles of walking puts a total burden of 6250 tons on the feet.

good start. His testimony at least shows the necessity of making a thorough investigation.

Toward the close of today's session, Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

Speaker Rainey's name figured, too. Wirt quoting Westervelt as having said "he had asked Rainey what congress was going to do, and Rainey replied that congress would assemble, pass certain laws, stay in session until May or June, and within a month or six weeks the government would take over some industries" and then I don't know what will happen."

Those cited as present at the September dinner were: Robert Bruere, chairman of the textile code advisory committee; David C. Coyle, of the public works administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, department of agriculture economists; Alice Barrows of the education bureau of the interior department; and Lawrence Todd, representative of the soviet news agency.

The dinner was in the Barrows home in Virginia.

Wirt said Miss Kneeland had quoted Tugwell as having said he "would have closed the grain and stock ex- change if he had the power," and that he termed last summer's business improvement "a speculative spree."

Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

Speaker Rainey's name figured, too. Wirt quoting Westervelt as having said "he had asked Rainey what congress was going to do, and Rainey replied that congress would assemble, pass certain laws, stay in session until May or June, and within a month or six weeks the government would take over some industries" and then I don't know what will happen."

Those cited as present at the September dinner were: Robert Bruere, chairman of the textile code advisory committee; David C. Coyle, of the public works administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, department of agriculture economists; Alice Barrows of the education bureau of the interior department; and Lawrence Todd, representative of the soviet news agency.

The dinner was in the Barrows home in Virginia.

Wirt said Miss Kneeland had quoted Tugwell as having said he "would have closed the grain and stock ex- change if he had the power," and that he termed last summer's business improvement "a speculative spree."

Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

Speaker Rainey's name figured, too. Wirt quoting Westervelt as having said "he had asked Rainey what congress was going to do, and Rainey replied that congress would assemble, pass certain laws, stay in session until May or June, and within a month or six weeks the government would take over some industries" and then I don't know what will happen."

Those cited as present at the September dinner were: Robert Bruere, chairman of the textile code advisory committee; David C. Coyle, of the public works administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, department of agriculture economists; Alice Barrows of the education bureau of the interior department; and Lawrence Todd, representative of the soviet news agency.

The dinner was in the Barrows home in Virginia.

Wirt said Miss Kneeland had quoted Tugwell as having said he "would have closed the grain and stock ex- change if he had the power," and that he termed last summer's business improvement "a speculative spree."

Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

PAIN IS INJURIOUS TO THE DATE PALM! THESE TREES PREFER TO GET THEIR MOISTURE THROUGH THE ROOTS, FROM UNDERGROUND STREAMS.

PAVLOVA, FAMOUS BALLET DANCER, COVERED A DISTANCE OF TWENTY-FIVE MILES DURING EACH OF HER MAJOR STAGE PERFORMANCES.

IN carrying an average-weight person a mile, it is estimated that the feet endure a stress of 350 tons. But Pavlova's performances were much more strenuous than walking, and 25 miles of walking puts a total burden of 6250 tons on the feet.

good start. His testimony at least shows the necessity of making a thorough investigation.

Toward the close of today's session, Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

Speaker Rainey's name figured, too. Wirt quoting Westervelt as having said "he had asked Rainey what congress was going to do, and Rainey replied that congress would assemble, pass certain laws, stay in session until May or June, and within a month or six weeks the government would take over some industries" and then I don't know what will happen."

Those cited as present at the September dinner were: Robert Bruere, chairman of the textile code advisory committee; David C. Coyle, of the public works administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, department of agriculture economists; Alice Barrows of the education bureau of the interior department; and Lawrence Todd, representative of the soviet news agency.

The dinner was in the Barrows home in Virginia.

Wirt said Miss Kneeland had quoted Tugwell as having said he "would have closed the grain and stock ex- change if he had the power," and that he termed last summer's business improvement "a speculative spree."

Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

Speaker Rainey's name figured, too. Wirt quoting Westervelt as having said "he had asked Rainey what congress was going to do, and Rainey replied that congress would assemble, pass certain laws, stay in session until May or June, and within a month or six weeks the government would take over some industries" and then I don't know what will happen."

Those cited as present at the September dinner were: Robert Bruere, chairman of the textile code advisory committee; David C. Coyle, of the public works administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, department of agriculture economists; Alice Barrows of the education bureau of the interior department; and Lawrence Todd, representative of the soviet news agency.

The dinner was in the Barrows home in Virginia.

Wirt said Miss Kneeland had quoted Tugwell as having said he "would have closed the grain and stock ex- change if he had the power," and that he termed last summer's business improvement "a speculative spree."

Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

Speaker Rainey's name figured, too. Wirt quoting Westervelt as having said "he had asked Rainey what congress was going to do, and Rainey replied that congress would assemble, pass certain laws, stay in session until May or June, and within a month or six weeks the government would take over some industries" and then I don't know what will happen."

Those cited as present at the September dinner were: Robert Bruere, chairman of the textile code advisory committee; David C. Coyle, of the public works administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, department of agriculture economists; Alice Barrows of the education bureau of the interior department; and Lawrence Todd, representative of the soviet news agency.

The dinner was in the Barrows home in Virginia.

Wirt said Miss Kneeland had quoted Tugwell as having said he "would have closed the grain and stock ex- change if he had the power," and that he termed last summer's business improvement "a speculative spree."

Wirt suggested that the committee summon Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, and W. I. Westervelt, Chicago business man formerly with the farm administration. They, Wirt asserted, could throw more light on the alleged plotting to bring communism.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 10 (AP)—Speaker Rainey today denied to newspapermen that he ever had told William I. Westervelt that "the government was going to take over some industries."

"KEY" STRIKE ENDS; MEN TO RESUME WORK (Continued From Page One)

settled but mediators looked anxiously today toward a threatened walkout in the vital tool and die industry.

William Collins, American Federation of labor leader, announced last night that striking employes of the Motor Products corporation had agreed to return to work this morning at a 10 per cent increase in wages, this dispute involved 1000 strikers and 4000 others laid off because of the walkout.

The strike in the Motor Products plant, which makes auto parts, had thrown 18,000 men out of work in the Hudson factory yesterday because of inability to get materials. The Hudson factory was expected to resume work late today or tomorrow.

A threat of a strike of tool and die-makers who want a 20 per cent wage boost became the next hurdle for the peace-makers. The Mechanics Educational Society of America may call these workers out on Thursday in Detroit, Pontiac and Flint if the job shops in which they are employed refuse to meet the demand.

Union estimates of the number of men who may be directly involved by this strike run as high as 18,000. Matthew S. Smith, general secretary of the union, said its effect would be felt throughout the automobile industry.

FIND IT HERE Copy for this Column must be in by 9 a. m.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank all who assisted during the illness and death of our mother, Mrs. Anna Schomann.

Lady Esther Toilettries at Moon Drug Co. 3-17-34

SCHOOL CHILDREN You can get beach paper for school at the Observer. Now 2 pads for 9-14-t f.

PICTURE FRAMES Frames to fit every style and type of picture are now on special sale at Richardson's Art and Gift Shop. You will save by having your pictures framed now at Richardson's. 4-5-t f

Professional house and window cleaner. Windows cleaned by day, week or month. Phone 559 J. 4-6-1 mp.

Ask us how to obtain an $8.50 guaranteed Hammond Electric clock for $2.39. Moon Drug Co. 3-17-34

Nyal Anacid Powder for stomach troubles, 50c. Moon Drug Co. 3-17-34

WHAT YOU HAVE BEEN WAITING FOR A shipment of the finest Gold Fish that have ever been shown in La Grande has just been received by Richardson's Art and Gift Shop and are now on sale at from 15 cents to 35 cents each. You will enjoy seeing the unusual fish. Fantails, Black Telescopes, Nymphs, Comets and Calico Fish. You are invited to visit Richardson's and see these beautiful fish. 4-5-t f.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been duly appointed by the County Court of the State of Oregon for Union County, administrator of the estate of Guy M. Bryant, deceased, and has qualified as such.

People want to know these days. They want to BE SURE. An examination with the Radionic Instrument leaves nothing to human guesswork and experiment. It is modern, scientific, accurate! And this examination is FREE to any sick person!

Dr. J. E. Woodell Radionic - Chiropractic - Electrotherapy West Jacobsen Bldg. Phone M 104 Res. 190W

NOTICE TO THE HEIRS OF HENRY OVERMAN (DECEASED) To the heirs of Henry Overman and any and all persons claiming an interest in the mining claims herein- after mentioned by or through him. CREDITORS: You are hereby notified that the annual assessment work for the years extending from July first 1930 to July first 1933 has been done on the following claims, situated in the Camp Carson mining district Union County, Oregon, The Night Hawk, Night Hawk Extension, Blue Bird No. 1 and Blue Bird No. 2 commonly referred to as the Grande Ronde placers, making in all a total of ($245.02) two hundred and forty-five dollars and two cents due the undersigned for work and money advanced on the above mentioned interest of Henry Overman by the undersigned.

Said work was done within the legal time set by the statutes of the United States and filed for records in Union County, Ore., and that the undersigned co-owner did the work and paid the lien, and that you are to pay to the undersigned as re- quired by statutes the said sums of money so specified above within (90) ninety days from the date of the serving of this notice upon you, or within (90) ninety days after the last publication of this notice in the official paper of Union county, Oregon, and if you fail or refuse so to pay said sums and thus contribute your portion of said costs of said annual labor, and so thereafter your interests and any and all interests which you or any of you have therein will become the property of the undersigned, your co-owner there-in.

WM. BURG, Co-owner, Mar. 20, 27, Apr. 3, 10.

"Why Am I Sick?" So few sick people know why they're suffering! They may know the symptoms, but the cause is pure guess! Some diseases are the effect of any one of several different causes! People want to know these days. They want to BE SURE. An examination with the Radionic Instrument leaves nothing to human guesswork and experiment. It is modern, scientific, accurate! And this examination is FREE to any sick person!

Dr. J. E. Woodell Radionic - Chiropractic - Electrotherapy West Jacobsen Bldg. Phone M 104 Res. 190W

BUS SERVICE For WALLOWA, ENTERPRISE, JOSEPH and WAY POINTS. Leave La Grande, Daily 4:10 P. M.

For PENDLETON, Way Points Leave La Grande, Daily 10:30 A. M.

U. P. Stage Depot, 1308 Adams Phone MAIN 49

Judith Lane by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Judith Lane knows that her husband's law partner, Morton Lampere, plans to wreck her old employer's plans for the Big Tom mine, which were put into Judith's hands for execution upon the death of Big Tom Bevin, whose net project it was. Judith has been left the Bevin fortune in trust, to be spent on the mine. But Morton, her husband, is torn by the belief that Judith should stop out of the picture; they have quarreled, and now, reconciled, have settled back to talk.

Chapter 17 NEW RIFT

The meal over, dishes back in the kitchen, Norman found an old scarlet dressing gown, dug in its pockets for pipe and pouch, then filling and lighting the pipe sank into the divan.

Judith, at a gestured invitation, curled into the circle of his free arm, wide eyes on the flames shooting up through the oak logs. Outside, twilight was moving in, a cold spring wind in its wake. The leafless arms of the nearest tree rubbed fretfully against the house, the fire crackled—"Happy?" inquired Norman, contentedly.

"Perfectly." "Wish this could go on forever," he mused, "no more outside influence. Sounds archaic, maybe, but I believe there's a primitive need in every man for a home of his own; I know, the kind of a need that forces him to go out and make good in business life—"

"Like the caveman, in the forest made good with his billy club?" inquired Judith.

"Judy, you're laughing at me." "No I'm not, I'm just thinking how nice it is to be your particular woman, to say nothing of living in such a cave."

"I like this cave too," he said, boyishly possessive.

She knew he had had but little home life; as Chis had said, "Plenty of house and nobody in it."

He settled back again, and then into their peaceful moment came the whirr of the telephone. Judith, not wanting to listen, couldn't help hearing a few words and was ready for something unpleasant by the time he returned.

"Jude—" under the brave scarlet coat his shoulders were sagging. "I forgot to tell you. Lampere has called a meeting of stockholders and the board of directors for the company, tomorrow at three. He wants you there."

She nodded. She remembered dimly that Poppy Neville was giving a one o'clock luncheon and she had promised to help. Would she have time to change? She shouldn't go to such a meeting in a ruffled silk suit and Dolly Varden hat.

"Judith," Norman interrupted her thoughts, "I'd promised myself I wouldn't discuss this Bevin matter with you, but you're my wife and I can't let you go to that meeting unprepared. I want you to know what other people know."

"Judy-girl, I wonder if you realized that Big Tom had been losing his mind during the last few months of his life; in fact that he had a serious brain affliction at the time he drew up that new will?"

JUDITH jumped from the encircling haven of her husband's arm.

"Norman," she cried. "There, Judy, don't take it like that. It was bound to be a shock to you, I know, but I thought it was better for me to tell you than someone else."

"Norman," she repeated, this time brokenly.

"Yes dear, it probably came from sort of a belated gunstroke. You remember how we suffered on that trip? Why, healthy as I am, there were times when I nearly went under. It seems Big Tom stood up while he was actually on the job, but the moment he got back home where he could relax, the whole thing came down on him like a ton of brick."