

THREE MEMBERS OF LEGISLATURE ARE ELIMINATED

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Only three incumbent members of the Oregon legislature who had filed for re-nomination were eliminated from membership in the 1935 session, while another who had not filed was nominated by the write-in method.

State Senator W. F. Woodward, veteran Multnomah county member, was eliminated. In the Republican primaries by Roy K. Terry, should Senator Jay Upton be elected for congress from the second district his place would have to be filled in the upper house.

Elias Snedecor, Democratic leader in the house last year from Multnomah county, was eliminated in his race, while Arthur McPhillips, Democrat from Yamhill county, likewise lost out in the primaries. Charles H. Childs of Linn county was nominated by the write-in method.

With these eliminations, the house will see at least 20 new faces in the legislature opening next January 14, while eight new members will be in the senate, just half of the number of the upper house seats vacant for the 1934 elections. Twenty-seven house members and seven senate members did not file for entrance in the primaries.

Nominations include: Union county (house): Ernest H. De Long, Republican; Vernon D. Bull, Democrat.

Wallowa county (house): C. T. Hockett, Republican; Joe F. Fisher, Democrat.

Morrow-Umatilla-Union counties (senate): H. E. Bean, Republican; Jack E. Allen, Democrat.

Umatilla county (house): James A. Best, Republican; Bruce Shangle, Democrat.

Baker county (senate): W. H. Strayer, Democrat, unopposed.

Navy Showdown Due; U. S. Plays Its Hand

Secretary Swanson said at his press conference that the United States would consider extending its naval bases in the Pacific if the Japanese insisted on increasing the ratio of their navy to that of this country.

TOKYO, May 24 (AP)—Secretary Swanson's insistence on maintenance of the 5-5-2 treaty naval ratios as among the United States, Great Britain and Japan, evoked today a strong official expression of Japan's refusal to agree to an extension of present limitations and agreements beyond 1936.

Japan insists that the Washington and London treaties be replaced.

Judge William Ramsey

Judge William M. Ramsey, McMinnville, Oregon, is to be the guest of honor at the Fiftieth Anniversary Banquet of the Willamette University College of Law to be held at Salem on May 26. Judge Ramsey, former Circuit Judge and Supreme Judge, organized and was the first dean of the law school. He came to Oregon when but a few months old and is now past eighty-six.

BLOODY WAR KILLS 2 IN OHIO STRIKE

a. m. They had replied to brick-barrage, first reports said they were not used. At least 5,000 persons were crowded in streets near the plant watching the battle and participating in it.

The possibility that rioters also were using guns was seen as a guardman was included in the wounded brought to St. Vincent's. He had been shot below the ear.

Thomas Ramsey, head of the Automotive Federal Workers Union, mingled with the crowd before rocks throwing and general fighting began. He said he had warned against violence. "We had this strike for a month without serious trouble," he said. "Then police were replaced by special deputies paid by the Auto-Lite officials. Now we have the troops."

Company officials insisted that the plant would resume full operations tomorrow, but it was reported that civic leaders were urging a shutdown to prevent further bloodshed.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 24 (AP)—National guardsmen were mobilized for strike duty and ready for call today as striking truck drivers and truck owners observed a truce under which neither side will take any action before 9 p. m., tonight.

SENATOR NORRIS BEATEN BUT WILL CONTINUE FIGHT

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Norris, to whom defeat is "heat" and drink has announced a campaign to give America a more nearly perfect democracy "before Eddie."

The 73-year-old Republican independent senator lost only the other day in a battle to abolish the electoral college and encourage independent candidates. The senate voted down his proposed constitutional amendment, for a second time, 52 to 29. A two-thirds vote was required.

Undiscouraged, he declared he would not only continue the fight but would take the stump in Nebraska soon to fight for an amendment to the state constitution setting up a single house legislature, instead of the present bi-cameral system.

This he believes will be the first step in a nation-wide movement to reform state and local governments in the interests of the people.

"When I die," he said in an interview, "any benefit to my country is wiped out unless I can reform—not the law, but the machinery of government. I want to leave behind me a more nearly perfect democracy."

Experience in state government, he said, has shown "the interests have been served against the people by things we innocently did in the name of democracy."

The amendment he desires would create a house of from 20 to 50 members in place of the two houses now with a total membership of 133.

He declared it would take politics out of the legislature and make it impossible "to pass the buck from one house to the other."

Also, he said, the amendment would "do away to a large extent with lobbying." Lobbyists, he said, do not succeed so well when legislatures are small and well paid.

"They have a picnic in large legislatures where the members get small salaries," he added.

BOSTWICK PLANS ANOTHER CHASE TRY AT ANTHREE NEW YORK (AP)—With the Grand National at Anthree his objective, George H. (Pete) Bostwick, wealthy steeplechase jockey and owner, is planning an extensive campaign on the English turf next winter. "I probably will not do much riding in America this year but plan to ride again in England during the winter hunt meetings," says young Bostwick. "I do plan to play a lot of polo this summer, however."

Bostwick, who has not ridden since marrying last fall, has a stable of 11 flat runners quartered at Belmont park under the tutelage of Sammy Smith. He spends many of his mornings at the track watching his charges go through their paces and frequently throws a leg over one of them for a gallop around the training oval.

He rode C. V. Whitney's Dusky Foot in the 1933 grand national but fell at Bechers Brook.

NO NOM DE GUERRE FOR THE YOUNGER COCHRANE! MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)—Archie Cochrane, brother of the famous Mickey, manager of the Detroit Tigers, is not following his brother's formula for breaking into professional ball. He is trying to land a first base job with the Manchester club in the newly organized Northeastern league, under his own name.

Years ago when Mickey broke in, after trying his hand at the semi-pro game, he signed up with the Dover club in the Eastern Shore league under the name of King. It was only after Mickey was sold to the Portland club in the Pacific Coast league that he decided to play under his own name, which became a big one in baseball when Connie Mack paid $50,000 for him.

DAUNT WOMEN OF LINKS SEATTLE (AP)—Women golfers of Washington are willing to admit their age.

Steps have been taken by the Washington State Women's Golf association to inaugurate a women's tournament for seniors. And much to the amusement of many of the members, 10 feminine players readily admitted they were 50 or more.

As one eligible explained it, the elderly women are proud of the fact that they still can shoot a good game at 50.

"We would rather the world did know our ages when we can still carry our clubs around after reaching the half-century mark," she said.

Plans are to hold the first tournament, a one-day affair, in conjunction with the women's state meet at Bellingham next year.

LITTLE AT A TIME, COACH, PUB-LEASE! CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—We haven't seen anything yet, claims Eddie Farrell, Harvard track coach, in regard to the 55-foot shot-putting of Jack Torrance of Louisiana State.

"Torrance apparently has attained the speed which is of such vital importance," Farrell explains, "and with his strength and poundage, he'll leave the 16-pound ball over 58 feet before he's through. It may sound crazy, but so did talk about 14-foot pole vaults not so many years ago."
