SPLIT SEASON IS CERTAIN AS ANGEL LEAD MOUNTS UP

By The Associated Press

A split season seems a certainty as the Pacific Coast league's 12th week draws to a close with the first place gap between Los Angeles and the second place Missions wider than ever.

The baseball wise predict action will be taken this weekend to start the eight clubs on an even basis Tuesday, rather than waiting until the actual halfway mark in the series schedule is reached July 1.

The champion Angels walloped Seattle 7-1 last night, while the Missions lost their third game of the week to Oakland, 6-2, to fall 17 games behind the leaders.

For the second time this week, Major Tom Turner of Portland sent a shutout pitcher against San Francisco, this time Jack Wilson, who blanked the Seals with four bingles, 3-0.

Sacramento pulled up within four and one-half games of the second place Missions by marking up its third win of the series with Hollywood, 6-4. Jerry Donovan's third inning double with two men aboard featured a four-run assault on Jim Denmore that sent the Bolons away to an early lead.

The remainder of Company E served on the extreme right of the defending line with a beach patrol and the remainder of the group occupying a nearby knoll. Actually, the 186th at this point not only delayed the invaders but definitely defeated them, and the La Grande boys actually
