Former Residents Now Visiting Friends Here Are Special Guests At An Afternoon Reception

There were about 60 friends assembled in the small ballroom of the Sacajawea Inn yesterday for a reception being tendered by pioneers and sons and daughters of pioneers who are visiting in the city now, as well as those local people eligible to membership in the Frances Brown auxiliary to the sons and daughters of pioneers association. Members of this organization were the hostesses and they provided a very pleasant afternoon for out-of-town guests and local people as well. A rather impromptu program was offered with several being called on for short talks.

Mrs. Naomi Williamson McNeill, of Rochester, N. Y., gave quite an extensive talk on her trip out west and also on historic events of this locality. Mrs. Harriett MacDonald and George Curry outlined the purpose of the hostess organization.

Guests present from a distance were: Mae Stevens, Eva Ladd Andrews, Sadie Given, Mrs. George Holmes and Anna Wells Baker, all of Portland, Louisa Burwell, Viola Parker, Lulu Akeley, Union, Mrs. Grace Powers of Medical Springs, Mrs. Bruce Dennis, and Mrs. Laura Childs, of Oakland, Cal., Maude Richards, Ogden, Utah, Kittie Goodall Turner, Tacoma, Wash., Harriett Young Freeman, Wewoka, Okla., Sadie Young Engdahl, Pendleton, N. C., Naomi Williamson McNeill, Rochester, N. Y.

Visitor And Bride-Elect Are Honored

Mrs. C. J. Kinzell, of Merrill, Wis., and Miss Jane Stange, a bride-elect, were complimented jointly Tuesday, Mrs. L. K. Kinzell entertaining at her home, 1808 Fourth street. For the luncheon at 1:30, there were 12 guests and these, later, formed three tables for bridge. Some nice scores were made. Mrs. A. J. Stange receiving the prize for having the highest and Miss Gilda Ashby second high. Both Mrs. Kinzell and Miss Stange received guest prizes.

Hot Days Made For Picnics?

The waters of the Cove pool were enticing to several groups of La Grande people Tuesday evening. Among them was a picnic for some visitors from out of the city, the party in all being — Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mackey and son, Marvin and Mrs. Mackey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buzzard, of Albany, Ben and Arlo Noyes and Mrs. Laura Childs, of Berkeley, Cal., Norma Hanks, Mr. and Mrs. William Shade and son, Mr. and

Sorosis Club Tempted Too

The Sorosis club members had a delightful outing Tuesday when they spent several hours picnicking on the greens of the Ascension Grove at Cove, where one of the club members, Mrs. Clarence A. Kopp, is spending the summer. After a sumptuous spread, bridge was the principal diversion of the afternoon, Mrs. George Hill making high score and Mrs. Charles Bingham, second. Miss Robinson, of Pendleton, was a guest during the afternoon.

Epling Lawn Always Popular

Mrs. P. A. Elliott, of Salem, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. T. Hill, for the past month was honored at a luncheon given Monday noon at the Epling country home near La Grande with Mrs. Epling, Mrs. Robert Eskin, Mrs. L. B. Moe and Mrs. William Miller entertaining jointly. Luncheon was served under the trees at 1 o'clock. The afternoon was spent informally.

W. B. A. Enticed By Out-of-Doors

Members of the W. B. A. will join the host of picnickers and have an out-of-door affair Friday evening at Pine Cone, so it was arranged at their meeting held Tuesday evening. The picnic supper is to be potluck, with the lodge furnishing the coffee and cream and with each member to bring her own china and silver. Supper will be served around 7:00 o'clock and those who have no means of transportation will meet at the Reynolds apartments across from the post office on Fourth street by 6:30.

Baker Camp Are Guests

The Royal Neighbors Juveniles had as their guests Monday the Juvenile camp at Baker and district deputy, Mabel Ragsdale, also of that city. The entire group spent the day picnicking at Riverside park until about 4:00 o'clock when they adjourned to the I. O. O. F. hall and held their lodge meeting. Baker camp took the chairs and initiated 17 new members for La Grande. With these 17 new members there have been added Leola May Suydam, Barbara and Eugene Alford, Ballard Brooks, Jimmie Saling, District Deputy Mrs. Ragsdale complimented the La Grande camp very highly on the splendid work done since re-organizing. After lodge, a short program was given with solos by Jimmie Saling, Marion Trill and Barbara Alford and two tap dances by Lois Holman and Dorothy Cole. Refreshments were served by Director Martha Hansen. On departing the Baker camp gave La Grande camp a rousing yell and expressed the hope that La Grande might visit them soon.

heads was held as prisoners in the federal chancellery on the Ballhausplatz.

The regular army and the Heimwehr were reported today to have opened a heavy fire upon the radio station ten miles outside the city but there was no immediate confirmation of the actual activities there.

GRAZ, Austria, July 25 (AP)—The gendarmerie post at Stainz was reported attacked by Nazis today. Its commander killed and another wounded.

BERLIN, July 25 (AP)—The Austro-German frontier was reported closed tonight.

VIENNA, July 25 (AP)—(By telephone to Berlin) at 8:15 p. m. Chancellor Dollfus, Emil Fey and several other government officials were still locked up and guarded at the chancellery.

(Reports that Dollfus was dead continued to persist, however.) The cabinet council held an extraordinary session in the offices of the defense ministry. The meeting was attended by Burgomaster Richard Schmidt, the police president, Edu-gene Seydel, and the Austrian minister to Rome, Dr. Anton Hintelet. In a public message it was stated the revolutionists who had occupied the radio station had been overpowered. All persons were warned that martial law is still in force, and that any action against the lawful government of the country would be dealt with as high treason.

A police detective who is serving a go-between between the revolutionists and officials in the government building said Dollfus was injured and lying on a sofa in the so-called yellow room.

"These cries of 'Buy British,' 'Buy French' and 'Buy American' may serve some purpose for the present but they are killing international trade upon which the well being of all the countries of the world thrives," said Pierce. "The triangle of trade that used to take the great wheat crops of this section of the country into the profitable markets of Europe is not working today. We must open up these markets again — must buy and sell among one another to bring back prosperity around the world."

The speaker reiterated his remarks of previous speaking occasions when he said "this is a day when a new world is being born and we must adjust ourselves to it socially, politically and economically." "The old age of machinery that gave money to a few but filled our streets with unemployment is gone," he added. "The government, in this new day, must continue to finance much of our existing business."

Mr. Pierce paid compliment to the recent celebration and its handlers in the remark that he was "surprised at the magnificence and harmony with which it was put on."

SEEMS HIGH TEN COACHES MOVE ABOUT A GOOD DEAL

IOWA CITY, Ia. (AP)—Although Ossie Solem is just beginning his third year as coach of the University of Iowa's football team, only four other Big Ten grid mentors outrank him in seniority.

They are Robert Zuppke, Illinois, who will soon undertake his 22nd campaign; Dick Hanley, who has been at Northwestern eight years, and Harry Kipke, Michigan coach for six years.

Solem came to Iowa in 1932, the same year that Clarence Spears began his duties at Wisconsin and Bernie Bierman went to Minnesota.

French air rules recently were made more strict because of accident fear on the part of the air ministry.

ACQUIT HICKMAN OF CHARGES OF STRANGLING GIRL

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25 (AP)—The question of "who killed Louise Jeppesen?" remained unanswered today with Millard Hickman, 45-year-old marine engineer, freed of the charge he ravished and strangled the pretty Ogden, Utah, girl in Golden Gate park last May.

A superior court jury required only one hour and 49 minutes deliberation and but a single ballot last night to find Hickman innocent of the brutal slaying.

The state had demanded the death penalty.

Prosecutor Peter J. Mullins termed the verdict "a miscarriage of justice," while Mrs. Ruth Dunkley, sister of the murdered girl, said simply that "we will never change our opinion about Hickman."

"We have felt," Mrs. Dunkley said, "that he robbed us of our sister and broke our mother's heart. No member of our family can ever be the same again."

The state, in its efforts to send Hickman to the gallows, had built up a purely circumstantial case, charging that after a gay party he had attacked the Jeppesen girl in his apartment and then had driven her to Golden Gate park and killed her because of fear she might accuse him.

Corporations' Bonded Debt

NEW YORK (AP)—The total bonded debt of 321 large industrial corporations reached a peak of $2,774,000,000 in 1928, it is reported by Moody's Investors Service. "From then it has declined consistently to $2,156,000,000 in 1933, a drop of 22.3 per cent. The decline since 1928 has been 14.9 per cent."
