

LOCALS

In Portland— Miss Janet Bingner went to Portland for a visit with friends over the weekend.

Visits— Jerry Erickson, a former student at the Eastern Oregon Normal, has been spending a few days on the campus visiting his friends as well as attending classes.

Concludes Visit— Mrs. William Siegrist has returned to La Grande from a visit with her son in Portland.

Spends Weekend— Miss Hope Inlow, member of the Baker High school faculty, spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Inlow in La Grande.

Business Here— Harry Reiff, of Walla Walla, was in La Grande on business Thursday and Friday and also made a trip up the Joseph branch while in Eastern Oregon.

Visits Sister— Miss Edna Brown was in Huntington over the weekend visiting with her sister, Mrs. Paul Tetreau, formerly of La Grande.

From Pendleton— Mrs. J. U. Temple, and Mrs. Morris Temple, of Pendleton, were in La Grande Saturday attending the festival and visiting with La Grande friends.

Visits Brothers— Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Shute and daughter, Miss Gladys, are here from Portland visiting relatives. Mrs. Shute is a sister of Herman, Will, Adolph and Fred Siegrist.

Meeting Tonight— All tennis players of La Grande are urged to attend the meeting called for this evening at 7:30 o'clock at Charles Reynolds' office.

Visits Parents— Miss Mildred French spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry French. Miss French teaches in a rural school near Enterprise.

Will Meet Tomorrow— Will Mees and officers of the guard team of the W. B. A. will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Eagles hall, it is announced.

Returns— Mrs. Lenora Beaudette has returned to her home following an extended trip to Spokane, Portland and Klamath Falls. At Klamath Falls she visited with her mother. From Portland she was accompanied home by her daughter, Mrs. Clifford Allstott, who had been visiting there.

From Seattle— Mr. and Mrs. Harry Proctor, of Seattle, arrived here last evening for a short visit with relatives and friends. Mr. Proctor had been in Portland attending a convention of J. C. Penney company and they will spend a few days here before returning to their home. Mr. Proctor is the son of D. H. Proctor, county assessor and Mrs. Proctor is the sister of Mrs. Jack Murphy and Mrs. N. H. Rudd.

Returns to Corvallis— Prof. Paul Petri, director of music at the Oregon State college, returned yesterday to Corvallis after having been in La Grande serving as guest critic at the music festival at the E. O. N. Prof. Petri was honored with a number of social affairs during his stay here.

Returns to La Grande— Mrs. Joseph H. Gaiser has returned to La Grande from a visit with her relatives and friends in San Francisco and the Bay Region. Mrs. Gaiser accompanied Mr. Gaiser when he went south during the spring recess in the middle of March and remained for a longer stay than the vacation period permitted.

Makes Visit Here— Miss Virginia Slusser, who is in nurses' training in a Chicago hospital, stopped off here last week for a visit with her friend and former roommate at Willamette university, Miss Ruth Margaret Hall. Miss Slusser stopped off here on her way to Newport, Wash., for a vacation visit with her parents.

To Walla Walla Lake— Dr. L. E. Hibbard, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Robert Hoobler, returned this morning to their home at Burns after having spent Sunday at Walla Walla Lake and other points of interest in Walla Walla County. Dr. Hibbard accompanied Dr. H. S. Brown to Pendleton to attend the dental convention held there on Saturday and returned to La Grande with him Saturday evening.

From Lostine— Genevieve Benfrow was at the Bouvy hospital over the weekend receiving eye treatment, from her home at Lostine.

At Hospital— Mrs. W. W. Custer, of Shoshone, Idaho, is at the Bouvy hospital for nasal treatment.

On Business— E. H. DeLong is spending several days in Portland transacting business.

Returns Home— Beverly Childsey has returned to her home at Walla Walla after having been at the Bouvy hospital for a short time for ear treatment.

Visits Here— Mrs. Walter Brownfield was a visitor in La Grande Saturday from her home at Pendleton.

From Elgin— Mrs. Sadie Steers, of Elgin, was a business visitor in La Grande Saturday.

Returns Home— Mrs. Sherwood, mother of Floyd Sherwood, has returned to her home

Nostalgia Brings La Hepburn Back

A camera-dodger when she sailed from New York, Katharine Hepburn, the film star, proved a more affable subject on her return. She is shown in contrasting moods as she told reporters that it may have been homesickness that brought her home after only five days in France.

at Wendling, near Eugene, after making an extended visit at the home of her son, Mr. Sherwood has returned to his home from the Grand Inland hospital and is very much improved from his recent serious illness.

Returns— Mrs. C. L. Baumann and daughter, Mrs. Carolyn Twyman, have returned to their home in Portland after spending several days in La Grande on business.

Visit Here— Mr. and Mrs. James Vall stopped in La Grande over the weekend for a visit with Mrs. L. M. Hoyt and daughter, Myrtle, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Morris en route to their home at Bellingham. They have been on an extended trip through the eastern and southern states, having visited 33 states during their trip and report some interesting experiences. Mr. Vall was formerly an inspector for the United States immigration service, but is now retired.

ATTENTION Regular meeting Tuesday night, La Grande Chap. No. 9, R. A. M. Work in the P. M. degree. C. M. HUMPHREYS, Sec'y. 4-16-2 t.

Lady Esther Toilettries at Moon Drug Co. 3-17-tf Crazy Crystal at Moon Drug Co. 3-17-tf

SCHOOL CHILDREN You can get scratch paper for school at the Observer. Now 2 pads 5c. 9-14-t f.

Cabbage, cauliflower, pansy and geranium plants. Rohan's Greenhouse, Phone Main 136. 4-12-6 t.

SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 1 WARRANTS CALLED School District No. 1, Union County, Oregon, warrants numbered 4474 to 4487 inclusive, are hereby called and will be paid when presented at the office of the District Clerk in the High School Building, La Grande. Interest ceases on and after April 16, 1934. R. O. WILLIAMS, Dist. Clerk. 4-16-1 t.

Professional house and window cleaner. Windows cleaned by day, week or month. Phone 559 J. 4-6-1 mp.

FOR YOUR CAR You can save both time and money by having your broken windshield or side glass refitted with new plate at Richardson's Art and Gift Shop. They specialize in all kinds of glass work. 4-12-2 f.

Ask us how to obtain an $0.50 guaranteed Hammond Electric clock for $2.35. Moon Drug Co. 3-17-tf

HELP WANTED The best help that you can have in your house cleaning is CLEANEX, the universal cleaner which makes spring house cleaning a pleasure. Makes your broomwork like new, saves your hands and many hours of hard work. Get a can of this wonderful cleaner at Richardson's Art and Gift Shop. 4-12-2 f.

Get a FREE RACING TURTLE with two tubes of Dr. West's tooth paste at Moon Drug Co. 4-13-4 t.

Nyal Anacid Powder for stomach troubles, 50c. Moon Drug Co. 3-17-tf

Over The Valley Personals

To Salt Lake— Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kohler, of Union and their daughter, Mrs. Theodore Edvalson, of High Valley, have gone to Salt Lake City for a stay of a couple of weeks.

Will Teach— Miss Ruth Geibel, of La Grande, a student at E. O. N., has been hired as a teacher for the Lower Cove school for next year. It is reported.

Visits Mother— Will Breshers, who now lives at Eugene, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Mary Breshers, at the Cove, as well as a brother relative over the valley.

Does Not Improve— The condition of Miss Ruth McNeill, student at the Cove High school, and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie McNeill, of the Mill Creek canyon road, does not improve as her friends would wish. She has been ill for over a month and her condition has been quite serious for the past 10 days or two weeks.

Has Narrow Escape— Ernest Haskell, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haskell, of Muddy Creek, had quite an experience Wednesday and narrowly escaped drowning when he fell in the irrigation ditch on his father's farm. Water was about three feet deep. The boy was chilled and frightened but otherwise was none the worse for his experience.

Sheep Club Tours— Members of the Imbler Sheep club are already at work on their projects for the present year under the direction of their local leader, Frank McKennon, and helped by the assistant county agent, H. R. Hampton. The first meeting was held at John Loid's at Summerville, where officers were chosen. Farrell Skillings was made president; vice president is Clayton Fox, secretary is Josephine Fisher. A second meeting was held at McKennon's April 7, with Farrell Skillings presiding. The local leader was called on and his suggestions were to the effect that we see the animals of each member, what kind they are, their progress, what kind the club members do and that we should not be too long in getting our fitting practice as well as judging and that we should have a demonstration. Mr. Hampton suggested that we discuss different kinds of sheep, and score cards and that we try judging on our tour which is to be April 22. On that tour, we start at Clayton Fox's, visit Farrell's and Ronald Westenskow's at Imbler, then at Loid's at Summerville, over to Gwendolen Morris and to Josephine Fisher's. That is the last inspection stop, so we will go on to the Cove swimming pool for a picnic dinner and a swim. Talks will be given at Cove by Clayton Fox on breeds of sheep, Farrell Skillings on different points of sheep.

Alcohol Aid— Members of the Alcohol Ladies' Aid society journeyed to La Grande for their April meeting, held Thursday afternoon. The three hostesses were Mrs. Ed Jasper, Mrs. Louis Standley and Mrs. Frank Wright, and the meeting was at the Jasper home on Adams avenue. The president, Mrs. Everett Wallinger, had charge of the business meeting and Mrs. I. E. Chenault conducted the devotionals. The program was very good. Mrs. Mildred Bickland furnished some musical readings, Miss Mary Jasper playing an Indian number on the piano and appearing in Indian costume, and Mrs. Chenault giving a reading. The committee served a tray lunch. The next hostesses will be Mrs. Chenault, Mrs. Lester Pesch and Mrs. Fred Wells.

Spends Vacation— Miss Alma Schroeder, of the County club district, a student at the La Grande High school, spent her vacation at the home of her friend, Miss Ruth Hale, in Imbler.

Visits Parents— Mrs. Will Patty and her three children, of Amity, are in the valley making a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jasper on the sidehill road near La Grande.

In Boise— Mr. Ernest Gray, of Alice, accompanied by Miss Elsie Tucker, the teacher there, and Miss Naomi Twidwell, teacher of the Lower Cove school, drove to Boise last week and spent the weekend. While in that city they were guests of the Oregon Trail Buckaroo, the majority of whom are from this valley and who have a broadcasting engagement over a Boise station.

Re-elected— Miss Dorothy Higgins of La Grande, has been elected for another year as teaching at the Willow Creek school near Summerville.

Doing Damage— S. E. Miller, of Union, and other farmers in that vicinity report that squirrels are doing a great deal of damage to crops and pastures. The mild winter has kept them in such good condition that poisoned grain does not appeal to their appetites, we are told, and they are clearing the

NO wonder, thought Judith, that Mathie Bevins had laughed that triumphant laugh meant, she now knew, for her ears. No wonder, Norman had been unable to face her. She walked into the dining room — "Delphy," she called, "remove my plate."

This done, she folded the newspaper to that article and tipped it up against the bowl of daffodils that Norman might see it when he sat down. She went then to the telephone, called a cab, then went to her dressing room, locked the door and packed her bags.

Norman met her at the door as she was leaving—"Judith," he protested, as he saw her bags. "You should thank me, Norman," she returned, "in simply making things easy for you. Lamperre told us a wife could not appear against her husband and that rule works both ways. Denial will provide you with grounds for divorce and you can... as the morning paper says, 'light your wife to obtain millions for your former sweetheart.'"

She was down the steps, the startled cab driver behind her—"To the Rice," she said. When they were on the highway she gave Clia's address.

Because she worked for a morning newspaper, Clia worked nights and so was still in bed when Judith arrived.

She looked up from the telephone she had wrangled to within arms reach of the bed, then spoke into the mouthpiece—"here she comes with Reno in her eye. If I don't mistake the signs she'll sob it out to my motherly absorder."

"Okay, Slim, I'll call you later, stick around the field, I may need you."

She slammed the receiver on the hook—"Had coffee?" she asked, "then take two steps left and bring up longside that gas plate. I don't speak English and I've had two cups and three cigarettes. You'll find the coffee in that little do-funny on top of my dresser."

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Upstairs, Norman was splashing around, slamming doors with early morning thoroughness, in the bedroom, Clia gives some good advice.

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Judith Lane

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Norman Dale has invited Tom Bevins' widow and daughter, Mathie, with her mother, Lamperre, their attorney, to his home to discuss the Bevins will. Norman's wife, Judith, has been left the Bevins fortune and instructions to carry out Bevins' plan for a son of the Beverly Lowmire, although Norman's law partner and former attorney for Bevins, wishes to break the deal and add the dowry for his own benefit. Judith refuses to see the visitors, and goes to bed to think over the tangle.

CHAPTER 20 THE RIFT

BIG TOM was projecting himself from the other side of death into Judith's thought, by cleverly pre-conceived combinations.

To Norman, Morton Lamperre, his partner, his father's partner before him, was a person to be admired, almost revered. His word would weigh more than that of a young girl. Lamperre was a friend of a lifetime, and Norman had known her a comparatively short time.

Perhaps Norman was right, and she with her self assurance was wrong. Perhaps Lamperre was right! She weighed this thought as she looked out on the terrace where the lights which had blocked yellow oblongs on the greensward were suddenly blotted out.

She would discuss this with him and if he could prove her wrong she would gladly make any concession. She prepared for bed, turned on the bed lamp to let him know she was awake, then waited.

She heard Delphy's goodnight, then Lige's, heard the kitchen door close and voices in the servants' cottage. And then she heard Norman coming up the steps. He stopped in his dressing room, then a few moments later went out by the hall door, down the corridor to the guest room.

The door of the guest room opened, the hall lights flashed off. The door closed.

Judith turned off the lamp, a hot pain cutting through her. What had happened to make Norman do such a thing? Mathie's laughter echoed in her ears, but it was not her influence, more likely Lamperre's. He was wise in the ways of women, he knew it would take firm determination to keep her from seeking Norman, and in the end giving in to his wishes.

She slipped from the bed and went to an open window. A soft wind, faint echo of the previous evening's gale, came in with the breath of sleeping fields. The servants' cottage was a dark square topped with moon icing. The little stream was a trickle of quicksilver among the shale.

Judith looked at it and shuddered. She felt as though there were tears in her heart which trickled down like quicksilver.

All of her life she had wanted to belong to someone. Her father, embalmed in grief at her mother's passing, had been companionable, but she had felt her love for him was more maternal than his was paternal. Big Tom, in his loneliness, had filled this need.

But Norman... she knew if he were to come in, slip an arm under her pillow for a cushioned rest, and she were to awaken knowing he was there, her trust would be thrown to the winds for fear of nights to come when there would be no protecting arm of a friend.

And yet she knew if this happened she would hate herself, and in time turn bitterly on Norman for causing her to disregard her own sense of what was right.

DELPHY, round eyed, brought her orange juice at the usual hour. She surveyed the untouched pillow said nothing, but tucked Judith in with unnecessary thoroughness considering she was about to rise. Then, glass clinking on tray, she stalked down the hall to the guest room.

Judith chose her morning frock with a deliberate intent to charm. She had one of yellow linen, embroidered in marguerites, that Norman hadn't seen. She put this on, brushed her black hair until it shone like lacquer, erased the tell-tale signs of sleepless early hours with clever artifice, then went for a stroll in the garden.

There were a few daffodils blooming. Judith studied their lancing heads, hesitated, then regretfully snipped the long stems. Back in the breakfast room she laid the table with green grass linen, a Bavarian breakfast set of ivory rimmed with gold flowers.

It was gay, that breakfast table. The sun slanted in through open windows and warmed Judith, who stood thrusting the stems of the daffodils into an ivory frog.

Upstairs, Norman was splashing around, slamming doors with early morning thoroughness, in the bedroom, Clia gives some good advice.

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

AT THE LIBERTY

Klepura, who plays the lead in Universal's "Be Mine Tonight," now at the Liberty theatre, has been on the stage only seven years, but that time has achieved the distinction of singing at La Scala, the ambition of every singer. Present he is a star of the Vio Opera.

A FESTIVE TOUCH Crushed or broken macarons served on top of sherbet or ice cream add flavor and give a festive touch.

Members of the Imbler Sheep club are already at work on their projects for the present year under the direction of their local leader, Frank McKennon, and helped by the assistant county agent, H. R. Hampton. The first meeting was held at John Loid's at Summerville, where officers were chosen. Farrell Skillings was made president; vice president is Clayton Fox, secretary is Josephine Fisher. A second meeting was held at McKennon's April 7, with Farrell Skillings presiding. The local leader was called on and his suggestions were to the effect that we see the animals of each member, what kind they are, their progress, what kind the club members do and that we should not be too long in getting our fitting practice as well as judging and that we should have a demonstration. Mr. Hampton suggested that we discuss different kinds of sheep, and score cards and that we try judging on our tour which is to be April 22. On that tour, we start at Clayton Fox's, visit Farrell's and Ronald Westenskow's at Imbler, then at Loid's at Summerville, over to Gwendolen Morris and to Josephine Fisher's. That is the last inspection stop, so we will go on to the Cove swimming pool for a picnic dinner and a swim. Talks will be given at Cove by Clayton Fox on breeds of sheep, Farrell Skillings on different points of sheep.

Members of the Alcohol Ladies' Aid society journeyed to La Grande for their April meeting, held Thursday afternoon. The three hostesses were Mrs. Ed Jasper, Mrs. Louis Standley and Mrs. Frank Wright, and the meeting was at the Jasper home on Adams avenue. The president, Mrs. Everett Wallinger, had charge of the business meeting and Mrs. I. E. Chenault conducted the devotionals. The program was very good. Mrs. Mildred Bickland furnished some musical readings, Miss Mary Jasper playing an Indian number on the piano and appearing in Indian costume, and Mrs. Chenault giving a reading. The committee served a tray lunch. The next hostesses will be Mrs. Chenault, Mrs. Lester Pesch and Mrs. Fred Wells.

Miss Alma Schroeder, of the County club district, a student at the La Grande High school, spent her vacation at the home of her friend, Miss Ruth Hale, in Imbler.

Mrs. Will Patty and her three children, of Amity, are in the valley making a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jasper on the sidehill road near La Grande.

Mr. Ernest Gray, of Alice, accompanied by Miss Elsie Tucker, the teacher there, and Miss Naomi Twidwell, teacher of the Lower Cove school, drove to Boise last week and spent the weekend. While in that city they were guests of the Oregon Trail Buckaroo, the majority of whom are from this valley and who have a broadcasting engagement over a Boise station.

Miss Dorothy Higgins of La Grande, has been elected for another year as teaching at the Willow Creek school near Summerville.

S. E. Miller, of Union, and other farmers in that vicinity report that squirrels are doing a great deal of damage to crops and pastures. The mild winter has kept them in such good condition that poisoned grain does not appeal to their appetites, we are told, and they are clearing the

NO wonder, thought Judith, that Mathie Bevins had laughed that triumphant laugh meant, she now knew, for her ears. No wonder, Norman had been unable to face her. She walked into the dining room — "Delphy," she called, "remove my plate."

This done, she folded the newspaper to that article and tipped it up against the bowl of daffodils that Norman might see it when he sat down. She went then to the telephone, called a cab, then went to her dressing room, locked the door and packed her bags.

Norman met her at the door as she was leaving—"Judith," he protested, as he saw her bags. "You should thank me, Norman," she returned, "in simply making things easy for you. Lamperre told us a wife could not appear against her husband and that rule works both ways. Denial will provide you with grounds for divorce and you can... as the morning paper says, 'light your wife to obtain millions for your former sweetheart.'"

She was down the steps, the startled cab driver behind her—"To the Rice," she said. When they were on the highway she gave Clia's address.

Because she worked for a morning newspaper, Clia worked nights and so was still in bed when Judith arrived.

She looked up from the telephone she had wrangled to within arms reach of the bed, then spoke into the mouthpiece—"here she comes with Reno in her eye. If I don't mistake the signs she'll sob it out to my motherly absorder."

"Okay, Slim, I'll call you later, stick around the field, I may need you."

She slammed the receiver on the hook—"Had coffee?" she asked, "then take two steps left and bring up longside that gas plate. I don't speak English and I've had two cups and three cigarettes. You'll find the coffee in that little do-funny on top of my dresser."

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Upstairs, Norman was splashing around, slamming doors with early morning thoroughness, in the bedroom, Clia gives some good advice.

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

AT THE LIBERTY

Klepura, who plays the lead in Universal's "Be Mine Tonight," now at the Liberty theatre, has been on the stage only seven years, but that time has achieved the distinction of singing at La Scala, the ambition of every singer. Present he is a star of the Vio Opera.

A FESTIVE TOUCH Crushed or broken macarons served on top of sherbet or ice cream add flavor and give a festive touch.

Members of the Imbler Sheep club are already at work on their projects for the present year under the direction of their local leader, Frank McKennon, and helped by the assistant county agent, H. R. Hampton. The first meeting was held at John Loid's at Summerville, where officers were chosen. Farrell Skillings was made president; vice president is Clayton Fox, secretary is Josephine Fisher. A second meeting was held at McKennon's April 7, with Farrell Skillings presiding. The local leader was called on and his suggestions were to the effect that we see the animals of each member, what kind they are, their progress, what kind the club members do and that we should not be too long in getting our fitting practice as well as judging and that we should have a demonstration. Mr. Hampton suggested that we discuss different kinds of sheep, and score cards and that we try judging on our tour which is to be April 22. On that tour, we start at Clayton Fox's, visit Farrell's and Ronald Westenskow's at Imbler, then at Loid's at Summerville, over to Gwendolen Morris and to Josephine Fisher's. That is the last inspection stop, so we will go on to the Cove swimming pool for a picnic dinner and a swim. Talks will be given at Cove by Clayton Fox on breeds of sheep, Farrell Skillings on different points of sheep.

Members of the Alcohol Ladies' Aid society journeyed to La Grande for their April meeting, held Thursday afternoon. The three hostesses were Mrs. Ed Jasper, Mrs. Louis Standley and Mrs. Frank Wright, and the meeting was at the Jasper home on Adams avenue. The president, Mrs. Everett Wallinger, had charge of the business meeting and Mrs. I. E. Chenault conducted the devotionals. The program was very good. Mrs. Mildred Bickland furnished some musical readings, Miss Mary Jasper playing an Indian number on the piano and appearing in Indian costume, and Mrs. Chenault giving a reading. The committee served a tray lunch. The next hostesses will be Mrs. Chenault, Mrs. Lester Pesch and Mrs. Fred Wells.

Miss Alma Schroeder, of the County club district, a student at the La Grande High school, spent her vacation at the home of her friend, Miss Ruth Hale, in Imbler.

Mrs. Will Patty and her three children, of Amity, are in the valley making a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jasper on the sidehill road near La Grande.

Mr. Ernest Gray, of Alice, accompanied by Miss Elsie Tucker, the teacher there, and Miss Naomi Twidwell, teacher of the Lower Cove school, drove to Boise last week and spent the weekend. While in that city they were guests of the Oregon Trail Buckaroo, the majority of whom are from this valley and who have a broadcasting engagement over a Boise station.

Miss Dorothy Higgins of La Grande, has been elected for another year as teaching at the Willow Creek school near Summerville.

S. E. Miller, of Union, and other farmers in that vicinity report that squirrels are doing a great deal of damage to crops and pastures. The mild winter has kept them in such good condition that poisoned grain does not appeal to their appetites, we are told, and they are clearing the

NO wonder, thought Judith, that Mathie Bevins had laughed that triumphant laugh meant, she now knew, for her ears. No wonder, Norman had been unable to face her. She walked into the dining room — "Delphy," she called, "remove my plate."

This done, she folded the newspaper to that article and tipped it up against the bowl of daffodils that Norman might see it when he sat down. She went then to the telephone, called a cab, then went to her dressing room, locked the door and packed her bags.

Norman met her at the door as she was leaving—"Judith," he protested, as he saw her bags. "You should thank me, Norman," she returned, "in simply making things easy for you. Lamperre told us a wife could not appear against her husband and that rule works both ways. Denial will provide you with grounds for divorce and you can... as the morning paper says, 'light your wife to obtain millions for your former sweetheart.'"

She was down the steps, the startled cab driver behind her—"To the Rice," she said. When they were on the highway she gave Clia's address.

Because she worked for a morning newspaper, Clia worked nights and so was still in bed when Judith arrived.

She looked up from the telephone she had wrangled to within arms reach of the bed, then spoke into the mouthpiece—"here she comes with Reno in her eye. If I don't mistake the signs she'll sob it out to my motherly absorder."

"Okay, Slim, I'll call you later, stick around the field, I may need you."

She slammed the receiver on the hook—"Had coffee?" she asked, "then take two steps left and bring up longside that gas plate. I don't speak English and I've had two cups and three cigarettes. You'll find the coffee in that little do-funny on top of my dresser."

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Upstairs, Norman was splashing around, slamming doors with early morning thoroughness, in the bedroom, Clia gives some good advice.

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

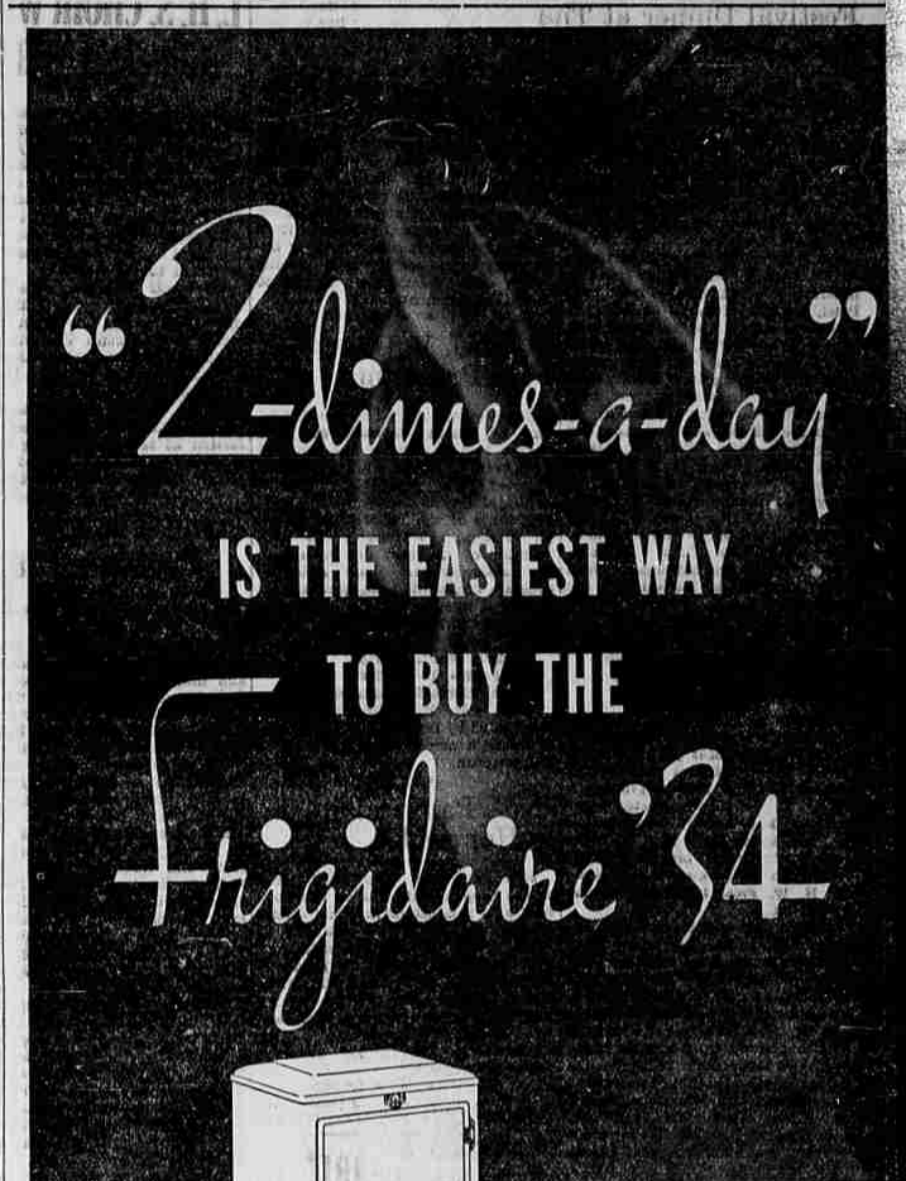

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

Copyright 1934 by Jeanne Bowman

the stage only seven years, but that time has achieved the distinction of singing at La Scala, the ambition of every singer. Present he is a star of the Vio Opera.

2-dimes-a-day IS THE EASIEST WAY TO BUY THE Frigidaire '34 that uses less current than one ordinary lamp bulb and costs only $109.50

Now... you don't have to reach for your check book... you don't have to scrimp on other things... you don't even have to save, to own a genuine Frigidaire '34!

All you do is come in, make your selection, and pay for your Frigidaire on our Meter-Ice Plan... only 20c a day!

WHAT IS METER-ICE? Meter-Ice is a little "bank" which we attach to the Frigidaire you select. Every day you "deposit" 20c in Meter-Ice. When your "deposits" equal the price of the Frigidaire—you own your Frigidaire and we remove Meter-Ice! Larger models may be had on this plan for only a few cents more per day. And now for the biggest surprise of all... on our Meter-Ice Plan you make NO DOWN PAYMENT!