President's Son Drives Ford V-8

VIC ECKLEY TAKES OVER POST OFFICE

(Continued From Page One) Huron said he had no immediate plans for the future, but that his work as colonel in the Oregon national guard, commanding the 180th Infantry, and as chairman of the semi-centennial U. P. celebration committee here, would keep him busy throughout the early summer. He has no intentions of changing his residence to some other city, he said, and will continue to make his home in the Sacajawea. Postmaster Eckley will continue his affiliation with Trotters, Inc., although he will be in the role of "silent partner" in this business now, as the post office will require all his working hours.

NRA To Retreat On One Front Shortly

may prevent doing what many would prefer, which is to tear up what some call the "nuisance" codes and forget them. They are therefore promoting the idea of letting all service establishments which want to comply with wage and hour terms so as to display the Blue Eagle, do so. Then, if the bulk of service establishments in any one city insist on a local code, they may have one. But the NRA will not urge it on them.

The retreat probably will not extend to retail trade proper. Despite the great number of small units involved the retail codes are considered advisable for recovery purposes. Officials point out that they cover relatively well organized trade employing a few million people; that they regulate the outlet which can police coded manufacturers; and that they check in considerable measure undue competition of chain stores and mail order houses with little business.

THE NRA, through the retail tire code, effective Monday, May 14, is requiring approximately 20 per cent price increases on Ward's Rambler tires.

We would prefer to continue the low prices made possible by our economical method of selling tires. We regret that we cannot do so after the NRA order fixing these prices becomes effective next Monday.

Here's why-Luckies do not dry out

why-Luckies are All-Ways kind to your throat

The difference between cigarettes is the difference between what goes into them and how they are put together. Luckies use only the clean, center leaves, for these are the mildest leaves—they taste better. That's why farmers are paid higher prices for them. And Luckies get the benefit of the famous process—"It's toasted"—for your throat protection.

And every Lucky is round, firm and fully packed. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—that's why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker.

Yes, Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.
