Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.—Isaiah 55: 6, 7.

BIG CARRYOVER OF WHEAT HELD LIKELY IN FALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Department of agriculture officials envisaged today a 250,000,000 bushel wheat carry-over into 1934 and busily scanned export markets for a possible outlet for some of it. The department would like to hold the carry-over to 250,000,000 bushels on July 1, 1935, which would still be twice the normal figure. Development of an export policy, however, hangs on the outcome of the international wheat conference at Rome, particularly as it may affect minimum world prices and export subsidies. The wheat carry-over on July 1 this year is expected to be about 205,000,000 bushels to which may be added 70,000,000 bushels surplus from this year's prospective crop of 700,000,000 bushels. Secretary Wallace has suggested that processing taxes on wheat might be increased and that the amount of the tax earmarked to promote exports might be raised from 2 to 4 or even 5 cents. A 5-cent tax on the 400,000,000 bushels yearly processing of taxable wheat would return approximately $20,000,000 compared with the $7,000,000 to be spent in exporting wheat this year.

county agent of Umatilla county; R. A. Johnson, county agent of Grant county; Harry G. Avery, of Union county; County Agent Best, of Malheur county; Assistant County Agent Jacobson, of Malheur county; H. H. Hampton, assistant county agent of Union county. The County Wool Growers' Auxiliary was called together for a meeting in the afternoon and Mrs. S. E. Miller acted as temporary chairman. Mrs. Herman Oliver, state president, urged the reorganization of the association in the county to carry on the campaign for more wool production and lamb consumption. She talked on the activities of the auxiliary and had a fine display of wool handicraft. Barry Lindgren, livestock specialist, of the extension division of O. H. C., gave a demonstration of cutting up a lamb. Walter Holt, county agent for Umatilla county and also secretary of the Wool Growers' association, spoke on the activities of the auxiliary and suggested ways to help in the county work. A reorganization meeting will be held at the Union hall at 2:00 p. m. next Saturday. All who are interested are invited to attend the meeting. About 20 farm crop students of the Oregon State college, accompanied by Prof. O. H. Hayslop, who is head of the department of plant industry, made a visit to the Eastern Oregon experiment station during the weekend. They arrived at Union Saturday and during the evening, and on Sunday morning they inspected some of the interesting experiments in crops and cattle feeding at the station, and they also inspected some fields of Ladak alfalfa near Union, as well as other interesting points. This is an annual event for students in this department at the state college, but this is the first time since 1931 that a visit has been made

Members of the Farmington, Utah, bridge club declare they are unable to remember a single bluff between players during its 18-year existence. Meetings are held twice a week. Georgia law provides that the governor be sole dictator of the state's fiscal affairs and no expenditure is possible without his approval. North Carolina state college reports the hog raising industry has eliminated the surplus of corn in that state. Dead Dog Restored to Life by Young Scientist

Dr. Robert E. Cornish, research assistant at University of California, is determined to show results in his efforts to restore life. In his latest experiment a dog, killed with nitrogen, was restored with injections of dog blood, adrenalin and heparin. After the heart resumed action, gum arabic was used to slow the labored action and the dog, 19 days later, consumes food put in his mouth and is sensitive to light and touch. Photo shows Dr. Cornish feeding the restored dog.

NEW RECIPES TO BE PRESENTED AT COOKING SCHOOL

Recipes from "round the world" Recipes so old that they are new! Recipes so new that no local table has yet been graced with them! And each recipe simple and inexpensive, yet wholly delicious! This, in short, is what is promised to local housewives in the Safeway Store Homemakers' bureau course in "Kitchening" which opens a three-day session on Wednesday, May 9, at the Sacajawea ballroom with 2 o'clock set as starting time, doors to be opened at 1 o'clock. According to advices received from Mrs. Julia Lee Wright, national director of the bureau, each of the three days will feature one type of food-preparation, but not to the exclusion of all others, each program being carefully balanced to provide the utmost interest. Coming here as Mrs. Wright's personal representative to conduct the cooking school after years of experience and weeks of special preparation on "Kitchening's" 1934 editions is Mrs. Marian Rogers Spencer. Fitted not only by university training in home economics, but by a background of practical work in this field as well as by home-making of her own, Mrs. Spencer has come to be looked upon by her contemporaries as one of the outstanding home-economists of the west. In the words of Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Marian Rogers Spencer combines the viewpoint of youthful enthusiasm with the mellowing influence of experience. "Since attending the University of Washington, she has not only enjoyed the responsibilities of maintaining her own home, but she has added to her training and her own domestic life the invaluable knowledge that comes with public contacts in home economics work. We are very proud indeed to have such a capable young woman as a member of our staff and we believe that the housewives of La Grande will be able to profit greatly from the inspiring course she is bringing and will, in addition, enjoy her fascinating method of presentation to the utmost." Mrs. Spencer's experience, following university work, began with the home economics department of a leading Seattle newspaper. Later she became home service director of a

AT THE LIBERTY

The role that Greta Garbo portrays in her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring picture, "Queen Christina," now showing at the Liberty theatre, is similar in many respects to her own glamorous personality. The picture was produced after arduous preparations were outlined for its filming with Walter Wagner at the helm as the producer. Critics are unanimous in the opinion that the picture affords Garbo the greatest characterization she has yet essayed. Doubly of interest, the production also marks the return of John Gilbert to the screen and his reunion with Garbo after a picture separation of five years.

Two years ago, she became affiliated with the Safeway Stores Homemakers' bureau, and in this connection, as in her others, she has broadened her reputation as a home economics expert until she has become nationally-known in her chosen field.

HOW WILL YOUR GARDEN GROW? FOR many of us who have only dabbled in the soil, a bright row of fragrant flowers will always hold the greater charm, yet there are good reasons why the kitchen garden is winning a place in the sun. A foremost industrialist says that home-grown vegetables are an economic need; a correspondence school is teaching how to make the backyard garden pay; and the producers and purveyors of garden accessories are making it easier for you to coax from the good earth either hunger-satisfying foods or blooms that fill the soul. Read the advertisements in this newspaper for up-to-the-minute gardening news. They supplement the information provided by our own writers; they feature new implements or new services and tell you where to secure most of the things the modern garden needs. The advertisements in this newspaper are signed by merchants and manufacturers who have reputations for fine quality, fair prices and square dealing. The things they sell will help you save money and have more success with your garden.
