

SECOND HALF OF COAST BASEBALL SEASON STARTED

By The Associated Press

If the split season helps any club in the Coast league, Hollywood may be the team.

In fact Hollywood may even be a pennant contender in the second half, largely because of the return to form of big Smead Jolley, right fielder and key man in the Star attack. Hampered by an ailing arm since the start of the season, Jolley, who came to Hollywood from the Red Sox, is beginning to hit. His record as a home run hitter has been established by years of clouting in the Coast and American leagues.

After walloping only three four baggers during the first half of the season, Jolley came back yesterday to lift two over the fence and account for seven runs as Hollywood trounced Oakland 11-6.

In opening the second half of the split season at Portland Los Angeles looked no different than it did in running away with the first 12 weeks of play. The Angels buried the Beavers 14-4, backing up Play Thomas' 5-hit toasting with 20 lusty blows, including a four bagger by Gene Lillard and four singles by Jimmy Reese. The victory was Thomas' 14th of the season and 21st straight.

Seattle gave the home fans a treat by pounding LeRoy Hermann of San Francisco for a 6-2 win. Joe Dimaggio returned to the Seal lineup after a five weeks lay off and drove in a run with a pinch single.

Helped by eight walks by Lou Vinvi and Manuel Salvo in the seventh inning, the Missions scored seven runs on two hits and upset Sacramento 10-7 in the series opener. Vinvi and Salvo were the only genuine soloists last night, Lou Kouppal filling the bases on passes in the second to let in two runs when Clarence Mitchell doubled.

REMOVAL OF JOB OFFICE DISCUSSED AT MEET TUESDAY

the benefits of the office, at their last meeting.

C. J. Shorb acted as chairman of the meeting, and immediately following its opening it was thrown open for informal discussion of various plans for the continuance, and reasons for the discontinuance of the office. County Judge U. G. Couch was present and answered questions regarding the matter.

A suggestion was made that contact be made with the city authorities regarding the possibility of removing the office from the present headquarters in the Foley building, to a room in the city building, and thereby save $20 a month rent. Victor Melville, president of the city commission, was present and gave as his personal opinion that room would be available, but that definite action would have to be taken by the commission. It was also suggested that the city of La Grande be asked to pay $10 a month on the expense of the upkeep of this office, and thereby reduce the expense to the county to $10.

The appointment was made of a committee to represent the different organizations, the chairman of the committee to be called regarding the action of the various organizations, and he in turn to report these decisions to the county court. Judge Couch was appointed chairman of the committee with the following members: S. B. Burleigh representing the chamber of commerce; Victor Melville, the city commission; Frank Wright, the granage of the county; H. Z. Baxter, the labor council; R. J. Kitchen, chairman of the county re-employment committee; Dr. C. L. Gilstrap, the Lions; Oscar Warnock,

WORK LONGER CHANG DECREE TELLS CHINESE

NANCHANG, China (AP)—In contrast to the 6-hour-day advocated for workers in the United States, General Chiang Kai-Shek, China's virile leader, has ordered a 10-hour day in the provinces of Honan, Huppei, Anhwei, Kiangsi and Fukien, where the anti-communist campaign is in progress.

In an identical order to the five provincial governments, the generalissimo makes the following comments on working hours in China:

Licenses of Many States Seen Here

Cars representing 15 different states, exclusive of Washington, California and Idaho, were counted at random during one Sunday morning by Foster Sims, and included only those which he had serviced at his station on Adams avenue. He also states that the first five cars which drove into his station on this same morning were from other states, one each from Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Missouri and Iowa.

Of particular interest in comparison with other recent years is the fact that these cars are all of the better class of tourists. Mr. Sims states. In the past sales to tourists were mainly in small quantities of cheaper grades of gas and oil, while this year he states that the type of tourists which are mainly traveling the highway are those who buy first grade gas and oil and say "fill 'er up." This is thought to be a distinct indication of an improvement in conditions throughout the country.

FISHING SPORTS POPULARITY AS GAINS FOR KENTUCKIANS

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—It looks as though Kentucky fish are going to have a tough time of it from now until the cold winter months put a stop to angling.

Fishing seems to be gaining favor as an outdoor sport by leaps and bounds. The season recently reopened after a month's recess during the spawning period and anglers turned out by the thousands in every section of the state to try for the big ones in lakes and streams.

Curtis Allen of the state fish and game commission counted 4,040 fishing at the same time in Herrington lake near Lexington. Many fine catches are reported wherever there is water deep enough to drop a line.
