Girls Letter Club Formed At La Grande High; Officers Are Installed Last Evening

A group of girls of the La Grande High school shared in a very interesting and most enjoyable event last evening on the lawn in front of the high school building. About a month ago a girls' letter club was more or less informally launched. Last evening the club was more formally instituted, officers were installed and several members' names added to the list. The lawn was lighted with spot lights, flowers and equipment necessary for the affair were used, making the place quite attractive to passers-by as well as for those who were directly interested.

Miss Florence Doherty was installed as president, Miss Betty Bohnenkamp, vice president; Miss Opal Conner, secretary-treasurer; Miss Sophie Giehlhuber, sergeant-at-arms, and Miss Catherine Osborne, faculty adviser. New members were Marian Gehring, Peggy Jesse, Patricia Clark, Lon Cladwell and Margaret King and Christine Pearson. New members in the course of their induction into the club were obliged to wear old-fashioned gym suits all day at school Thursday and were required to memorize the code of sportsmanship.

Mrs. L. C. Smith Is Club Hostess

One of the prettiest spring bridge parties was an event of yesterday when Mrs. L. C. Smith had as her guests the members of the L. A. L. Bridge club. Her home was very pretty with tulips and lilacs arranged effectively. There were ladies present to form three tables for the game. Mrs. C. B. Hubbard making high score and Mrs. James Oneal second high. Mrs. Herbert Speckhart and daughter, Miss Helen Jean, were guests during the afternoon. Mrs. Smith served a delicious lunch, assisted by Mrs. Speckhart and Mrs. Lon Crover.

Methodist Women In Profitable Meet

Reports are that the meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. M. Pierson was very largely attended and a meeting with many business items attended to and a number of interesting discussions presented. Mrs. Tyler had charge of the business meeting when plans were made for the annual Mothers-Daughters picnic which is set for Friday evening, April 27. The district convention at Fruitland on Apr. 25 was also announced and a group decided to attend. It was announced that at the next meeting, an auction sale of cooked foods will be held, the proceeds to go to the Edith Thornbury scholarship fund.

Mrs. R. W. Leighton had charge of the lesson study for the afternoon which consisted of the presentation of a number of general home missionary items by Mrs. G. C. Headley, Mrs. A. W. Burnett, Mrs. Lee Hanford,

Mrs. Leffel Is Club Hostess

Mrs. Homer Leffel entertained the members of her evening bridge club Tuesday evening at her home, 1403 Third street, with two tables for contrast. Mrs. Charles Graham received the prize for high score and Mrs. Robert Williamson, the consolation. Mrs. Forrest Scroggin made high for the guests. Leffel served during the evening. Guests of the club were Mrs. Scroggin and Mrs. Raymond Gray.

Loyal Sisters In Very Clever Program

Sixty members of Divisions A and B of the Loyal Sisters of the Christian church were given an opportunity to jointly celebrate their birthdays yesterday afternoon in the basement of the church at the annual birthday party. Four long tables radiated diagonally from a centerpiece—a huge basket of lilacs—forming an X. Each table was decorated to represent one of the seasons of the year.

Mrs. Joseph Williams was chairman of the winter months and her table was beside a lighted fireplace, and was decorated with Christmas trees, a George Washington doll, etc. Barbara Roberts sang a Christmas song.

The spring table, of which Mrs. Nolan Skiff was chairman, featured a Maypole as a centerpiece surrounded by St. Patrick's day and Easter decorations. Three year-old Phyllis Jane Walnum dressed in an Easter bunny costume, distributed candy eggs to the children, and Darla Lee Skiff, representing spring, presented the adults with flower favors. A miniature bride and bridegroom graced Mrs. George Anderson's summer table in addition to patriotic decorations and tiny swimming figures in water. The program consisted of a mock wedding, with Doris French playing the wedding march. Characters were Mrs. Fowler, bride; Mrs. Faye Yecke, bridegroom; Mrs. Lois DeLong, flower girl; Mrs. Paul Mortimore, minister; Mrs. Lester Courtney, bridesmaid, who sang "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Oma Lapham had jack o' lanterns, and a little red school house on her fall table. Mrs. Russell Parlett, Mrs. Jennie Byers and Mrs. J. R. Rhodes gave appropriate readings and "School Days" was sung by Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Parlett and Mrs. Alex Robertson.

Flowers, tapers, appropriate napkins and angel cakes were at each table, and also cream and coffee were served.

F. O. E. Auxiliary Has Meeting

Three guests, Mrs. Annie Olson, Mrs. Peg Synhorst and Miss E. Paulk were here from Pendleton Thursday evening to attend the meeting of the Ladies auxiliary to the F. O. E. Mrs. Esther Hildebrand presided in the absence of the president. The regular business was attended to and Mrs. Marie Harris was initiated into the order. It was reported that the sewing club would meet next Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sarah Bailey. The sick committee reported that the president, Mrs. Mabel Miller, who had had a radical antrum operation, was doing nicely, as was Mrs. Clarence Haws, but Mrs. Rowena

Haunts was reported as not being so well.

An invitation was read from the Baker lodge to join with them in a meeting next Wednesday night at Goodbred lake at Union.

So-Ne-He Club Have Guests

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Weidon Vedder was the setting for a party Thursday evening staged by the So-Ne-He club, who had their husbands as guests at this particular time. Pinochle was the game for the evening with six tables at play. For the women, Mrs. Herman Gaertner received first prize and Miss Margaret Davy, consolation. Mr. Jackson made high score for the men and Grant Swalberg, low. Lunch was served at midnight.

Diversity Club With Mrs. Price

Mrs. John Price used the spring flowers, too when she had for her guests on Thursday the members of the Diversity club. These guests were seated at small tables, which were cleared after the lovely luncheon, and the afternoon spent at bridge. Mrs. Weidon Vedder made high score and Mrs. Grace Harman, fourth high. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Hansen, the date to be announced later.

Delphians Study Medieval Writers

Two medieval writers, Boccaccio, an Italian writer of fiction and Prossart, a French chronicler, were studied last evening at the meeting of the Delphian chapter with Mrs. Hugh Brady. Miss Sara Williamson, who was the study leader for the evening, briefly sketched the life of the two writers, stating that Chaucer, Shakespeare and Scott borrowed quite freely from Boccaccio's writings. Three stories from the writings were told by Mrs. Miriam Rettig, Mrs. Brady and Miss Ida McMeekin. A discussion of the second writer was contributed by Mrs. L. L. Douglas and Miss McMeekin.

The next meeting will be on May 3, when the study will include the period of the Hundred Years War and the Renaissance in France.

Trail Builders Hike to Lake

The Trail Builders class of the First Ward Primary association of the L. D. S. church enjoyed a hike to Morgan lake recently. Among the boys present were Curtis Samuelson, Danny Stitt, Manfred Leale, Frank Stoddard, Denver Gintsey, Robert Clegg, Freddie Hildebrand, Richard Taylor, Edward Taylor, LeRoy Kege, Junior Bean, Bernell Coons, Robert Tribe, David Gredson, Howard Felt, Desmond Larson, Dale Thiesen and Verne Baxter. The boys were accompanied by their guardians, Ruby Teale and Emily Hlatt, with Mabel Hicks and Dorothea Wood, also the primary teachers.

Stitch and Chatter Club Really Stitches

There were 21 members and two visitors attended the meeting of the Stitch and Chatter club of the American Legion auxiliary yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. E. Shewmaker, 1515 Z avenue. The afternoon was spent making print dresses, 11 of them having been finished to be given to local veterans' families. A splendid surprise during the afternoon was the arrival of 12 members of the Imbler auxiliary who assisted with the sewing and enjoyed the afternoon's sociability.

At the business meeting arrangements were made for a special meeting next Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Victor Eckley when at least will be placed on the poppies which are to be sold for Memorial day. Also it will be a pound shower when contributions will be brought to assist needy veterans' families. Mrs. Shewmaker served a lovely lunch at Thursday's meeting. Guests during the afternoon were Mrs. Alva Park and Mrs. Don Matott.

Meeting Place Is Changed

A change in the meeting place of the General Aid of the First Christian church on next Wednesday, Apr. 25 is announced. The meeting will be held at the church instead of with Mrs. J. D. Smith, as arranged. The hour is 2:30 o'clock.

Miss Mildred Smith Honoree at Party

Miss Mildred Smith, whose marriage is to be an event of early May, was honor guest at a dessert bridge given Wednesday evening by Miss Leah Bramwell, Miss Eda Mae Wilson and Miss Bernice Wilson at the home of the latter on Adams avenue. There were three tables for bridge following the dessert, Miss Judy Moore making high score and Miss Jane Stange, fourth. The bride-to-be was presented with a lovely gift during the evening.

Party Honors Stringhams

Members of the Ever-Ready class of the Christian church, and Division C, co-operated in a party Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stringham.

About 35 members of the two organizations gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stringham and the evening was spent with games of various kinds, after which refreshments were served by a committee.

Mock Trial is Staged; Benefits Y. W. E. A. Funds

A capacity crowd was present at the "Great Plummer Breach of Promise Trial," a mock trial staged Wednesday evening in the social hall of the Methodist church. This program was presented by members of the Young Women's Educational auxiliary of the Methodist church for the benefit of their work, and definite decision as to the disposition of the funds will be made at the annual banquet on May 1st.

In addition to the play, which was most generously applauded, Mrs. Lena Fuller presented several vocal numbers before the play. The plot of the play centered around the fact that the plaintiff, who was 17 years older than the defendant, was suing for a large sum of money, because of the fact that after finding that his old wife had promised to prove valuable, the defendant had married his partner's daughter. Attorneys for both sides gave very conclusive testimony for both principals, and their summaries were given in the most dramatic manner.

The jury brought in their verdict for the plaintiff, following very explicit instructions by the judge, and the case was closed at that point.

D. A. R. Fight For Better Pictures

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—Daughters of the American Revolution today refused to drop their fight for better films.

A committee recommended that since so many other organizations were working for better films the Daughters might give up such work. A resolution for an "air force equal to any other nation in the world" was voted.

Abner Wade, of above Elgin, who has been having some difficulty with infection in his left hand, is reported as improving some.
