

Cove District
In Good Shape

COVE (Special)—The annual school meeting was held Monday but not much interest was felt as only 22 voters turned out. The budget presented called for $7,500 to be raised by district tax, a tax slightly less than was asked for last year, and the budget was accepted. The district had $3303.36 in outstanding warrants at the close of 1933, and has paid off this indebtedness and has a cash balance of $316.18, and has also paid off $1000 of their bonded indebtedness in the year. O. M. Gardner was the retiring director and was reelected to serve three years. Mrs. Fannie E. Conklin was reelected to serve one year as clerk.

Harold Bingaman Elected Trustee

IMBLER (Special)—At the annual school meeting held Monday afternoon Harold Bingaman was elected director and L. B. Billings clerk—48 votes were cast. The board is now composed of Milo Pratt, chairman; Grant Tucker and Harold Bingaman.

John Conklin was taken to a La Grande hospital Saturday night in a very serious condition. Medical examination revealed an internal cancerous growth.

Merton Davis Is Union Director

UNION (Special) — More interest was shown in the school election held here yesterday afternoon than has been shown for several years. During the five hours that the polls were open at the high school auditorium, 292 votes were cast. There were two candidates for each of the two offices, that of three-year director and school clerk. Merton Davis defeated C. L. Cadwell as director and Mrs. Ida Cline won out over Mrs. Erma Lamb.

COVE PERSONALS

Willard Peck, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Peck, left Saturday for San Francisco and will visit in California and other points before returning to New York where he is employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company. He has been visiting relatives in Enterprise, Baker and La Grande and has renewed acquaintance with a host of friends and schoolmates. He graduated from the Cove High school in 1926 and has been in New York most of the time since then. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson B. Higgs and son, Harold DeWitt, returned to their home in Crane Wednesday. They made the trip to Cove to bring their daughter, Mary Rachel, to the summer school now being held in Cove. A picnic dinner was given for them Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fletcher. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Higgs and their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Laird, Mrs. Warren Laird and baby daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laird, Mrs. J. C. Miller and daughter, Doris, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Price and daughter, Lona Nelda, Miss La Velle and the host and hostess. Most of the party were old acquaintances, having lived in the same locality in Idaho.

Mrs. Chester Williams and son, Chester Jr., made a trip to Starkey Monday with Mrs. Williams' niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walters, of Baker. Mr. and Mrs. Walters were making arrangements for flying their plane at the rodeo to be held at Starkey Sunday. Mr. Walters is well known in Union county as a pilot and has made a number of trips over Cove while taking passengers to the Horse Ranch on the Big Minam.

Mr. and Mrs. David Arnott arrived in Cove Tuesday. Mr. Arnott lived in Cove for a number of years with his aunt, Mrs. Squire Thomas, and was a graduate of the grade school. Mr. and Mrs. Arnott, who have been married very recently, expect to be in Cove during the fruit season at least and perhaps will remain longer.

Rev. Sidney Creasey, who was arch deacon of the Eastern Oregon diocese for so many years, arrived in Cove Wednesday evening for a few days at the summer school. He is now located on the Indian reservation in Arizona.

A MAN'S SAUCE
For Thick Broiled Steak
3 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1-8 teaspoon mustard
1/2 teaspoon grated onion

Cream the butter, and blend the rest of the ingredients into it thoroughly. Spread the mixture over top of steak that has been broiled on both sides. Garnish with water-cress or parsley, and serve immediately.

Spaghetti Neapolitano
You can't overestimate its popularity.
1 package spaghetti
1 clove garlic
1/4 cup oil
1 pound chopped raw beef
1 can tomato soup
Parmesan cheese
1 pound sliced onions

Add spaghetti to furiously boiling salted water, and cook until done. Drain and blanch with clear water. In the meantime, fry the chopped garlic in the oil, and then add sliced onions, stirring frequently to prevent burning. Add the beef, and cook until tender and well browned. Stir in the soup, salt to taste, and let simmer a few minutes. Mix with the spaghetti, and sprinkle grated Parmesan cheese over it when serving. Serves six generously.
