Students of Old Blue Mountain University Have Reunion Here Thursday at Riverside Park

Among the many unique gatherings which the present celebration has afforded, bringing together as it has old friends from north, east, south and west, perhaps the most outstanding was the reunion of the former students at the old Blue Mt. academy, Eastern Oregon's first school of higher learning, established here under the auspices of the Methodist Church long before there was any railroad. The old building stood on the site of the present Central school. While J. H. Ackerman, for whom the training school at the Eastern Oregon Normal school has been named, was one of its prominent heads, there is still one of the principals, J. L. Garter, living at the age of 91 years.

The reunion was held Thursday afternoon after the pioneer meeting at Riverside park had adjourned. There were 25 former students present. J. E. Reynolds acted as chairman and those present were called upon to speak. Many did and the hour or two was considered most enjoyable. Those present: George H. Curry, Edith Huntington Curry, Ed L. Eckley, Hattie Proebstel, Eckley, Ella Thal Rynearson, Kate Rynearson Hanley, Susan McAlester Wil-lamson, Winnie Wilkinson Williamson, Alma Brown Conley, Mary Thal Condit, J. E. Reynolds, Hazel Ellisworth McDonald, Frank Conley, Anna Wells Baker, Laura Caviness Conkey, Kitty Goodall Turner, Belle Halley McAlester, Arthur Busick, Franz Proebstel, Martha Jane Wallinger Moss, Carrie Brown Garity, Ella Weathers Russell, Eva Ladd Andrews, Pamela Stotts Young and Miss Olive Slater.

"Slater Girls" Honored at Tea

Mrs. Clarence A. Kopp entertained quite informally at a tea Friday afternoon in honor of the "Slater Girls" who are having several days together here. Besides the members of the family—Miss Olive Slater and Mrs. Bertha Slater Smith of Portland, Mrs. Nellie Slater Neill, Mrs. Ida Slater Cherry and Mrs. James D. Slater, Mrs. A. A. Milne, a close friend of the family was also a guest. The afternoon was devoted to the most interesting of reminiscences. The Slater girls were nearly all teachers in the very early days and their fund of experiences is as complete as it is amusing.

FIREWORKS END PROGRAM HERE FRIDAY

The national drum contest of 1933, and Enterprise is the smallest city in the nation to sport a legion drum corps, and every one lived up to advance reputation. No prizes were awarded here, the show being merely a demonstration.

Particularly did the crowd enjoy Casey French, cocky little drum major of the Enterprise corps, who did his stuff in the most approved style. Every one of the four corps, working in almost faultless manner, drew rounds and rounds of vigorous applause.

Tribute to Col. Huron

Just before the La Grande corps took the field, after the three others had performed, a silent tribute was paid to Colonel Ralph R. Huron, former La Grande postmaster and general manager of the celebration here until his death several weeks ago. The closing feature of the demonstration was a massed assembly on the stadium field, a beautiful sight with the brilliant garb of the legionnaires shrouding up to best advantage under the floodlights.

Then the Ogden U. P. Old Timers band played two numbers, Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" and "Custer's Last Stand," a descriptive selection that brought spontaneous and long applause from the audience. With all the effects, from gunfire to distant bugle calls, the descriptive selection made a decided hit with those present and earned additional high praise for the splendid band from Utah.

Fireworks Striking

The closing portion of the program was an elaborate and spectacular display of Hill Co. fireworks, featuring four special pieces—one an Indian on horseback with a drag, the primitive method of transportation, one an old covered wagon, the third the modern streamline train, and the fourth and final one, a soldier sounding taps with a bugle call from the background complet-

T. STANCHFIELD'S UNIT PLAYS HERE

One of the leading evening attractions here during the celebration is the nightly dance at the La Grande hotel with the Tony Stanchfield Unit from Hilarie's Little club in Portland. This orchestra ranks as one of the most popular in the west, not only because of its musical attainments, but also because of its floor show and versatile entertainment.

The orchestra was completed today with the arrival of Gil Dagenais, NDC star, who has just completed a six-month engagement with the Jack Bain band at the Club Victor in Portland, and where his tenor voice was featured over national radio broadcasts. George Phillippe, featured with Jim Taft's band, and Myron Slepner, who introduced the song "What's Good for the Goose is Good for the Gander," also are with the unit.

The Stanchfield unit is en route to Chicago where it will play at the Granada cafe and the Oregon exhibit at the world fair this summer.

SCHEDULE OF KITTEN BALL GAMES GIVEN

The schedule of games for the twelfth league kittenball games for Monday will be as follows:
At Greenwood grounds the Normal team will play the Union Pacific and the Greenwood Juniors will play the firemen. At the high school stadium the Sacajawea Barbers playing the high school Juniors and the Lions scheduled to play the Elks team. Due to lack of space today, the remainder of next week's schedule will be published Monday evening. Games will be played on Wednesday and Friday as usual.

ing the picture. In between the press roman candles, sky rockets, pinwheels and other fireworks were set off, giving the crowd an outstanding show.

Then, as the illuminated soldier and his bugle faded out, the rain came down and the crowd scurried for home and shelter. Somewhat chilly weather resulted in many appearing in their topcoats, a sight unusual in La Grande in July. The maximum temperature here yesterday was 70 above, just 21 degrees cooler than on Thursday, when the mercury reached 91 above.

During the afternoon yesterday entertainment was afforded at the daylight Marl Gras downtown, many flocked to the carnival and rodeo, and saw the baseball game at the stadium commencing at 4 o'clock, and attended other features.

Portlanders Enjoy Day
A group of 30 Portlanders who spent Friday here returned to their homes last night, delighted with the program and La Grande's hospitality.

Union had its day yesterday, with the neighboring town closing its business houses for the day and attending the show almost en masse.
Dances in the evening were very well attended last night.

Former Residents Here—
Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gibson, former residents of La Grande, are here for the U. P. celebration from their home in Pendleton.

ROBIN REED

Robin Reed, of Reedsport, Ore., amateur champion of the world, for many years before turning pro, and said to be one of the best men at his weight in the world today, will wrestle in the double main event card here tonight beginning at 8 p. m. at the stadium. He meets Mickey Maguire, of Salem.

six-round boxing matches will be held, with Harry Eagles, of Pendleton, fighting Gerald Butcher, of La Grande; and Winnie Myers, of Union, meeting Ralph Depeu, of Pendleton. All are good scrapppers, and an unusually large crowd is expected. Sports fans declare no finer card has ever been offered in the northwest, than the double main event, and are certain that it will be one of the outstanding matches of the year. Portland was attempting to get the Reed-McGuire match, but it was offered La Grande during the celebration.

CELEBRATION CLOSURES WITH NIGHT EVENTS

As the Observer went to press early this afternoon, an historical pageant with 750 persons participating, was scheduled to begin at the La Grande stadium, early morning weather reports indicating the unsettled weather would end shortly. Following the pageant, a wrestling-boxing card was to be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the L. D. S. Recreational hall, the matches being taken indoors because of the chiller weather and clouds today.

Dancing in the evening at several places over the city was to bring the three days to a close.

From Baker—
Jesse Smurthwaite, of Baker, is visiting friends here during the celebration this week.

RETURN FROM TRIP TO EAST

Miss Effie Snider and Miss Blanche Spears, both teachers in the city schools, returned to La Grande Friday morning after an absence of exactly a month during which time they were on a trip through the midwest and the east. From here they went to Chicago for a week at the Century of Progress, which they found fascinating, but their next stop—at Washington, D. C.— was the highlight of the entire trip. While it was exceedingly hot, still the places of public and historic interest and the National Educational association then in session, made one entirely forget the heat, they insist.

While attending one of the educational meetings they met Miss Alta Lullie of the La Grande High school faculty, and the three had a couple of days together. After leaving Washington, there were three days in New York, a trip by boat to Fall River, Mass., and then on to Boston, back to Buffalo, N. Y., and Niagara Falls. From Erie, Pa., they went by boat across Lake Erie to Detroit, Mich., then back through Chicago and to Minneapolis and here at the Twin Cities they encountered their first rain, which was gratefully received. Going north, they entered Canada and returned by the Canadian Pacific to Spokane and on home. It was a delightful experience throughout, they state. Miss Spears is going on from La Grande to Portland where she will be for the remainder of the summer.

PILOTS PLANE TO JUBILEE

Franz Proebstel, whose present home is in Montana, flew to La Grande the first of the week and has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Ed Eckley, while attending the jubilee.

ICE CREAM POWDER

When in the market for ice cream powder ask your grocer for Lena Bell brand. Accept no substitute as there is none "just as good." Purely vegetable. A pure food product. Each 10c package contains enough powder for use with cream, milk and flavoring to make one gallon of ice cream. Directions on package. Put up only by Lena Bell Ward, Rt. 1, La Grande, Ore.

DEMOCRATS HOLD BANQUET FRIDAY

The banquet held last night at the Sacajawea Inn sponsored by the Martin-for-Governor club was attended by about 50 representatives of the Democratic party from this and three adjoining counties. General Martin was the guest speaker of the evening and during the course of his talk he told of the workings of the administrative program and its progress, emphasizing the three points of the recovery program. Victor Eckley was local chairman in charge of arrangements for the banquet.

tion at Linnton for upstate emergency pools in farm areas. Eastern Oregon and Washington will get their share. Industrial plants outside the city will be supplied.

No Violence Reported
There was no violence yesterday and none during the early morning hours today. Over the harbor activity under guard of regular police and sheriff's deputies was the warning that should any disorders arise, nearby national guardsmen would sweep into the city to crush disturbance. Labor leaders still talked of a general strike, and the strike "strategy" committee was in continuous session.

Labor leaders expressed hope for speedy settlement of the marine workers' strike, but laid plans for a possible general strike Monday.

The strike would be revolt against "industrial autocracy," not "insurrection against government," declared Ben T. Osborne, executive secretary of the Oregon Federation of Labor. Three representatives from each Portland union will meet Sunday morning. The strike strategy committee promised 24 hours' notice if a strike is called.

Osborne said the strike would be one of passive resistance, but effective. Labor would stand with its arms folded, he said.

ARLEN GRAY DIES DURING MORNING

Larry Arlen Gray, two-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gray, died this morning at the Grande Ronde hospital. The baby was born Thursday. Funeral services will be held at the grave at the Catholic cemetery at 10 a. m. Monday with Snodgrass and Zimmerman in charge of arrangements.

call for troops had an "ulterior motive" engineered by employers "to create a feeling in the minds of the men to obstruct clear thinking when the time comes to take a referendum vote on any issues submitted which, of course, will be in the next several days."

LOS ANGELES, July 21 (AP)—General Hugh S. Johnson as he strode out of the hotel at 10 o'clock today to motor to grand central airport and fly back to San Francisco expressed belief that the longshoremen's strike might be settled by the time he reached the northern city, at which he was due a little after noon.

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—A firm stand against general strikes was maintained today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Calling the San Francisco general strike a "grave mistake," and asserting labor leaders "acted wisely" in calling it off, President Green said: "No sympathetic strike of any consequence or possessed of any national significance was ever won."
