Over The Valley Personals

From The Austin's—

Friends in the valley of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Austin, who formerly lived on the side-hill road near La Grande and later on the Smith place west of Summerville, will be interested to know that Mr. Austin is recovering from a major operation performed at the Sacred Heart hospital in Spokane and has returned to their home near Kalispell, Mont. Mr. Austin was not well when the family moved from the valley last fall and the word is that it is believed the seat of the trouble has been found and corrected.

—o—

Gets Fine Position—

Cleland Wallsinger, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wallsinger, of the Valeria district, is graduating the first of June from the University of Oregon. Cleland has been given a very good position with the Swift Co. and has already taken up his duties.

—o—

Entertain At Dinner—

Mrs. Will Adler and daughter, Genevieve entertained a group of friends at dinner at their home near La Grande, Wednesday, complimentary to Miss Alice Klippel and Miss Amanda Zabel. There was dinner at eight and a few hours of bridge following for the two honorees, Mrs. Ruth Jackson, Mrs. R. F. Tyler and the Misses Mae Stearns, Alta Lillie, Mabel Doty and Mabel Morton.

—o—

From Muddy Creek—

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Loening and their two daughters spent Memorial day in the valley at the home of Mrs. Loenning's father, W. R. Ledbetter, near Alicel.

—o—

F. F. A.'s Entertain—

The Imbler chapter of Future Farmers of America sponsored a picnic last Friday at Cove in honor of the girls of the home economics department who helped them prepare and serve the Father and Son banquet early this year. In the early afternoon a swim was enjoyed, games were played and in the evening a weiner roast climaxed the day's fun. The cakes were furnished by the girls and the F. F. A. boys donated material for the five gallons of strawberry ice cream that was a welcome addition to the picnic supper.

The boys financed their picnic with money they made on their very successful barn dance in the gymnasium, May 4. Transportation to Cove was furnished by Milo Pratt who took a great many of the students in his truck. About 50 attended the festive occasion.

Walter Emrick, advisor of the Future Farmer chapter and Miss Gertrude Oehler, director of the Home Ec. club accompanied the group. The guests for the afternoon and evening were J. W. King, Miss Margaret Rose Callihan, Milo Pratt and Mrs. Walter E. Emrick. The committee in charge of arranging the picnic were Charles Noyes, chairman, Charles McCoy and Tom Craig.

—o—

From Portland—

Mrs. Margaret Oliver arrived in the valley Wednesday morning from her home in Portland for an extended visit with her relatives of the Wallsinger family and her many old friends in the valley. Mrs. Oliver makes an annual visit here at the Memorial day season.

—o—

Many Parties—

The swimming pool at Cove is proving a very popular place already this summer with large and smaller groups taking advantage of the improved picnic grounds this year as well as of the pool. The manager, Royal Borkgren, prior to the opening of the season (in fact there was no opening, inasmuch as the mild winter made swimming possible all through the so-called winter months) made many improvements. The road to the picnic grounds has been changed so that in place of going around the more circuitous route, one turns to the left at the corner of the pool. Tables with shed coverings, piped water and other conveniences are found there now. Parties at the pool recently have been.—Scout troop No. 23, of Union, the American Association of University Women, the lower grades of the Imbler school, scout troop No. 18, of La Grande, the teachers of Union, the Island City, Perry, Fruitdale, Summerville, Valeria, Moss Chapel, Hilgard, Elgin and Willow schools, the F. F. A. and home ec depts. of Imbler school, the first ward deacons and teachers and the P. D. Q. club of La Grande.

YOUTH FATALLY INJURED

LEBANON, Ore., June 2 (AP)—Stanley Vernon Mays, 15, was fatally injured near here last night when a truck carrying nine children overturned four miles east of Lebanon. The children were en route home from the Lebanon strawberry festival.

AT THE LIBERTY

Wallace Beery comes from such triumphs as "The Big House," "The Champ," "Bell Divers," "Grand Hotel" and "Dinner at Eight" to play the Mexican war lord, Pancho Villa, in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's spectacular film presentation, "Viva Villa!" coming to the Liberty theatre Sunday. As the unconquerable figure of Mexican revolutionary history, Beery is said to have a characterization which eclipses all of his previous film roles.

About Stamps

By Elra Martin, Well Known Stamp Authority

Postmaster General James A. Farley has announced that the government will issue a set of stamps honoring the following national parks: Yosemite, Cal.; Grand Canyon of the Colorado, Arizona; Mount Rainier, Washington; Mesa Verde, Colorado; Yellowstone, Wyoming; Zion, Utah; Acadia, Maine; Sequoia, Cal.; Glacier, Montana; Great Smoky Mountain, North Carolina and Tennessee. Colors, designs and date for sale of each will be announced later. It is expected that this issue of stamps will be from 1c to 10c and the size may be the same as the George Rogers Clark. This set of stamps should be a very attractive issue and undoubtedly will be popular with the public as well as most stamp collectors.

* * *

The house of representatives has voted without a dissenting vote to extend the "franking privilege" to Mrs. Grace Goodhue Coolidge, widow of President Coolidge. The senate is also expected to pass the measure shortly. It has been the custom of presidents the privilege of sending their letters without postage, their signature is placed on the letter instead of a stamp.

* * *

Mrs. Wm. Hesse, a local collector, has been presented with a beautiful stamp cabinet by members of her family to house her "millions" of stamps. Mrs. Hesse not only has thousands of duplicates but a very fine general collection as well. It was Mrs. Hesse who discovered that Mrs. Mary Hoffmann's collection contained some very rare and valuable stamps worth thousands of dollars.

* * *

The Charleston commemorative stamp was issued to commemorate the two hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the province of Carolina, as well as the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of the original settlement near the site of the present city of Charleston, S. C. This stamp is the same size as the current 2 cent ordinary postage stamp and is printed in red ink. In the upper half of the stamp is a semi-circular ribbon bearing the words "United States postage," in dark Roman letters, while in a similar ribbon in the lower half are the words "Charleston, S. C." The ends of the lower ribbon are split to form scrolls which hold two sprays, the scroll on the left bearing the word "Rice" and that on the right the word "Indigo," the principal products of the early colony. In the upper corners are the years "1680" at the left and "1930" at the right, in white numerals and in both lower corners in small ovals appears the white numeral "2."

Connecting these ovals is a panel containing the word "Cents" in white Roman letters. The central design depicts the figures of a colonial governor and a friendly Indian standing on the beach, with two ships anchored in the bay. Under the figures in a straight line are the words "Two hundred and fiftieth anniversary." The Charleston stamp was placed on sale April 10, 1930 at Charleston, S. C. The issue was 25,215,574 stamps.
