Dedication at Elgin Sunday Impressive

The dedication of the memorial was placed in this particular cemetery. It is the only memorial of the kind in Eastern Oregon, she stated. One of the most impressive features of the afternoon was the raising of the flag by Mrs. Lucie Buell, patriotic instructor of the La Grande tent, who was assisted by Ruth and John Oliver, the small children of the recently departed comrade J. W. Oliver. The flag was raised as the "Star-Spangled Banner" was played by Roy Smith, director of Elgin, the audience standing at attention. The dedicatory prayer was offered by W. H. Culp, of Elgin.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Eliza Neukirchner, president of the La Grande tent, who expressed the hope that the memorial might instill in visitors a new patriotism and a memory of the heroic deeds of the comrades for whom the memorial had been placed. Mrs. Martha Russell, president of the cemetery association received the gift in a gracious manner. The Elgin male quartette, Messrs. Calvin Plants, Lester Davies, Nile Graham and R. L. Shoemaker sang "Tenting Tonight" and later in the afternoon "Just Before The Battle, Mother."

Mrs. Ethel V. Andrews, of Astoria, department president of the D. of U. V., in the dedicatory address, referred to that army of men who served through four long years of gravest hardships and dangers that these United States might be preserved to posterity a perfect Union, one and inseparable. At the close of the Civil War, they left behind many thousands of their comrades who had made the supreme sacrifice for the preservation of the Union. In May, 1868, General John A. Logan, then commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. requested all posts to set aside May 30 as a Memorial day, dedicated to the memory of their fallen comrades.

"For 66 years our fathers have faithfully obeyed the command, arranging and taking part in the exercises. . . . It is indeed fitting that this group of Daughters chose this particular Sunday to dedicate a memorial to the Grand Army, and, now, in behalf of Joanna Mellon Tent No. 14, Dept. of Oregon, D. of U. V. of the Civil war, 1861-1865, I lovingly and reverently dedicate this to the memory of our fathers."

Among the short talks were those by Mrs. Fred Braden mother of La Grande Tent for the civil war veterans, H. E. Coolidge for the Spanish War veterans, Rev. Paul De F. Mortimore and A. R. McCall for the World War veterans.

After the song by the quartette, the allegiance to the flag was given, the benediction pronounced by Rev. Mr. Smith and taps sounded by Bugler Smith.
