

ANGELS INCREASE LEAD AT EXPENSE OF MISSIONS 4-1

By The Associated Press
Closely contested series throughout the Pacific Coast league appeared the rule today as every team except Hollywood and the San Francisco Seals continued to alternate victory and defeat.

Los Angeles increased its lead to five full games at the expense of the second place San Francisco Seals, handing Clarence Mitchell, veteran spitballer, his first defeat in eight starts this season. The score 4-1.

The Hollywood Stars won their second straight game against the Seals, 12 to 2, succeeding them in third place by half a game. Sam Gibson, ace hurler of the Seals, was driven to the showers in the third inning.

The Seattle Indians won from the Sacramento Senators, 8 to 6, after the Senators had piled up a four-run lead in the first inning. Leo Pittner, who relieved Howard Craighead on the Indian mound in the second inning, allowed the Senators only five hits and two runs for the rest of the route.

A ninth inning rally brought Oakland two runs and a 3 to 2 victory over Portland. The Oaks were held scoreless until the sixth inning.

Seattle Indians Playing Before Larger Crowds

SEATTLE (AP)—Seattle's Pacific coast league baseball attendance is assured for the season.

It's like this. Seattle's baseball plant burned down a couple of years ago and the Indians moved to the civic stadium, constructed primarily for football.

Uncomfortable seats, bad plays on the skinned diamond—and a poor team—kept the fans away last season.

Because of lack of funds nothing better was in sight for this year, but in the nick of time along came Santa Claus in the role of old "CWA." The existing arrangement was to be changed and the diamond fixed up with sod. Everything was progressing nicely until CWA ran out of money and quit in the middle of the job, making it worse than ever.

What was to be done? Well, business manager, Bill Klepper, stepped in, ordered a flock of passes printed, talked the CWA employees into going back to work for the ducks—one for each hour of labor—and the fix was finished. School kids did the painting for more passes and free "hot-dogs," and season tickets were given away for tools and material.

So, for just about the rest of the season, the Seattle Indians should play before bigger crowds than usual.

is, reprisals against treaty violations) in specific cases should the United States as well as other nations interested agree to it formally.

"Nevertheless," said Sir John, "it must be recognized that a policy of sanctions cannot be set up like a bottle of medicine for dosage where and when it is needed. This is a matter necessitating the full review of each individual case and, before action by any power of this nature is taken, all interested must formally agree."

Simon reaffirmed Great Britain's desire to reach an agreement at Geneva on disarmament and said Great Britain already has sent an example in the reduction of arms and now it is up to other nations to follow suit.

Charges that Japan is planning to carve out of Chinese territory a "Manchukuo number two" were made by Sir Stafford Cripps during the debate.

Asserting that Great Britain through "vacillation and weakness of policy" is helping Japan's hand in China, he suggested the cooperation of Britain, Russia and the United States in a program aimed at halting Japanese expansion in the Far East.

VOTERS MOVE SLOWLY TO THE POLLS

partisan ballot for election of two supreme court justices and 12 circuit judges.

Portland, Ore., May 18 (AP)—While statisticians predicted a 40 to 50 per cent vote, the Oregon electorate today quietly wrote the conclusion to a huge volume of campaign "literature" which had urged the nomination.

For 12 hours, from 8 a. m. to 8 o'clock tonight the 461,914 registered voters of Oregon had their opportunity to act in today's statewide nominating election.

In addition to the usual Republican and Democratic tickets for governor, three congressmen, secretary of state and other offices, there was a large non-partisan ballot for election of judges, and a list of five referended items, the most important of which was a proposed 1 1/2 per cent state sales tax for relief of financially distressed elementary schools.

The campaign was brought to a rousing conclusion last night as candidates, striving to bring interest to its highest pitch, fired the last volley at the ballot markers.

With the return of legal liquor, there came, too, a return of the old law banning sale of such liquor on election day. All state liquor stores and agencies were ordered to remain closed today, and in Portland the anti-alcoholic rule was applied even to beer, in order that the X-markers might function with a clear head and a steady hand.

In Multnomah county (Portland) it was predicted today's vote would be about 50 per cent of the registration, although the county clerk said the Democratic vote might run as high as 60 per cent because of interest in the Democratic nomination for governor.

DILLINGER'S HAND SEEN IN BANK JOB

Dillinger is believed to have hidden in the mine.

The Dubuque (Iowa) Herald-Telegraph, with a similar report of the finding of the hideout, said confirmation had come from Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the Chicago office of the federal bureau of investigation, but at Purvis' headquarters it was said information on the confirmation was lacking.

The Telegram-Herald also reported that the agents had found the farm house where Edward G. Bremer, kidnaped St. Paul banker, had been held prisoner. The house is situated not far from the abandoned mine. Previous reports had linked the Dillinger mob with the $200,000 "snatch" of Bremer.

Bonus Marchers Parade in Capital

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—Shouldering roughly lettered banners demanding payment of the bonus, 650 marchers swung past the White House. Tattered veterans and a few women joined in Washington's third bonus march in as many years. Their placards indicated they had assembled from all but half a dozen states.

It was an orderly march.

Ratification of Arms Control Asked By F. R.

Shipments to the warring nations of Bolivia and Paraguay, but it was believed the president sought the treaty ratification to join in that effort.

Mr. Roosevelt also urged that the world disarmament conference reconvening on May 29 set up authority "for the supervision and control of the traffic in arms much more far reaching than those which were embodied in the convention of 1925" which is now before the senate.

The president further wholeheartedly endorsed the senate investigation into the manufacture of arms and munitions proposed by Senator Nye (R., N. D.). He promised close cooperation with the investigating committee.

GENEVA, May 18 (AP)—Maxim Litvinoff, Russian commissar for foreign affairs, arrived here unexpectedly today to consult with league of nations leaders on the question of disarmament and possibly the soviet union's entry into the league.

The arrival of the Russian diplomat created a sensation in league circles deeply discouraged over the apparent impasse in moves toward an accord on arms.

NEW YORK, May 18 (AP)—Signs of business recession were noted today in the weekly trade review of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc.

"Droughts, unreasonable weather, undetermined outcome of pending legislation and curtailed operations in many industries have left in their wake instability of prices and a less insistent demand for merchandise, accompanied by the gathering of labor clouds over some of the chief centers of production," the review reported.

Her Range cooks the Dinner... not the Cook!

Electric cookery is cool. Complete insulation keeps the heat in the oven. Clean, it never blackens cooking pots. Automatic, it cooks a complete dinner while she's out for the afternoon.

LOOK at her kitchen thermometer, and you'd never guess she had just taken a roast from the oven. Her electric range is insulated—top, sides and bottom. No flow of air through the oven to carry heat into the room. The heat stays inside the range. Her kitchen stays cool.

And so does she. No hard scouring of pots and pans. Clean electric heat doesn't blacken cooking utensils.
