

AAA RECOMMENDS "BACK TO GRASS" MOVE FOR FARMS

By Carl C. Crauner
WAJENKTON (AP) — What are farmers going to do with the more than 40,000,000 acres, an area larger than Illinois, withdrawn from crop production this year?

"Back to grass" is the answer of the agriculture department. A picture of the new national plan for agriculture, slowly evolving at the department, might be drawn from remarks of agricultural officials, and it might be titled "Pastoral America" with a pleasanter farm life, more leisure, less drudgery and lower operating costs pictured as its chief advantages.

Joseph P. Cox, chief of the replacement crops section of the AAA, says that the "only logical adjustment" in farm production is to "shift to grass" if the high-powered, commercial farming machine is to be slowed down without a jar.

"So is a shock absorber that will cushion the adjustment program," he says.

While the replacement crops section is investigating plants producing drugs, insecticides, oils, perfumes, fibres and other products in an effort to find new crops for the abandoned acreage, Cox believes not more than 1,000,000 acres will be used in that way in the next few years.

Chester Davis, farm administrator, has pointed out that sowing more grass is a return from intensive commercial farming to a less intensive system, to the days before the war when farmers had not yet plowed up their blue grass pastures and meadows to plant corn and wheat.

"Grassland farming takes less work than high-pressure plowland farming; it provides, speaking generally, a pleasanter farm life, with lower operating costs, less man-killing and women-killing drudgery and more leisure," says H. B. Tolley, assistant administrator.

The practical effects of grassland farming are explained by Cox. It reduces the production of crops and yet does not necessarily increase the surplus of livestock products because each cultivated acre produces about twice as much animal subsistence as

ATTEMPT TO STEAL SCHOOL MONEY FAILS

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special) — An attempt to rob the high school of the money taken in at the freshman play was made following the performance last Friday night. Supt. O. P. Campbell had locked the money in the second drawer of his desk in the office, and the next morning discovered that several holes had been bored through the end of the desk and the top drawer opened. Puffing to locate the money thief it is supposed the would-be thief gave up the search. The case has been turned over to state police and fingerprints have been taken in an attempt to try and locate the offender.

WILLIAMSON AND BERRY TO ATTEND MEET

The Oregon Mutual Fire Insurance company of McMinnville, which is celebrating its 40th year of activity in this state, will be host to its agents at a two-day convention at the home office, April 26 and 27 and Lowell Williamson and Claude Berry, local representatives, will be in attendance from here. B. P. Irvine of the Oregon Journal and Palmer Hoyt of the Morning Oregonian will broadcast radio talks by special leased wire. Mr. Hoyt will broadcast at 12:30 p. m. over KOW and Mr. Irvine will talk from 8:30 to 9:00 p. m. over KOIN, Thursday, April 26. An outstanding feature of the observance is the fact that W. C. Haggerty, president of the company, is still at the helm after 29 consecutive years, serving since 1927 in his present capacity. He declares the organization is sounder than ever, with a surplus of $264,120.11 and a total non-assessable insurance on the books of $125,077,494. Since its organization in 1894, it has paid out to members for fire losses a total of $4,813,692.39. It has adjusted and paid all claims promptly.

"ALL-BRAN WILL ALWAYS BE A PART OF MY DIET"

Delicious Cereal Corrected His Constipation

If you suffer from constipation, read this fine letter:

"I have been troubled for years with constipation. During this time, I have tried almost every known remedy. Then some one recommended eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and the proper results followed immediately.

"Since eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN each morning, there has been a general improvement in my health without the ill effects that I formerly experienced when taking laxatives. Hereafter, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will always be a part of my diet." — Mr. E. G. Himes, 1201 E. 7th St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Research shows Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this "cereal way" safer than risking patent medicines?

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient to relieve ordinary constipation. With each meal, in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Be sure to ask for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It contains much more "bulk" than part-bran products. In the red and green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Over 300 Future Farmers of America, from all corners of the state, will gather at the Oregon State college, Corvallis, April 26 to 28 for their sixth annual three-day convention, according to Earl R. Cooley, state supervisor of agricultural education. A delegation of 25 farm boys from Union, Imbler, Enterprise, and Wallowa will attend this meeting.

The principal feature of the convention will be the visit of the national chief of the Future Farmers of America, Bobby Jones, 17, of Radnor, Ohio. He heads a group of 80,000 young farm boys enrolled in Smith-Hughes agricultural courses in 2,500 high schools. Bobby is making a tour of the Hawaiian Islands and three western states in the interests of F. F. A. work.

While at the convention the Future Farmers will transact their annual business meeting, select outstanding boys in the state for the degree of State Farmer, and honor the F. F. A. Keystone chapters. The four winners in the district public speaking contest will compete for state honors. The college agricultural students are sponsoring a state-wide agricultural leaders banquet in honor of the Future Farmers of America. On the last day of the convention individual and team demonstration contests will be featured. Future Farmers will compete in various contests such as grafting, budding, egg grading, dairy cow evaluation, farm accounting, grain judging and weed identification. Future Farmer demonstration teams will compete in contests such as seed corn selection, potato grading, saw filing, electric wiring, tool sharpening, and various other types of contests. Radio broadcasts and athletic events of various kinds will play an important part in the three-day program.
