Sunshine Greets Crowd at Grounds This Afternoon For Arena Show

LOCAL EXHIBITS SHARE IN PRIZES

Wallowa Stock Judging Team Places First in Annual F. F. A. Eastern Oregon Contest.

UNION, Ore., June 8 (Special) — The second day of the 26th annual Eastern Oregon Livestock show found clearing skies and this afternoon, warm sunshine greeted the big crowd that gathered for the first afternoon of entertainment at the grounds. A caravan of cars arrived from La Grande about 1 o'clock, and many others from that city were here for "La Grande Day."

In spite of mud and darkening skies yesterday many were active about the grounds and a general feeling of optimism prevailed. Stockmen and farmers were in good spirits due to the benefits to be derived to their crops from the rains.

As far as stock exhibits are concerned this year's show is the best in several years. The barns are full of fine quality stock and the entries in any one division of F. F. A. or 4-H club stock, horse or cattle alone are worth a trip to the grounds to see. Most of the stock judging was com-

Local Wrestling Fans to Witness Match at Union

Wrestling fans of La Grande are expecting an unusual treat tonight at Union, when an all-star grappling bout will be staged in the Union gym beginning at 7 p. m. as part of the entertainment program of the 26th annual Eastern Oregon Livestock show. Indications today were that several score fans here would make the trip to Union to see the match, which promises to be one of the best ever staged in this section.

John Preeberg, 229-pounder of Chicago, and who has wrestled many main events in Portland, Seattle and other western cities, will take on an Oregon boy—Bob Kruse, the 210-pound barefoot wrestler from Oswego, at one time a member of the Portland police force. Kruse wrestled in La Grande a couple of years ago and made a decided impression on local fans.

Besides the main event, a couple of heavies will take part in the semi-final, both weighing in at 200 pounds. They are Leo Jensen, of Vancouver, B. C., and Herman Olsen, of Portland, both well known in wrestling circles.

The curtain raiser was scheduled to find Jack Cox, 195-pound Union grappler, facing Kernen Houde, 195, of Enterprise, but there was some possibility that Houde's spot on the card may be replaced with some other matman.

Joe Singer of La Grande is promoter of the match, which is sponsored by the stock show association.

STOLEN MONEY ORDERS ARE PASSED HERE

Postmaster Victor Eckley has issued a warning against cashing money orders numbered 47,613 to 47,800 stolen from Shaniko, Ore., and money orders 24,010 to 24,200 stolen from Unity. These money orders have been passed, he reports, by two men in several Eastern Oregon and Idaho cities. Two of the money orders were passed on La Grande merchants.

Everybody Passes The Buck to F. R.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 7—Both sides in the steel seem anxious to strike. Well, if they would only strike just each other it wouldn't be so bad. Don't it look like there ought to be some civilized way of finding out what the employee and employer owed to each other? The latest papers say that "it's up to the president now." Is there anything difficult under the sun that's not put up to that man? He will eventually be asked to decide if the five little babies born in Canada must go to the world's fair in Chicago, or not. Yours,

Will Rogers.

GRANGES ARE PLANNING FOR FALL EVENT

QUESTION OF DATES NOT YET SETTLED

Chamber of Commerce to Take Usual Part in Fair-Show; Committee is Named By Walker.

The annual Grange Fair and Home Products show, staged each year in the early fall, will be held in La Grande in 1934. This has been definitely decided, it was reported today, but the exact dates have not been agreed on as yet.

Both the granges of the county and the chamber of commerce of La Grande, which annually join in staging the indoor fair, have started preliminary work.

Five of the seven granges of the county already have endorsed Jim Woodell as their choice for chairman of the county committee, which is to be appointed later by the county court. The Pleasant Grove grange has appointed Woodell as its choice for their committee member, and the Blue Mountain grange has asked that they be represented by Frank Jasper. Other granges are expected to make their recommendations soon.

Several of the granges already have started plans for exhibits, including Mt. Fanny and Blue Mountain. Plans

Put Quarantine On Cherries In Twelve Counties

PORTLAND, June 8 (AP)—J. S. Wieman, inspector for the state department of agriculture, announced here Thursday that cherries in 12 Oregon counties are infested with the cherry fruit fly and that quarantine regulations forbid shipment from those counties into Washington, Idaho, Montana and California, or to other counties free from the pest.

The infested counties, as listed by Inspector Wieman, are: Benton, Clackamas, Clatsop, Columbia, Lane, Lincoln, Linn, Marion, Polk, Tillamook, Washington and Yamhill.

Used cherry lugs which have not been steamed or treated with hot water may not be shipped, Wieman said.

BUSINESS SHOWS NO DROPPING OFF

NEW YORK, June 8 (AP) — Despite drouth damage to crops and tension arising from labor unrest, business still shows on the whole an inclination to move forward on the recovery trend in evidence for more than a year, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today in its weekly trade review.

"The average of industrial operations has been well maintained," it continued, "as a slight expansion in capital goods has offset the slackening reported by manufacturers of consumers' products.

"Despite the slight recession in factory activities, employment is being well maintained, and payrolls generally are at the highest level since 1931."

The review said the country was confronted with a new problem of rising living costs, with food prices likely to be higher in the fall as a result of drouth damage.

Wheat Today

No local or export quotations today because of the longshoremen's strike. Portland cash 76c.

CHICAGO, June 8 (AP) — Stimulated by strength of securities and by evening-up in anticipation of a bullish government crop report, wheat prices advanced most of the time today.

Heavy profit taking sales just at the last in wheat wiped out most of the gain. Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to ½c up compared with 24 hours previous, July 97¾@¾c; corn unchanged to ¾c higher, oats ⅝@¾c advanced, and provisions showing a rise of 10 to 15c.

FOUR NEW CITIZENS: TWO CHANGE NAMES

Four persons, a Greek, a Russian, a Pole and a Belgian took the vows of citizenship at the circuit court here Thursday, completing naturalization as American citizens.

The four were Christo Mastrogiannes, Greek; Mary Van De Wiele, Belgian; Mary Bartholoma, Russian, and Marjan Baczynski, Pole.

Of the four, the two women were married. Both men applied to and were granted permission by the court to change their names. Mastrogiannes changed his name to Christ Mastoras, and Baczynski changed his name to Marion Bach. Changing of names is not infrequent when the person being naturalized has a name that is either difficult to spell or pronounce in America.

THREE ENTER SING SING DEATH HOUSE

By Dale Harrison

OSSINING, N. Y., June 8 (AP) — It is 10:09 o'clock Thursday night in the Sing Sing death house.

Here comes Frank Pasqua, youngest member of the Bronx murder syndicate that conceived and executed the bizarre murder of durable Mike Malloy, February 23, 1933; Pasqua, married, father of a child; Pasqua, the undertaker who buried durable Mike's body in a pauper's grave.

They'll be burying Pasqua soon now. Some other undertaker will be burying him. Right now, at 10:09 o'clock Thursday night, he stares bewildered at the silent witnesses come to see him die. He is frightened. Who wouldn't be?

The black hood—the electrodes — somewhere, out of sight, the throwing of a switch—

10:15 o'clock. They don't lose much time at these affairs. That is Anthony Marino coming. He's 28, and the father of a baby. Been married seven years. He walks steadily, and he's smiling. What is there to smile about? The witnesses don't smile. The guards don't smile. It isn't their funeral. Only Marino smiles. It's his
