Operated At Lake—
Mrs. Paul Lee, of Pendleton, underwent a mastoid operation at Hot Lake last week and is reported to be recovering nicely.

Recovering—
Mrs. C. C. Roop, of Wallowa, is recovering satisfactorily from an eye operation which she underwent last Friday at the Hot Lake sanatorium.

Here From Portland—
Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gull, of Portland, are spending a few days in La Grande on business.

Visit Here—
Dr. and Mrs. Fred E. Jones had as their guests last week Mrs. E. A. Goodnough and daughter, Miss Isabel, and son, Edgar, who are mother, sister and brother of Mrs. Jones. They returned Saturday to their home at Eugene.

From Elgin—
Miss Stella Mayfield, of Elgin, was a visitor in La Grande recently. While here she received treatment for an eye ailment.

Business Visitors—
J. M. Nertzel and Paul J. McBride, both of Boise, are spending a few days in La Grande transacting business.

Returns to Wallowa—
Jim Shaw, who has been at Hot Lake for the last two months for treatment, was able to return today to his home at Wallowa.

From Yakima—
W. T. Selleck and son, prominent fruit buyers, of Yakima, Wash., are transacting business in La Grande for a few days.

From Portland—
Gilbert Kilpack is spending a few days in La Grande visiting friends. He makes his home in Portland but has recently returned from Fresno, Cal., where he has been attending college during the last winter. During his stay here he is a guest at the home of Mrs. Bessie Geibel.

Spend Weekend Here—
Mr. and Mrs. William J. Tiss, of Boise, stopped in La Grande Saturday en route to their home from a trip to Spokane, and visited until Monday with their son, George Tiss and family.

Returns—
Mrs. George R. Lyman has returned to her home in La Grande from Salt Lake City where she attended the June conference of the L. D. S. church. Her son, Howard, accompanied her on the trip and with them on the return trip was her daughter, Marva, who will spend a few weeks in La Grande visiting. Miss Marva has been making her home at Salt Lake for the last two years.

To U. Of W.—
Miss Anne Gietlhuber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gietlhuber, left Saturday evening on the Portland Rose for Seattle. Miss Gietlhuber will attend the summer session at the University of Washington.

Visit At Kopp's—
Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wentzel and their three daughters, Helen, Betty and Roberta, were guests over night at the home of their friends, Rev. and Mrs. Clarence A. Kopp, and left today by car for Riverton, Wyo., where they are to reside in the future, Mr. Wentzel having charge of the reclamation project there. The visitors have been living in Ellensburg, Wash., and were there at the time Rev. Mr. Kopp was rector of the Episcopal church.

Countrywoman's Club—
When the Countrywomans club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Charlie Anson, 13 club members and two visitors, Mrs. Carrie Emigh and Miss Doris Nelson, were present for the meeting. Mrs. Florence Jasper, president, conducted a short business session and then an interesting program, which had been arranged by Mrs. Cora Wright and Mrs. Allie Morgan, was presented. Mrs. Mabel McAlister reviewed the strange customs of the Eskimo children. Roy Fleshman, who won first place in a recent dramatic art contest, gave two readings, "The Congo" and "Calliope." Muriel Gray and Ruth Nelson, members of the tumbling class of the athletic department in the La Grande High school, did several acts in tumbling. Before adjournment the hostess served a tray lunch. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Ralph Chenault. The program committee will be announced later.

COLORFUL FLOAT TAKES FIRST PRIZE

Red Pegasus, General Petroleum float entry in Portland Festival parade, made of 10,000 carnations, took first prize in industrial section.

WALLOWA PERSONALS

Miss Lillian Dale, 5th grade teacher, who has been enjoying a vacation trip to Eugene, Portland and The Dalles since the close of school last month, returned home Sunday.

Edwin Marvin left Monday for Portland to attend Masonic grand lodge as a delegate from Stanley lodge A. F. and A. M., Wallowa.

Mrs. Marvin and granddaughters, Edwina and Mary Elaine Bratton, have gone to spend the week at Wallowa Lake with the Misses Eula and Agatha Marvin, who are there for the summer.

Mrs. Ina Goodnough accompanied by her son, Edgar, and daughter, Isabel, motored up from Eugene the first of the week and were visiting and transacting business in Wallowa Tuesday.

Mrs. Margaret McDonald, of Wallowa Lake, spent Wednesday visiting friends here. Mrs. McDonald states that she will not return to California this fall as has been her custom for the past several years but will winter in Oregon, most probably in Portland.

Miss Geneva Sutphin is visiting in La Grande at the home of Miss Hazel Crawford. During her absence Mrs. Earl Peffer is assisting Mrs. Sutphin in the Valley cafe.

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Gregory and daughter, Katheryn, left Monday for a short trip to Portland.

Ten years old Bonnie Low Warnock, who has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Cray during the past three school years, returned this week to her home on Alder Slope and does not plan to be back this fall. Bonnie Lou is a lovable child and has made many friends in Wallowa, who regret her departure.

The first huckleberries to be reported this season were found on Dry Creek last Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Dale Renfrow, who state that berries are going to be plentiful in that vicinity this year. They are large and are a month earlier than usual.

Mrs. D. McLean left Sunday for her home in San Diego, Cal., after a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Wallowa.

Mrs. Bruce Cox left the last of the week for Salt Lake for a visit of several weeks with relatives. Mr. Cox took her as far as La Grande and saw her off on the train.

Mrs. Wm. Womack died at her home on Bear Creek Sunday afternoon, culminating a long illness of cancer. She returned to her home only last week from Seattle where she had been to seek medical aid. Mrs. Womack was 44 years of age and beside her husband, Wm. Womack, she leaves five children, a son and daughter who are grown and three small children, two sons and one daughter. Funeral services were held at the Christian church Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. C. N. Trout in charge and interment was in the Wallowa cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott McClaran and baby daughter, of Toledo, Ore., were guests last week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McClaran.

Visitors Return To West Virginia Homes

George B. Chambers, principal of the Colcord High school, Beckley, West Va., and C. D. Cook, athletic coach in the same school, left this morning by car after a short visit here at the home of the former's cousin, W. P. Ballard, and his second cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Workman. Their visit here followed a stay of a few days with relatives in Wallowa county.

The two men are on their first trip to the west and are very enthusiastic over our country here, over the hospitality and cordiality of western people. They travelled through Kentucky, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois, Kansas, Colorado, Utah and Idaho to reach this valley, passing through some of the badly stricken sections of the middle west. It is their opinion that the west has not suffered so severely as has the east during the recent hard years, following observations made en route. Today they were covering the Columbia river highway to Portland and then were to start on their return east via Spokane and a northern route. The trip from West Virginia to Enterprise, a distance of 3,020 miles, they covered in eight days which included the Pike's Peak trip among other side trips, their gas mileage was remarkable, and the only time the car retarded their time was when they picked up a nail in Kansas.

PENDLETON WILL HAVE EARLY CROP

PENDLETON, Ore., June 19 (P)—The earliest wheat harvest in Umatilla county in many years is getting underway, with some ranchers in the Echo, Nolin and Pilot Rock sections already in the field, and others ready to begin work soon.

Harvesting is expected to be general July 4, which is the usual time for starting of operations. The heavier land around Helix will yield a later crop, as both spring and winter wheat crops in that section were somewhat tardy this year.

JOSEPH PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Caulke drove to La Grande Monday morning to meet their daughter, Mrs. M. L. Persing and daughter Nadine.

The Women's Home Missionary society met with Mrs. Welthy Mitchell last Wednesday. A potluck dinner was enjoyed at noon.

Camp Clatsop To Run Off Athletic Events Friday

cots, has had 'em all along, but didn't find it out for several days. Two big bushy-tailed squirrels have their headquarters under the tent of the second squad in the first platoon, but appear only on rare occasions.

Pvt. David Hiatt acquired an unusually ambitious coat of suntan on the beach Sunday morning and as a result, was more or less kept busy with duties other than packing a rifle for three or four days. He found it a bit difficult to sleep at night—wool and sunburn mix rather obnoxiously. Corporal Joseph C. Williams also overestimated his capacity for ultra-violet rays, but was not so thoroughly reddened and went ahead with his regular duties, although with occasional twists and shifting of pack. Several of the boys are learning that the combination of sunburn and windburn on the coast is something entirely different from Eastern Oregon's unadulterated sunburns.

Sergeant Howard M. Peterson is quite elated. While in town the other day with all his medals and cavalry leggings on, some rookie came along and gave him a snappy salute. Which rather sets him apart from the other sergeants—he might even call himself a "third" lieutenant and get away with it.

The company gets some rather fine reception here at times on a Montgomery Ward & Co. radio loaned to La Grande's guardsmen by the Astoria store, through the courtesy of Jack Fariss, manager of the La Grande store. Needless to say, the entire company has a kind feeling for Mr. Fariss.

Corporal Walter F. Chadwick is enjoying camp life rather keenly this week. The reason: Mrs. Chadwick arrived in Seaside Sunday and is staying there for the remainder of the camp. Walt finds a fine opportunity to use his 100 per cent pass each evening.

Last weekend a number of "visitors" came into camp late Sunday, in civilian clothes. Some of them maintained their status as "visitors" until they passed the gate guard and could fade into O. D. apparel. Some were not so lucky — and next morning about 7 a.m. quite a few boys trugged down the street to their respective companies in civvies after spending a night in the brig. None of Company E's members were among the offenders, however.

The heaviest work of camp is over now, after brigade field maneuvers Monday and Tuesday of this week, and from now on there'll be plenty of work but more of the routine nature, winding up with combat demonstration and camp review Saturday. La Grande's unit will go on guard Sunday at 5 p. m. instead of Friday, as was at first reported. Which means that some of the boys will have to cut their Sunday visits outside of camp a few hours short.

We're Not Trying to Sell You a Suit . . . We Want to Sell You the Store.

It would be great if you came in tomorrow for a cool suit, but it would be finer still if we stood so well in your estimation that at the first thought of clothing, your thoughts turned to us.

This isn't a one suit or one season store . . . not by a long shot. It's the place to come tomorrow for a cool suit and the spot to chose in November for your warm overcoat.

It's the first place to expect style, value and absolute clothing satisfaction . . . and the last place in the world where you won't find them all.

Try us on cool clothing.
