PEAVEY DINNER WILL BEGIN AT 7 P. M. FRIDAY

The La Grande Oregon State Alumni association is sponsoring a dinner Friday evening at 7:50 o'clock at the Seaside Inn, honoring the visit of President George Peavey, of Oregon State college, and Dean Schenfeld, of the school of agriculture at the college.

Les Keffler, in charge of arrangements, announces that all alumni, former students, and their friends are invited to attend the dinner. This is President Peavey's first visit to La Grande since his appointment and interest is expected to be very great, particularly among former students.

TOKYO PRESS FLARES UP AT HULL'S REPLY

First, that Japan is still a party to treaties for the maintenance of Chinese sovereignty.

Second, that treaties cannot be legally "modified or terminated" except by the processes agreed upon by the contracting parties; and, Third, that the United States has certain rights in China and proposes to keep them.

MISSIONS WILL BATTLE ANGELS—DUCKS VS. INDIANS

By the Associated Press
Sergeant Gabby Street, who got so long ago led the St. Louis Cardinals to a world championship, brought his Mission Reds back to San Francisco today from a triumphant invasion of the northwest to inaugurate "stop the Angels week" at Seaside stadium.

The sergeant's baseballers did very well at Seattle and Portland, taking 11 out of 14 games. Even so, they dropped a game behind the pennant-bound Angels, now four games in front of the Reds.

Hope of halting the wild Los Angeles drive towards a second straight championship rests largely in the shagging prowess of the Reds.

Whether the Mission towers can check the Angel batsmen—second only to the Reds in team hitting—remains to be seen. Pitchers of Portland, Hollywood, Oakland and Sacramento won only five out of 28 games with the Los Angeles club.

Securely entrenched in third place, the San Francisco Seals move to Los Angeles for a series with the Hollywood Stars. Oakland takes on Sacramento at the California capital, while Portland and Seattle cross bats at Portland.

ELGIN PULPIT HELD VACANT

Sunday afternoon Rev. J. George Wals, accompanied by Mrs. Wals, drove to Elgin, presided in the Presbyterian church. Having been appointed by the recent meeting of the Presbytery of Grande Ronde, Mr. Wals declared the pastoral relations between Rev. L. B. Williams and the Elgin congregation to have been dissolved and the pulpit vacant, and instructed the elders of the church that they may supply their pulpit until such time as a regular pastor may be installed.

Rainstorm Ends Ball Game Early in Fourth

an error by Sayre, Idaho catcher. The Coyotes evaded it up when Houston was safe on Hodgens' error, advanced to second without opposition and went to third on a fielder's choice that put out Suythra, shortstop, at first. Then McCullough, Coyote second sacker, attempted to lay down a bunt to bring Houston home. His attempt was so obvious that the Mountaineer infield sucked in quickly. When Houston, with unceasing luck, attempted to bunt, the ball bounced off his bat over the first baseman's head and not only did Houston score but McCullough was safe at first with a scratch hit to his record.
