OGDEN U. P. BAND ARRIVES TODAY; PLAY AT JUBILEE

The famous Old Timers U. P. band from Ogden Utah arrived in La Grande on the noon train today in special cars, and was met by Jim McLaughlin, general manager of the Semi-Centennial U. P. celebration. The band, which is equipped with four different sets of uniforms, will play here throughout the celebration which begins tomorrow and ends Saturday night.

The band will play at 3 p. m. today at the Normal school stairway.

have criticized behind them. If people as they ride upon the trains in the comfort of the observation car or berth, through cold, wind, rain and snow, could stop occasionally to think of the man up ahead and realize the responsibility that rests upon his shoulders to bring them safely through, we believe that many of those so quick to criticize our group, would be more charitable and not so willing to oppose our efforts.

"We believe thoroughly that the interests of capital and labor are coordinate. That capital is necessary for employment and employment is as necessary for capital. That anything that injures either one works injury upon all."

Cash Humphreys, in charge of arrangements for the B. of L. E. convention now in session in this city, expressed the gratitude and thanks of the organization for the fine treatment and cordiality which he said its membership was receiving from the citizens of La Grande during their stay here.

Jay Upton, of Bend, Republican candidate for congressman from this district, was a guest of the club today and was introduced to the membership.

If no one else but concession seekers came to town for the celebration hotels would be overcrowded.

Celebration committees are urging more antique and pioneer exhibits in merchant windows. Many fine displays are already being enjoyed.

The 9500 type Union Pacific locomotive, a modern monster of the rails, is spotted on the track at the depot now for all to see. Already hundreds of interested persons have gone to the depot to inspect this engine, brought here especially for the celebration.

Thirty-eight of the Indian riders in the Saturday pageant had a complete rehearsal this morning, riding down from the top of Table mountain. It takes 27 minutes to complete this ride. Saturday 10 Indian women will join them, making a total of 48 in this spectacle.

The four Indian women in the pageant also rehearsed this morning. The Indians are located at a tepee village erected on the Hubert Anderson place near the river.

THE GROWTH of the Red & White Stores has only one parallel... the growth and development of aviation. Like the mighty Stinson passenger planes which thunder through the night carrying their precious loads swiftly and safely to distant points, so the Red & White Stores are daily piloting the way to greater value-giving by passing on to you the savings from our economical, modern methods of co-operative distribution.

THE WRIGHT BROTHERS pioneered the vast expanses of the ether, first with feeble, fluttering attempts, then on to a glorious and successful accomplishment. The Red & White Stores plan of operation found its birth in the creative mind of S. M. Flickinger, of Buffalo, who, by his untiring perseverance, courage and foresight, developed the co-operative plan of food distribution which from an humble beginning has developed to one of the greatest factors in the distribution of food in the United States and the Dominion of Canada.

THE ENDURING and ever-increasing confidence of La Grande housewives in our stores during the past years, is the result of our continually directing our efforts toward the selling of quality groceries at the lowest prices consistent to good business. In every Red & White Store you will find an appealing variety of well known foods at low prices. Visit our nearest store today.

THE RED & WHITE STORES have shortened the distance between the producer and your table by going directly to the finest producing areas and carefully selecting foods of fine quality which are quickly distributed to our stores.

This Thursday, Friday and Saturday La Grande is celebrating in pageant, parade and festivities the 50th anniversary of the coming of the railroad to this section... a half century of progress that has brought growth and advancement to the village of 50 years ago into an active, modern city of the present day. We extend our congratulations to the citizens of La Grande and to the railroad people upon the completion of these 50 years of hearty service and co-operation that has made La Grande the city it is today.

AS CHRONICLED BY THE DAILY LEASED WIRE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

COMMITTEE SUICIDE

HIGHWAY MEET POSTPONED
SALEM, July 18 (AP)— The regular meeting of the highway commission, set for August 2, has been postponed indefinitely pending the allocation of federal highway funds. It was announced here today.

DOG SAVES LIFE
PORTLAND, July 18 (AP)— A friendly little dog whose actions spoke just as distinctly as words, was credited today with having saved the life of J. B. Alpin, 66, who overcame by exhaustion and lack of food, fell helplessly in the shallow waters of Gale creek near Forest Grove. The little dog led a member of a searching party to the side of the stricken man.

SOME DELAY IN ALLOTMENT
PORTLAND, July 18 (AP)— A special dispatch to the Journal today from Washington, D. C., said that "in the same tone as reports for several days, it was said by public works officials Tuesday that minor questions had delayed final word on release of money for the Oregon coast highway bridges until Wednesday." The dispatch said it was indicated the check had been completed in all but the accounting division.

Child Lives on Grass, Rain For Five Days

While the little curly-haired son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connor lay seriously ill in a hospital, to which he was taken after being found yesterday in a bramble thicket near his home, federal agents and police announced their investigations were ended.

They were convinced, they said, that the 21-month-old Bobby, who disappeared last Thursday, wasn't kidnapped at all. All evidence showed, they declared, that he had "climbed alone into the woods and had spent the five days there."

At the hospital it was determined that Bobby had eaten quantities of grass.

Dr. Claude W. Minger said Sunday night's showers probably saved the baby from dying of thirst.

grand vice president and assistant grand vice president, respectively, were special guests during the meeting and inspected the work of the various divisions.

At the opening sessions of the convention yesterday afternoon, which followed the luncheon for delegates at the Scajawaia Inn, the meeting was called to order by Chairman Morgan.

Rev. B. Marcus Godwin pronounced the invocation and the address of welcome was given by Ernest H. Ringo, city attorney, in the absence of Victor Melville, president of the city commission. A vocal solo by Mrs. W. H. Parkinson was followed by the address of welcome on behalf of the local divisions by C. M. Humphreys. A violin number by Leo Cullen Bryant was generously applauded.

A. O. Smith, of Cleveland, assistant grand chief of the B. of L. E., gave the response to the welcome for his organization and Mrs. Elizabeth Hemenway, of Philadelphia, grand-vice president of the G. I. A., responded for the woman's auxiliary. Mrs. Parkinson then appeared in another vocal number after which a special presentation ceremony took place on behalf of the local members. Because of the fact that there was no Canadian flag available belonging to the G. I. A. and because this is an international organization, the local of the White House and of the federal labor disputes board.

It was understood from a reliable but unofficial source that streetcar operators who balloted yesterday on whether to walk off their jobs in sympathy with striking longshoremen, had voted about evenly on the proposal. It requires a two-thirds vote, however, to call the men out on strike.

There was no indication when Senator Wagner of the labor committee which met with him might make a statement. Last night when the senator agreed to walk off their jobs in sympathy with a strike, the labor leaders get themselves "in a good frame of mind."

The statement yesterday by E. E. Pettengill, president of the Central Labor council, that a general strike in Portland was "a very remote possibility," was regarded as exceedingly cheering news by those who would be the victims. It was indicated, however, there was some pointed criticism at labor headquarters today of Pettengill's statement.

Meanwhile the city was quiet. The gasoline situation remained virtually unchanged, with the shortage hourly becoming more acute.

A bit of isolated violence flared here last night when 15 or 20 men who police said identified themselves as seamen beat six men who recently worked on the steamer Illinois. Four of the men were severely beaten while two fled.

Nothing Radical About B. of L. E. Says Leader

Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, speaking today before the La Grande Rotary club.

The speaker, whose remarks dealt with an explanation of the organization which he represents, said there had been no strike of consequence among the locomotive engineers since the year 1888. "Every effort of our organization is directed toward settlement of disputes in a peaceful manner and without strikes," he added.

"We have at times been subject to no small criticism in our efforts to secure right and just treatment and recognition of our membership as employees, but we do not consider that such criticism has had the clear, conscientious thinking of those who ply the music. There are seats for over 8000 and everyone is invited.

Important Notice to La Grander
La Grande citizens are urgently asked to not clutter up parking space with their cars nearer than 2 blocks in any direction from the Stadium. Where aged or infirm occupants cannot walk the last two blocks, the car driver should park well away from the grounds to make room for visitors. This is especially needed assistance on Saturday afternoon.

Railroad pensioners and their wives will be provided seats in the reviewing stand at the post office.

All Friday parade participants are reminded to start South on Fourth from Adams before 9 o'clock. They will be assigned to their respective formation streets as they go. Any other method of getting into the parade will be confusing.

The loud speaker arrived this afternoon and will be installed for the rehearsals this evening.
