ANDERSON TRIAL SET FOR SEPT. 5

Circuit Judge J. W. Knowles sustained one demurrer and overruled the other in the two indictments from Morrow county which were heard here this morning. The case of the state against Gay Anderson, former county clerk of Morrow county, charged with embezzlement of public moneys, was overruled and the date for the trial was fixed for Sept. 5, and will be held at Heppner.

In the other indictment in which officers of a corporation operating in Morrow county figured, the demurrer was sustained and the case re-submitted to the state grand jury.

Several attorneys from Morrow county were present for the hearing, including Joe Nye, attorney from Heppner, Attorney Wade, who is assistant attorney general for Oregon; Frank Lonergan, of Portland, and others.

PENDLETON WHEAT CROP BELOW PAR

PENDLETON, Ore., June 30 (AP)—A wheat crop of from 15 to 33 per cent below average in Umatilla county was indicated from early reports of harvesting operations where growers declared their yield was from five to 10 bushels per acre under expectations.

Several things contributed to the decrease, namely, lack of moisture at the proper time, excessive heat and recent windstorms, which shattered considerable wheat.

MEMORIAL TO BE HELD IN LODGE HALL

Final arrangements were made Friday night at the meeting of the I. O. O. F. lodge for conducting memorial services tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Instead of being held at Triangle park, they will be held in the lodge hall and Rev. H. W. Hertzog will be the speaker.

Qualifying of officers for the coming year was continued until the next meeting.

It was announced that the new cemetery organization, which is separate from the lodge but carries the name of the Odd Fellows Cemetery association, had been completed, officers elected and regular meetings were being held by the board of directors. By-laws for the organization have also been perfected. Members of the board are, R. J. Kitchen, chairman; Jake Hestock, secretary; Mrs. Eva Bowers, treasurer, and W. M. Pearson and George Richardson as the other members of the board. Meetings are held the first Monday night of each month.
