

OUTLINES PLANS FOR BETTERMENT OF COMMUNITIES

Mrs. Harry P. Cramer, of Portland, representing the National Council for Parent Education, the federal government of education and the Oregon Mental Hygiene society was in La Grande Tuesday and met with representatives of the several local civic bodies. Superintendent Herbert Evans presided during the afternoon and later made temporary chairman looking toward the perfecting of a community council.

Mrs. Cramer explained that the organizations which she represented were endeavoring to interest parents, particularly, in a community program which had for its purpose, a greater effort to keep down delinquency and crime among children and to raise the standard of childhood. For adults, the program asks for a more profitable use of one's spare time. To reach these ends, she suggested various modes of procedure such as the forming of clubs, etc.

As far as the work for children was concerned, she expressed her approval of the summer playground project which is a community affair and projected by a similar council to which she had previously referred.

Mrs. Cramer called attention to the changing conditions in the home. Smaller families have made it necessary, generally, for the child to look for its pleasure and company outside the family. The mother, she stated, with less to do in the way of household duties, has more time for leisure, which is often spent away from the home and family. For these reasons, she said, the efforts which she represented, were being made.

There was a general discussion and one representative from each of the several organizations was asked to speak on the matter of what might

HIGHWAY CENTER LINES URGED BY O. S. MOTOR CLUB

PORTLAND, Ore. (Special) — Additional safety and driving ease and an apparent two-foot widening of all main-traveled highways at a cost of $25 a mile will result from completion of the center-line highway marking project long advocated by the Oregon State Motor association and carried through this year as a part of the state highway program. It was announced today by J. A. Crittenden, director of the association in charge of highway traffic.

A yellow center line, painted by a battery of three marking machines, will be placed on all important roadways, Crittenden said. Wear-resisting paint has been purchased and the marking project will be completed as soon as weather permits.

An exact cost analysis shows that this additional driving safety and convenience will be granted Oregon motorists and visitors to the state at a cost of .0023 cents per foot. It has been demonstrated by a close check on state police accident reports that center-line marking reduces accidents on highways at night by 75 per cent.

Yellow paint is used because it is most visible under all lighting conditions. Mr. Crittenden declared. It is equally distinguishable in sunlight, darkness and fog, and actually gives a two-foot wider highway clearance by keeping motorists within their lanes of safety, traffic engineers declared.

The motor association was largely responsible for the purchase of the first center-line marking machine three years ago. Since that time two additional machines have been added.

"We think center line marking is the most efficient method of spending dollars for highway safety," said Mr. Crittenden. "The center line sorts traffic and indicates the lane of safety for each driver. It adds two feet, in effect, to the width of the highway."

Tokio Statesman To Visit F. R.

Building of better feeling between the U. S. and Japan is seen as the aim of Fumimaro Kono, above, head of Japan's house of peers, in his visit with President Roosevelt in June. Kono, 43, is one of the youngest Japanese ever to hold his present high position and is mentioned as in line for the premiership.

Has Broken Fingers—While trying to rope an animal several days ago, Troy Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Becker, of the Frosty district, had the misfortune to have his left hand caught in the rope in such a manner that the bones in the two small fingers were broken. It was quite a painful experience and Troy is having to carry his hand in a splint for the present.

To Enterprise—Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reavis and daughter, Joanna Mae, of Union, and Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Reavis, of La Grande, spent last weekend at the home of the men's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reavis, at Enterprise. Their visit in that section included a trip to Wallowa Lake on Sunday.

Moving To La Grande—Lawrence Gray, who has been living in the Wolf Creek neighborhood out from North Powder, has moved to La Grande where he has secured employment. Mrs. Gray, who is finishing the year as one of the teachers in the Wolf Creek school, will join her husband in the county seat when school is out.

Having Difficulty—Kenneth Sanderson, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Sanderson, of Dry Creek, has been having some serious nasal trouble following an accident some time ago in which he had his nose broken. X-rays are being taken and the boy taken to doctors in order to ascertain the difficulties.

Flowers—This is the time of year to drive to Union to see Mrs. Ed Miller's Austrian copper roses — as well as the quantities of other beautiful flowers in her gardens. But the copper roses are quite the outstanding items. We noticed some in Mrs. Merton Kiddle's garden at Island City, too. At Mrs. Coulter's in the Iowa district the iris and tulips were just gorgeous this week and on nearer town, Mrs. E. D. Whiting's columbines in marvelous colors are worth seeing. The wheat heading out in some localities, alfalfa being cut in others, a trip around the valley right now should be a sure cure for many ills.

Home Sunday—Miss Eva Ledbetter, who is finishing another year as teacher of home economics in the Lewiston High school, is expected home Sunday. Her father, W. R. Ledbetter, of near Alicel, will drive to Lewiston Saturday and bring her home.

Accident At North Powder—Esther Loochie, of North Powder, sustained a broken arm, a torn ear, and other bruises, and Mrs. Albert Sallor received such bruises on her head to cause unconsciousness when the two women were thrown between the front wheels of a wagon and the hind feet of two horses at the Frank

Blaze Early Today Burns H Ave. Garage

A private garage at 1106 H avenue, was burned to the ground this morning. The alarm was turned in at 3:25 a. m. after the fire had too great a start to save the building. A car, near the garage, was damaged slightly, mostly through burning tires, but there was little in the garage at the time of the blaze. Dell Turnbow occupies the residence at the place. The origin of the fire was unknown, according to city firemen.

Return From West Oregon

Sheriff and Mrs. Jesse Breshears have returned from Portland where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Fannie Madden which was held there Monday morning. Mrs. Madden was a resident of the Cricker Flat district near Elgin a number of years ago and Mr. Breshears was employed by her husband when a young man. The Breshears were accompanied to Portland by John Crawford and he and Mrs. Crawford, who is a daughter of Mrs. Madden, returned home with them.

First Shipment of Lambs Made

The Blue Mountain Livestock association made its first shipment this season of fat lambs Tuesday to Portland. This shipment is reported to be especially fine as the lambs averaged 84 pounds, which is the highest pound average of any shipment to be made in several years.

Joe Taylor, steel riveter in Oklahoma City, fell seven stories from the framework of a skyscraper and lived.

Alice Milne Given Honor

Miss Alice Milne of this city who is a student at the Oregon State college, Corvallis, has been elected to Kappa Kappa Alpha, national honorary in art, according to word received here today. Miss Milne entered the college last fall after having completed the prescribed course at the Eastern Oregon Normal school.

A survey of Washington university undergraduate reading tastes disclosed a preference for mystery and detective stories.
