How to select wines

Dinner Wines
Wine-time wine should always be dry wine, either red or white, depending upon type of food with which served and one's individual tastes. Dry white wine being best suited to fish, chicken and other lighter meats. Dry red wine is best for steaks, roasts, etc.

Serve dry white wines chilled... dry red wines at room temperature...

LYONS BELVISTA DRY WHITE WINES
Riesling, Chablis, Pinot Blanc, Pinot Gris

LYONS BELVISTA DRY RED WINES
Cabernet, Bordeaux, Merlot, Pinot Noir

Social Wines
Sweet Wines should be used only for social drinking, bridge parties, evening entertaining, etc. Full-bodied and rich New Dry Wines, they are unsuited for drinking with meals, but are frequently served with small cakes or crackers.

LYONS BELVISTA SWEET WINES
Fort, Sherry, Moscatel, Tokay
