Airliner Burns; Seven Persons Lose Lives

Harry H. Pinsley, of New York; W. B. Bader, Buffalo, N. Y.; W. A. Cass, of Buffalo, and H. C. Coppin, Buffalo.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 11 (AP)—Aviation circles were worried when, at 1 p. m., today, nothing had been heard from the Pan-American Grace airline passenger plane which took off at 9 a. m. today for Chile. Unconfirmed rumors said it had fallen in a small lake near Junin and the airline is investigating.

ITALY PLANS LINERS TO PACIFIC TRIESTE, Italy (AP)—An Italian bid for fast passenger service to the Pacific ports of the United States and Canada is seen in plans for the construction here of three 14,000-ton, 18-knot ships for the Triestina Steamship company which already operate boats through the Panama Canal to Central America.

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil (AP)—The local "integralists," or Brazilian fascists, play no favorites in giving credit for authorship of their ideas. They recently unveiled in their headquarters portraits of Mussolini, Hitler and Dr. Plinio Salgado, leader of the movement in this country.

GERMAN SAVINGS INCREASE BERLIN (AP)—German savings banks deposits, at latest count, totaled 11,209,000,000 marks, or 44,000,000 more than the peak reached before the banking crisis of 1931. The increase in deposits was 448,700,000, greatest since stabilization of the German currency.

Sound New Note In Separation Of Jean, Harold

By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—The hazards of matrimony in filmland, where husbands and wives often are separated by duty on the lots, are frequently cited, but Jean Harlow and Harold G. Rossen appear to have found the opposite extreme equally perilous.

Rossen was behind the camera photographing Jean in "The Red-Headed Woman," and he stayed there through other Harlow productions after their marriage.

When Jean was rehearsing, Hal was always on the sidelines, whether in his capacity as husband or as cameraman it was not apparent to the casual observer, although probably it was as both. During rehearsals for her current film, "One Hundred Per Cent Pure," Hal was there as usual. As cameraman, he'd have to be. As her husband, he apparently wanted to be.

But mid-way in the filming, something happened. Rossen was relieved of the camera on this production, and Ray June, another good lens man, took it over. Hal went to the camera on "Treasure Island." This was about a week before Jean announced she would seek a divorce.

Ironie Circumstances

Whether the studio disagreement was the forerunner of domestic trouble, or merely an aftermath of an earthquake at home, remained merely one of those Hollywood questions.

At any rate, the separations came under ironic circumstances, like previous important events in the star's life.

She was merely the decorative femininity in two-reef comedies before she stepped suddenly into dazzling stardom as the siren of "Hell's Angels." That debut stamped her as the vampire type, and it wasn't Jean's idea of the stardom she'd like. Her marriage to Paul Bern, the quiet, beloved little studio executive, brought with it more sympathetic roles.

Irony pursued her in Bern's death. She became a widow while she was yet a bride.

Incongruous Setting

And then when she suddenly married Rossen—in a spectacular midnight airplane elopement to Yuma—she became a bride again after scarcely more than one year of widowhood.

And no more incongruous setting for an announcement of impending divorce could have been chosen than the wedding party of another film actress, Matron of honor at Carmelita Ceraghy's marriage to Carey Wilson, Miss Harlow put aside her own bouquet to explain the absence of her husband from the festivities.

He wasn't there, she said, because he had left home and she was getting a divorce.

And then everybody mingled speculations on the marital wreck of last September's bride with felicitations to the bride of the day!

TODAY IN BRIEF, IN AND AROUND OREGON

AS CHRONICLED BY THE DAILY LEASED WIRE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ROSE FESTIVAL BEGINS

PORTLAND, Ore., June 11 (AP)—Portland's 300,000 residents, some 5,000 Canadians, including members of the Canadian Legion and their families, and other thousands who have jammed highways and trains into the city for the past two days, today were ready to begin four days of pageantry, celebration and parades—the 26th annual Portland Rose festival.

PRESIDENT NOT SELECTED

SALEM, June 11 (AP)—An all-day meeting of the Willamette university board of trustees Saturday failed to bring forth the name of the successor to President Carl Gregg Doney, resigned, although board members stated that choice of a man for the position had virtually been agreed upon.

The board approved a report of the committee on university social life which granted tolerance to a limited number of off-campus supervised dances.

MAN, 73, CLIMBS PEAK

PORTLAND, June 10 (AP)—Judson Allen of Cottage Grove, Ore., is 73 years old, but the 11,225-foot climb to the summit of Mount Hood that has changed many a young climber into an enthusiast for the plains holds no terrors for him. Allen, with his son, Carl C. Allen, and three other men, ascended the south side of the mountain today without any trouble.

FATALLY INJURED

BURNS, Ore., June 11 (AP)—Melvin Hatfield, four years old, was fatally injured Sunday in an automobile accident 50 miles west of here. The automobile in which the child was riding overturned.

CAVES CITY BURNS

GRANTS PASS, June 11 (AP)—The community of Caves City which was founded only two years ago, was today rebuilding on the ashes of a $30,000 fire. The town is near the junction of the Redwood and Oregon Caves highway, 30 miles south of here.

Six stores and four apartments were destroyed by fire which broke out early Sunday morning. There was only one telephone in the town, and this was in the hotel which was destroyed. Thus it was impossible to summon a fire-fighting equipment from Grants Pass and other population centers.

SEAGER, 22, WAS CAPTULATED

The water as his outboard capsized.

NEW GRAVES FOR IRISH MARTYRS

CORK (AP)—Ireland's patriot dead, buried in roadside and "gallows hills" graves after being executed by the English in the 1798 and other rebellions, are to be reburied in consecrated ground. Though technically "nameless," identity and location of most of the graves have been preserved in folklore.

WALKING STICKS VANISH FROM LONDON'S SCENE

LONDON (AP)—The walking stick, emblem of elegance, is tending to disappear here.

Motoring, less attention to dress, the industrial depression and wider use of umbrellas are given by manufacturers as the reasons.

Though many an Englishman does not consider himself well dressed unless he carries a cane, the demand for walking sticks has diminished considerably and might be even less except for the calls from the hiking fraternity.

PRICES SLIP IN STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Lower prices ruled in the stock market today, although the activity dwindled appreciable on the declining trend.

With the steel strike problem still unsettled and legislative developments indecisive, some traders were disposed to take profits. The close was a bit heavy. Transfers approximated 780,000 shares.

2 FIRES HERE OVER WEEKEND RETURNS FROM P. T. A. MEET

Two fires occurred over the weekend, causing some damage. Sunday morning at 4:20 a. m. the Alice G. Ness dwelling place at 1203 N. avenue, a vacant house, caught fire in the kitchen. The damage was small as the fire was quickly extinguished by the city department.

Saturday the Joe A. Rutz place at 1303 Monroe avenue suffered about $100 loss in the roof and attic due to a defective flue.

Three hundred community canneries for the benefit of farmers have been established in Georgia within the last few years.
